Flash Fire in Rural Slums

Mexican-Americans Burned Out of Hay Shed 'Home'

A FLASH FIRE DESTROYED a wooden shed on an Elk Grove township farm which served as a hay barn and as the home for two Mexican-American families. Firemen from three area departments could not prevent destruction of the building but saved other nearby buildings.

(On the eve of Fire Prevention week in the northwest suburbs, a flash fire in one of the rural slums near Mount Prospect made two Mexican-American families homeless.

The fire, which could have had tragic results, focuses attention on the hazardous living conditions of the Mexican-Americans, as brought out in the recent series, "Shame of the Suburbs.")

Two Mexican-American families lost virtually all their possessions Sunday when the hay shed in which they lived was destroyed by fire.

The families, containing a total of 13 persons, lived in one end of a wooden shed on the Raymond Busse farm at the southwest corner of Busse and Golf rds., southwest of Mount Prospect.

ONE OF THE families, that of Juan Sauceda, is migratory, coming north each year from San Benito, Texas, and returning there in November.

The other family, that of Jesse Camarillo, had lived in the shed for six years. All members of the latter family, the only family at home at the time, escaped unhurt.

Camarillo said he noticed smoke pouring out of the west end of the shed about 4 p.m. Hay was stored there and firemen think the fire may have been caused by spontaneous combustion. Camarillo and a friend grabed a hose, but it did not provide enough water for them to do anything but wet down adjoining buildings, they said.

When firemen arrived about 20 minutes after the discovery of the fire, flames had engulfed the building and it could not be saved. The only items rescued by the Camarillo family were a refrigerator, stove and washing machine, all partially damaged by the flames.

FIRE DEPARTMENTS from Mount Prospect, Arlington Hts. and Des Plaines answered the call.

Three of the four Sauceda children and four of the five Camarillo children attend Forest View school at the corner of Algonquin and State rds.

The children were unable to attend school Monday or Tuesday because they lacked clothing. Tuesday, clothing and household articles were being collected by the Mothers' club of Forest View school and members of the Christian Family movement, a Catholic couples' group in Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights.

THE PROBLEM of housing is acute for the Camarillo family. Sunday night they moved in with another family of three who live in a three-room "house" a few feet away. The Sauceda family moved to quarters on the Howard Busse farm, one-quarter mile south on Busse rd.

The Sauceda family expects to return to Texas soon, but the Camarillos want to stay here and find permanent housing. Camarillo, who is employed by Milburn Brothers contractors of Mount Prospect, said the three-room place is too small for the 10 people now crammed into it and he is looking for an older farmhouse to rent.

Vacancy Filled By Board

The Arlington Heights village board Tuesday reached across Lake Michigan to Cadillac, Mich., to select a new village manager.

Appointed to the top administrative post in village hall is Leonard A. Hanson, 40, city manager of Cadillac for the past four years.

CADILLAC IS A city of nearly 13,000 population in the northwest corner of Michigans lower peninsula and has a diversified economy. Hanson has lived there since 1946, spending more than eight years as director of vocational adult education for the board of education.

Prior to moving there Hanson served 33 months in the naval air technical training command.

Even before becoming city manager, Hanson took part in many civic activities. Among the offices he has held are president of the Rotary club and member of its board of directors, member of the board of directors of the Cadillac chamber of commerce and officer, board member and head of fund-raising for the Wexford county Cancer society.

IN 1950 HE WAS elected to the city's charter revision committee and in 1953 named one of the first members of the city planning board. He also organized and was general chairman of the first area-wide hobby show and served on a hospital board of directors.

L. A. HANSON

One of the jobs facing Hanson in Arlington Heights will be a familiar one — remodeling of the village hall. He listed this as one of his acomplishments in the Michigan community. Among the other improvements he sparked were a new municipal accounting system, a city-wide recreation program and enlarged parks, new off-street parking lots and construction of a new public works building.

Hanson also secured a new industry for Cadillac, put up a new city dock, rebuilt 12 miles of city streets and supervision additions to the facilities of the town library, airport and water system.

THE NEW manager majored in industrial education and management at Bradley university, graduating in 1942 and received a master's degree in public administration from the University of Michigan in 1951. He is married and the father of three children.

Hanson replaces the village's first manager, F. Robert Buechner, who resigned May 6. For the past four months J. Ward Wright, finance director, has been acting village manager. Wright was also a candidate for the managerial position.

Visiting Teacher Finds Sweden, America Similar

The elementary school systems of Sweden and America have many more similiarities than differences, according to a young Swedish teacher who visited Arlington Heights last week.

AFTER VISITS to Prospect high school and Dryden elementary school, she ventured the opinion that basic subject matter is pretty much the same in classrooms of both nations.

Several differences which came to the mind of Swedish schoolmarm Karen Lindgren were:

—In her homeland the teacher is "promoted" from first to second, and in some systems to third, grade right along with her pupils. Staying with the youngsters allows the teacher to learn personal abilities to a greater degree and works out well "unless you have a bad class," she smiled.

—Children in Sweden must take an examination before they enter school to determine if they are ready for the work. Thus some enter at the age of six but most not until they are seven.

—Pupils are introduced to school at a gradually increasing tempo, with first graders attending only 20 hours a week, second graders going 24 hours and third graders for 30 hours weekly, she said. This contrasts with the 25 hours spent inside Dryden by all pupils, noted her host, Miss Weireter.

—Homework starts in the spring term of the first grade and a foreign language (English) is first taught at the fifth grade level.

MISS LINDGREN, a tall, sandy-haired resident of Upsala, a good-sized city 40 miles from Stockholm, was in Arlington Heights visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zillen, 438 Banbury. From here she will hop by plane to Panama City, Fla., and thence to the West Coast and fly back to Sweden early in January.

Her final observation may be comforting news to Scarsdale parents of kindergarten children:

"I was quite surprised," she commented, "at how well-behaved the children are in class . . . so quiet."

The Editor's Column

By STUART R. PADDOCK

MONTREAL — If the food chains in the U. S. conceived their idea from the banking chains in Canada, they still have a long way to go.

Branch banks here are to be found anywhere and everywhere. One parent bank in this city has 67 branches.

When we went down to the basement barber shop in this 85-year-old hotel, The Windsor, we found an entrance to one of the branches.

The only excuse we can think of for banks in basements is their convenience as a depository for the tips being collected by the hotel personnel.

The banks go all out in public relations as is evidenced by the following notice posted in a bank's window:

"How many languages can you speak? We can speak: Estonian, Czecho-Slovakian, Hungarian, Russian, German, Polish, Greek, and of course, French and English."

Canadian banks believe in service, especially to women. One bank branch can be entered from a beauty salon.

We know that the American dollar will not buy much at home, but here it will buy only 97 cents or less due to the exchange rate. Yesterday it was 3½ per cent. Today it has gone down to three per cent.

And that is not all. There is a sales tax in Montreal of six per cent. With nine cents off from the American dollar, we can understand why there are so few bargains to be found by American tourists.

Montreal claims to be the largest French-speaking city in the world with the exception of Paris. In Ottawa, English was given the precedence over French on signs. In Montreal, it is the other way around.

However, we were told yesterday that as more and more white collar American executives enter the industries here, more and more French people seeking jobs discover that the English language is to their advantage.

Until yesterday we thought that here was one trip in which we would not meet anybody from back home.

We did just that when the International Paper company was our luncheon host. The check was picked up by Mr. Neeley who until five years ago, resided in Stonegate, Arlington Heights.

He asked to be remembered to all former friends. He termed the present day story of 1958 Arlington Heights could only be a fairy tale.

The average snow fall in Montreal is 120 inches a year, which requires a lot of snow shoveling and many smashed fenders as the cars slide backwards down the hills.

We will never consider State and Madison street as the world's busiest corner. There are a lot of such corners in Montreal.

This city is solving its railroad location problem in the center of the business district by the use of electrical power and erecting hotels and business blocks over them.

There is no space for housing developments because land values are necessarily sold by the square foot. A small lot in a desirable residential district costs $25,000.

There is a lot more we could say. It is an old, old city, but has ultra modern sales shops, such as the Birks Jewelers, etc. Some of its churches date back 200 or more years.

This column closes as we start on our way to Quebec.

Home Building Boom Spurs Fresh School Needs Study

More classrooms will be needed in the Arlington Heights school system a year sooner than originally anticipated, according to a report now being studied by the board of education.

Continued home building activity in the district prompted school Supt. R. E. Clabaugh to take another look at the district's enrollment projection through June of 1960.

BASED ON THE latest projection, Clabaugh says the district will need 24 additional classrooms by next September instead of in 1960, as his November 1957 projection indicated.

The superintendent recommends:

— A 12-classroom addition to both Windsor and Westgate schools plus a multi-purpose room in each.

— A multi-purpose room at Park school.

The proposed additions would make Windsor a 19-classroom school and give Westgate 18 classrooms, he noted.

There were 3,451 pupils enrolled last June which will increase, according to Clabaugh to 3,834 by next June. By September of this year enrollment had increased by more than 200 to 3,664. Total enrollment in June of 1960 is forecasted at 4,219.

CLABAUGH'S projection is based on the premise that growth in the period from June of 1959 to June of 1960 is similar to the preceding 12 month period.

The superintendent estimates the cost of additional classrooms at Windsor and Westgate as well as the multi-purpose rooms at those sechools and at Park at $625,000. He notes that the district now has that much bonding power and that "we shall probably have about an additional $600,000 (bonding power) by next spring."

Clabaugh recommended thatswerved to the left in an attempt the board consider presenting a bond issue to the voters in November. Upon approval construction could get under way early January and work completed in time for the September school opening. He noted:

"Actually there seems to be little difference between voting this fall or next spring on a bond issue, except that we can promise adequate facilities for next year if we act now, assuming that we can complete the construction in 8 months or so."

THE LARGEST enrollment increases to June of 1960 are expected at Windsor-Miner, Westgate and at Miner, according to the report.

Clabaugh reported to the board that double sessions in the five grades and triple kindergarten sessions would be necessary at Windsor next year if additional classrooms are not constructed. Similar situations would exist at Westgate and at Park schools, he added.

The board is expected to consider Clabaugh's report at its Oct. 7 meeting and perhaps reach a decision on the recommended building program the following week.

Bicycle Rider, 3, Struck by Auto

A three-year-old bicycle rider ventured out onto State rd. early Monday evening and was struck and slightly injured by a motorist who didnt see the boy in time.

The boy, Paul Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Williams, 705 S. McKinley, apparently wandered away from home about 6 p.m. He went into a drug store at 415 S. State rd., a mile from his home, a few minutes after 7 p.m. and at 7:10 p.m. the store owner, Amelia Sharkey, summoned police.

By the time police arrived the boy had left the store. As police questioned Miss Sharkey, they heard a screech of brakes and rushed out to find the boy had been hit by a car in front of Faith Lutheran church, two doors to the south.

THE MOTORIST, Albert T. Marshall, 40, of 705 W. Milburn, Mount Prospect, said he had been driving north in the outer lane of State rd. when the boy's sidewalk bicycle suddenly came toward his car. Marshall told officers he braked the auto and to avoid hitting the boy.

The boy's bicycle was undamaged and the boy received a cut on the upper lip and several teeth were chipped when he was thrown to the ground. The bicycle had no lights, and it was almost dark when the accident occurred.

Women Frighten Away 3 Burglars

Burglars must scare easily, a pair of Arlington Heights women may have told themselves this week.

One of the women surprised two men in the act of breaking into her home; the other woman walked into her home as a stranger browsed in the living. The men fled in both cases before the women could get a clear description of them.

Louis Bornkamp, 211 S. Evergreen ave., told patrolmen his sister was sleeping upstairs about 10 p.m. Thursday when she heard a noise below her bedroom window. She opened a window and saw a young man climbing through a first floor rear window. Another man stood nearby. The pair fled through an adjoining yard as they heard her window open.

THE EXPERIENCE of Mrs. Dorothy Wells, 815 N. Kaspar ave., was similar. She walked in the back door about 9 p.m. Saturday and heard a rustle from the front end of the house. She barely caught a glimpse of a male fleeing out the front door.

A gray plastic bean blower was dropped on the Wells living room floor and police suspect the would-be burglar may have been a youth. As there was no sign of forcible entry, the youth may have come in through a door left slightly ajar.

Reports of petty thievery on the police docket were a set of four disk hubcaps taken from an auto parked in the Vail-Dunton lot Thursday night and a mailbox valued at $14 removed from a post at 500 Mayfair Saturday night.

Two juveniles were caught in the act of shoplifting fountain pens and pencils from two stores in Arlington Market shopping center Thursday. They said they had intended to sell them at Miner junior high school. Restitution was made and the boys put on three months probation.

Nassau Cruise Is Birthday 'Prize'

A carefree, week-long cruise to Nassau in the tropical Bahama for some lucky northwest couple is the grand prize to be given out Saturday by the Elms shopping Center merchants are awarding the trip as their way of celebrating the third birthday of the Northwest hwy. shopping plaza. The winner will be picked at 3:30 p.m. and the cruise starts November 8.

Salvation Army Tags Saturday

SIDELIGHTS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

September ended as September began—busy. The week was busy with parties for all occasions and busy with visits of friends and relatives. Busy. And as the first days of October appear on the social calendar and plans for the month are revealed it seems that September has set the pace.

Celebrations were plentiful in the past week as the birthday book for September flipped shut. Jonathan Bone was three years old Monday and hosted a group of neighboring friends for the occasion. His guest list included Charles, Ronald, John and Lynn Jacoby, Robert and Donald Schoeninger, Charles and Vicky Slater and Bobby Sonntag. Party headquarters were located at the home of the host's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bone, 550 N. Walnut.

THE FRANK DICANIO family, 730 N. Chestnut, had two birthdays to celebrate over the weekend, one Saturday for Mrs. Dicanio's mother, Mrs. Jennie Boyington, and one Sunday because John was 13. Mrs. Boyington who makes her home with her daughter and family was guest of honor at a family dinner here that included her sister, Miss Sadie Whitlock of Oak Park, and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitlock of Chicago.

Sunday the Dicanios and Mrs. Boyington were among the family members at a dinner for 20 in John's honor at the Oak Park home of his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dicanio.

THE CURRENT opinion of two of the Edwin Johnson children, "anybody who IS anybody was born in September," was loudly expressed Saturday afternoon by Laurie and David at a dual-purpose birthday party in their honor. Eight neighborhood friends extended double congratulations to Laurie who was 8 years old Saturday and to David who turned 7 Monday, at an outdoor party at the Johnson home, 1008 W. Miner.

Nancy Heilig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heilig, 730 S. Dunton, was 12 years old Saturday and was honored at a family dinner for 16 local and Chicago relatives at the home of her parents.

Ten neighborhood children helped Katherine Walsh celebrate her fifth birthday Friday afternoon with games and refreshments in the Walsh home, 509 W. Euclid.

SEPTEMBER birthdays are also the rule at the Boos household, 509 W. Euclid, where Bobby celebrated his fourth birthday September 18 with eight friends from the neighborhood. The party served to honor Bobby's baby brother, Craig, who was a year old September 23 and although a trifle young to understand what the excitement was about, much in favor of it all.

Father and son, the senior and junior Bills of the Schumann family, 644 S. Highland, are also addicted to the September birthday habit. Bill Jr. got off on the wrong foot, however, and badly twisted his ankle two days before his 16th birthday September 8. A pizza party with five sympathetic buddies eased the ache somewhat and since a host on crutches does nothing to dim the appeal of pizza it was a happy birthday after all. Although Bill's foot will be in a cast until mid-November he is now able to do without the crutches.

Mr. Schumann observed his birthday Friday and celebrated with Des Plaines friends, the Tom Goleas family, at a festive dinner Sunday in the Schumann home.

DEBBY HAUSER celebrated her ninth birthday a week ago Friday evening with a dinner party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hauser, 404 W. Oakton. Games entertained her guests until dinner was served. Debby's guests were Carole Mears, Donna Krilcic, Karen Oldenburg, Charlotte Kreusch, Cathy Gordon, Patricia Corn, Susan Robertson, Gail Vetter, Lynn Mirs, Alice Weirich, Kathy Nakutny, Cynthia Cox, Nancy Clark, Barbara Rumatz and Bonnie Briscoe.

Janis Meyer, daughter of the Kurt Meyers, 705 N. Vail, was four years old September 7 and warmed up to a big evening celebration with two young neighborhood friends at an afternoon party in her parents' home. Among the family members honoring her at the party that night were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Held and Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer all of Arlington Heights, and her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Goeddeke who moved from Arlington Heights this summer to a farm home in Crystal Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kutchera, 802 S. Vail, recently returned from a 2-week vacation trip that began with taking their daughter, Sheila, to the university of Colorado where she begins her second year. They arrived in Boulder to establish Sheila at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house in time for her participation in the rush week activities, and then went on for a vacation at Yellowstone National Park.

ALSO RETURNING to college for a second year is Stephen Scott, son of the G. Arden Scotts, 202 W. Euclid. Stephen's roommate at Florida Southern university, Rex Flynn of Essex, Iowa, spent several days here with the Scotts, and the boys left for Lakeland together by car a week ago Sunday.

The Charles Rehfelds, 315 N. Pine, and the Carl Behrenses, 525 W. Kirchoff, were among the parents visiting their sons at the Northwest Military and Naval academy at Lake Geneva over the past weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Behrens spent the weekend in Wisconsin visiting with their son, Carl, attending the academy football game and parent-teacher activities.

KAREN DIANE, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Olson Jr., 1307 N. Walnut, was christened Sunday in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church in Chicago, and the occasion was commemorated at a family gathering for 14 at the Olson home. Among the guests were Karen's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cantwell and the senior O. W. Olsons, all of Chicago and her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of Glenview. Karen, born June 4, has two brothers and a sister; Edward, Richard, 8 and Linda, 7.

Daniel Robert, 3-week-old son of the Earl Mustains, 912 N. Dunton, was honored at a dinner for 25 relatives and friends of the family Sunday after his christening in St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights. Among the guests at the Mustain home were the baby's sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Meyer of Arlington Heights, and a cousin, Miss Hildegarde Chaveriat of Chicago, and his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Chaveriat of Chicgo who is spending a few weeks with her daughter and family.

MR. AND MRS. Howard Helm of West Covina, Cal., arrived last Wednesday to spend a few weeks with Mr. Helm's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Hauff and Dorothy, 8 E. Euclid. On their return trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Helm plan to spend some time with Mr. Helm's son, Lewis and family in Amarillo, Tex. where Lewis, with a government agency of wildlife management, has recently been transferred.

Mr. Helm's Arlington Heights visit coincides with that of his cousin, Mrs. Edna Dobberton of Battle Creek, Mich., who is guest of a former Arlington Heights friend, Mrs. Esther Hoyer now of Barrington. Mr. Helm and Mrs. Dobberten were local residents for many years and in addition to enjoying a reunion with one another, both are spending much of their vacation time visiting old friends in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Dobberten tentatively plans to spend several weeks in the area and hopes to meet all her Arlington Heights friends before her return to Michigan.

Mrs. Sophie Cwodzinski of Turtle Lake, Wis. spent last week here with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Paajanen, 515 S. Mitchell ave.

IF THE TANTALIZING aroma of 60 pounds of back ribs sizzling over twin beds of hickory chips escaped the John Boyd backyard at 1057 S. Dunton Saturday none of the neighbors complained. They were all there. Forty-two neighbors and out-of-town visitors and as many children sniffed the air, advised the chefs, ate, danced, sang and had fun at a block party welcoming the W. L. Vinberg family who recently moved into the home at 1047 S. Dunton.

In true neighborly fashion the veteran Dunton streeters made Mr. Vinberg feel right at home and like one of the bunch. They put him to work. It was the team of Vinberg and Mallon who tended the ribs and ignored the advice while former owners of the Vinberg home, the Alva Roeskes, sat back and luxuriated in the guest role.

The Roeske family now of Indianapolis, made the return visit to the old neighborhood especially to attend the party. Other out-of-town guests were the senior Thomas J. Boyles of Brooklyn, N. Y., who are spending two weeks with their son and family, T. J. Boye, Jr., 1042 S. Dunton, and the parents and a cousin of Mrs. Charles Mallon, 1041 S. Dunton, Mr. and Mrs. William Erickson and Kenneth Beilfuss of Sheboygan, Wis., who spent the weekend here just to join in the fun.

IN THE AFTER-DARK hours a huge bonfire was the setting for a children's song fest and around-the-fire story telling. Before the long and successful night was over tentative plans were made for a repeat get-togetter in October. If the plans go through, it will be a Halloween party for children and adults to substitute for the usual tricks or treats activities.

Miss Jan Davis who began her junior year at Carroll college in Waukesha, Wis. September 16 was back home at 408 N. Evergreen briefly the following weekend to serve as bridesmaid at the wedding of a Chi Omega sister, Garlene Reed of Chicago. Miss Davis' schedule left little time to spend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis. She arrived Friday night for rehearsal, served at the four o'clock wedding Saturday at the First Presbyterian church of Evanston and following the reception in church returned immediately to the Carroll campus.

THE FORMER Marge Latta, Mrs. Richard Snyder of Champaign was recently honored at a stork shower given by her sister, Mrs. Edwin Friesendorf of Urbana at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Latta, 805 N. Chestnut. Guests were 20 fellow senior classmates of 1958, many of whom left for college shortly after the shower.

The Lattas received word last week of the birth of a granddaughter, Lynn Rebecca, born September 25 in Champaign. Paternal grandparents are the Robert Snyders of Villa Park.

A back-to-school party has become an annual affair for Lynne Mathews who does not comment on whether its a celebration or commiseration over the return of classes. September 16 was the date of this year's party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathews, 711 N. Dunton. Guests at the after-school hours party were 22 classmates and neighborhood girl friends.

Weekend visitors of the Henry Taylors, 1201 N. Dunton, were Mrs. Taylor's parents, the Edward Whitneys of Bloomington. The Taylors' daughter and family, the Dennis Bialks of Chicago, joined the family for a Sunday get-together.

THE CURTIS Jacobsens left the home at 745 S. Vail Monday for a new home in Barrington and have been "farewelled" at two recent parties of friends and neighbors. Early in the month Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy hosted seven couples at a Sunday outdoor party at 813 S. Vail. A week ago Sunday another lawn party at the George Neumann home, 907 S. Highland, afforded 18 neighbors and friends the chance to wish the Jacobsens well in their new home.

The Jacobsens were Mr. and Mrs. Neumann's first neighbors when the Neumanns moved to Arlington Heights several years ago.

A former "cure" for cancer required the swallowing of roasted insects. Of course, today, we know this remedy was foolish. Though we're still looking for the cause of cancer, medical science has made tremendous strides in its detection and treatment. Ask your physician about them. And remember, whenever you're not feeling up to par, it's good sense to visit your doctor. Then, if medication is necessary, see us for reliable prescription service.

A farewell present, the gift of guests at both parties, was given the Jacobsens at the Murphy home.

Thirty relatives and family friends from Lombard and Arlington Heights congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bolte last Wednesday at an anniversary celebration in the Bolte home, 319 W. Mueller. As noted in the "Way Back When" section of the Arlington Heights Herald last week, it was 20 years ago that the Boltes were married in the St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights, and they have received cards and best wishes from their many local friends to mark the occasion.

Mrs. Joseph A. Wisersky, 229 S. Walnut, ninth district rehabilitation chairman of the American Legion auxiliary, attended the rehabilitation meeting of the department of Illinois held September 20 at the Morrison hotel, Chicago. Mrs. Charles N. Verret of Mt. Prospect is co-chairman with Mrs. Wisersky.

IN ORDER TO attend prenuptial activities and the wedding October 18 of her son, Ronald Gene, to Barbara Jean Lumley of Covina, Cal., Mrs. Robert Hidding, 505 Banbury, left Sunday for the western state. A former resident of La Puerte, Cal., Mrs. Hidding will visit with friends and relatives. Ronald, who met his bride-to-be when both were students at Covina high school, will be married in the Presbyterian church of Azusa.

Johnny Allan, 1523 N. Yale, sang and played the guitar at the western round-up held recently at Our Saviour Lutheran church. He attends Arlington high school.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stewart Richmond, 731 Burton, recently returned from a 2-week vacation which took them through the historic St. Lawrence seaway. The Richmonds had the distinction of being among the passengers on the first American passenger ship to go through the seaway.

Their trip started in Chicago, where they boarded the S. S. North America and sailed up to Mackinac. From Mackinac, they went down Lake Huron, Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, stopping off at Detroit and Cleveland, then on through the St. Lawrence River and the Thousand Islands to Messena, N. Y. They stopped off to visit Toronto, and on through the Eisenhower and Snell locks. The Richmonds enjoyed their leisurely and historic trip very much.

Upon their return home, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond drove to Lake Geneva, Wis., to visit their son, Bruce, a senior at the North Western Military and Naval Academy. They attended the football game, Saturday, North Western Military and Naval Academy playing the Wisconsin School for the Deaf. It was a spirited and exciting game in which Bruce played right tackle.

GERALD BECKMAN, 610 S. Belmont, spent the entire weekend celebrating his birthday. Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Beckman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradle of Arlington Heights, the group attended a dinner party at Simonettis in Algonquin.

A large family dinner was held Sunday in the Beckman home. Among the guests were Mr. Beckman's mother, Mrs. S. Beckman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sley, Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson, and Mrs. H. Thorstenson and her son, Allen.

Mrs. Raymond L. Martindell of St. Paul is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martindell, 515 S. State. She plans to attend the Grandmothers convention at the Morrison hotel.

Stanley Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Norman, 634 S. Dryden, left September 16, for Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa. He is a sophomore in the premedical course.

Tommy McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. McMillan Jr., 346 S. Burton, celebrated his fifth birthday September 25, with a party for 11 friends. The children enjoyed an afternoon of games, after which they had ice cream and birthday cake.

MISS LINDA MANN, 304 E. Fairview, a student at Marquette university, Milwaukee, came back to Arlington Heights September 17, bringing her new roommate, Miss Pat Johnson of Montana, for a 2-day visit with her parents. They spent an enjoyable evening, dining and afterwards attending the play "My Fair Lady".

Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Jurco, 217 Windsor, attended the Galena garden walk in Galena September 27. Seven of the oldest homes in Illinois were open, including the stately home of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and the home of Herman Melville, an uncle of the author of "Moby Dick".

The Galena garden walk is an annual event for the benefit of the First Presbyterian church of Galena.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ashmore of Redwood City, Cal., recently spent five days visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, 211 Stratford.

FORMER NEIGHBORS and friends from Riverside gave a traditional house warming party for Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Pohlenz, 209 Windsor. There were 23 guests, each bringing a specially prepared dish for the dinner. After the festive dinner was over, the Pohlenz' were presented with a gift for their new home.

John Kreinier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kreihier, 222 Derbyshire, celebrated his ninth birthday September 27 with a party for seven boys. Among the guests were Jeffrey Kreinier, Stephan Graham, Billy Burns, Tommy Merges, Michael Reiderer, Alan Schmitt and Tommy Hannigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, 111 S. Dryden, and their two children spent the weekend in South Bend visiting Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Milbourn.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Lockwood, 312 Derbyshire, spent the weekend in Bloomington at Illinois Wesleyan university, attending Parent's day activities. The Lockwoods' daughter, Linda Lou, is a freshman in the school of nursing.

The Lockwoods' elder daughter, Cynthia Ann, began her teaching career this fall as a kindergarten teacher in West school in Glencoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Waterman, 225 Windsor, returned September 28, from a 4-day trip to Iowa. They flew to Ft. Dodge, then Ruthven, and then to Ames to visit their son, who is attending the university.

During their visit to these three cities, the Watermans visited many of their friends, some who were classmates they hadn't seen for many years.

ALTHOUGH SHELLEY Sutton is only three years old, she has already celebrated her birthday twice this month. The first party was held in East Orange, N. J. where Mr. and Mrs. J. Sutton and Shelley were guests of Mr. Sutton's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Mueller. This party was such a success that another was planned on their return home. Back in Arlington Heights, Shelley shared another birthday cake with eight friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldthwaite, 426 E. Park, returned Saturday from a 2-week vacation in Door County, Wis. During their stay they visited in Ephraim and Baileys Harbor. Door county is especially beautiful in the fall, with the colors of the foliage almost at their peak.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Roble, 616 Mayfair, and their sons, Dan and Tim, returned home September 21, after spending 15 months in England. The family lived in Gloucester, where Mr. Roble worked on a special assignment for Bell and Howell. Dan and Tim attended school during their stay.

THE ROBLES enjoyed their stay in England very much. They found the English countryside very beautiful and many historic places to visit. They toured most of England, Wales and Scotland, and also toured the continent. They were in London to witness the ceremony, Trooping of the Colors, in honor of Queen Elizabeth's birthday.

The Robles found the trip a wonderful experience and are now happily settling down in their centrally heated home in Arlington Heights. (A

Village, Oil Firm May Settle Rezoning Dispute

Arlington Heights will file a counter-complaint against Consumers company who filed suit two years ago to keep running a batching and ready-mix concrete plant along the railroad tracks in the village.

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher Wednesday allowed the village 10 days to file the bill and Consumers 20 days to answer. Judge Fisher also set trial for November 24.

Village Attorney Stephen Jurco said the counter-complaint will charge that Arlington Heights has been damaged by reason of Consumers' alleged violation of the zoning ordinance.

UNION CHEMICAL and Material corp., owner of Consumers, filed the suit after the village ordered the $200,000 plant removed as a zoning violation in a commercial district.

The village says a ready-mix plant belongs in an industrial district. The company contends its operation is a legal non-conforming use by virtue of its purchase in 1952 of the batching operation portion of the Arlington Elevator and Coal co. business.

The company wants the court to order the village to issue the firm a license if the municipal code requiring a license for batching is legal.

Consumers leases the 730 foot long strip from Arlington Elevator and Coal co., which leases it from the Chicago and North Western railway.

THE VILLAGE alleges Consumers is manufacturing and selling concrete mix on the site, in violation of the ordinance.

Consumers denies it is engaged in manufacturing and selling ready-mix concrete on the premises, but only batching is carried on at this location. Mixing is carried on in ready-mix trucks enroute to construction sites, according to Attorney Philip Tone. (A

Saturday Is Hilite of VFW Social Season

The rifle squad of Arlington Heights post 981 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is again sponsoring its annual smorgasbord and dance.

The event will be held Saturday, Oct. 4, in the VFW club house, Yale and Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights. Dancing will be to the music of Barney Richards and his orchestra.

Food will be served from 7 to 10 p.m. Marge Heideman, food chairman, promises that a wide variety of food will be available in abundant quantity and will be prepared by the wives of the rifle squad and members of the VFW auxiliary in a manner to please the most discriminating gourmet.

Chairman Harold Nebel states that the affair will be the highlight of the fall social season.

Ridge-Park Group Elects New Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith C. Astley, 830 N. Princeton ave., Arlington Heights, were elected co-presidents of the Ridge-Park Community association last week.

Vice-president for the coming year is Joseph Vrba, 708 N. Kasper, and Mrs. M. D. Boyd, 1407 W. Elm, is secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen reported that 60 persons are participating in the group's two bowling leagues, 26 couples are in its bridge tournament and many neighborhood youngsters in its summer play program. (A

Polls Open Tuesday for Registrations

Fifteen polling places in Arlington Heights and others throughout the northwest area will be open all day Tuesday to give residents their final opportunity to register for the November 4 election.

All precinct polling booths will be open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. to allow suburbanites time to register either before catching the morning train or on the way home.

FOR VOTERS who find it more convenient to register in Chicago, the county clerk's office in the county building will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily through Tuesday, except on Saturday, with hours from 9 a.m. to noon.

Persons are to re-register if they have not voted during the past four years. Requirements for voter registration are one year's residence in the state, 90 days in the county and 30 days in the precinct.

Precinct numbers and polling places are unchanged since the April primary. (AF

County Board Must Awake To Suburban Needs: White

John J. White of Glenview, candidate for suburban Cook county commissioner, asserted that he will "wake up the county board to suburban problems and the urgent and critical necessity for immediate action to meet them." White spoke last Wednesday night at a Maine Township rally in Des Plaines.

Suburban members, White charged, "have dozed while the problems grew worse. Then, each campaign year, they've made a career of blaming the Democrats to excuse their own inaction and to get back on the board.

"THIS SYSTEM has been tried for too long," White said. "It gives the suburban representatives an out for their own inactivity and it doesn't do anything toward solving the county's suburban problems.

"Vigorous and informed suburban representation on the majority side of the county board is a prime need. In too many cases, the suburban representatives have been inexcusably silent or absent when matters of extreme importance were considered. This is particularly true in zoning cases, and suburban the unincorporated areas without a voice in matters of importance."

WHITE IS the only candidate who resides in an unincorporated suburban area. More than 60 per cent of the suburban area is unincorporated.

"For 20 years this same old slipshod method has been tried and for 20 years it has failed," White said. "The county board should take aggressive leadership in solving suburban problems. So long as there is a Sleepy Hollow attitude toward problems, and so long as the board is made a battleground between political parties divided between the suburban and metropolitan representatives, nothing will be done.

"I propose to end this system which has cost so much and produced nothing for the suburban areas. I believe it is possible working with the majority of the board to get a hearing and to get aggressive action on suburban problems. Democratic leaders with whom I have discussed this problem have assured me that this is the case."

Municipal Personnel Laws Are Vague Ineffective

Illinois municipalities are operating under antiquated personnel laws which are vague and ineffective, reported Kendall I. Lingle, executive vice president, Citizens Public Personnel association, in a public hearing before the Municipal Problems commission last week.

The association, a 75-year-old Illinois citizens organization specializing in governmental personnel analysis and research, recommends that the Municipal Problems commission undertake detailed studies of the entire subject of municipal personnel management and of the administrative needs of Illinois municipalities in cooperation with public officials, employee organizations and citizen groups.

LINGLE, IN HIS report to the commission, announced that no constructive legislative review of civil service statutes has been made since their adoption 55 to 63 years ago.

The personnel programs of villages having 15 civil service employees must operate under the same laws as apply to Chicago, with over 37,000 employees.

The association's recent survey of Illinois cities and villages of 5,000 and over population revealed that 141 municipalities have some form of civil service; 127 are limited exclusively to fire and police civil service; and 5 municipalities have both a fire and police commission and a civil service commission, with varying policies and resulting confusion.

BEFORE considering any means to seek increased municipal revenue, Lingle said it is imperative to determine means to utilize current income efficiently through effective, equitable and economical employee management.

The association presented a detailed report to the commission in which it reports that in some Illinois municipalities as much as 85 per cent of the total operating cost is consumed by payroll and that trends indicate municipal payrolls and employment will continue to rise. It estimates that by 1980 in the Chicago area alone 25,000 employees will be added to the municipal payroll.

Among the recommendations included in the association's report are:

—The state legislature should not set municipal salary rates. These rates should be determined by each municipality.

The legislature should establish an employee-management relations policy for municipalities. The law is now silent on this subject.

—Municipal pension administration should be improved, and consideration should be given to the merger of the administration of small downstate pension funds in order to reduce cost and improve financial management. More equitable distribution of premium payment should be made by increasing the share paid by the employees, and no benefits should be added without increasing premiums to cover benefit cost. If practicable, pension plans should be made more actuarially sound by giving effect to the accrual principle of financing.

LINGLE REMARKED that as municipal government continues to expand and become even more complex, improvements should be made in personnel-management programs both to reduce administrative cost and to enable municipalities to compete with other employers in recruiting the best qualified.

To eliminate the existing inefficiencies and, in many instances, duplication of effort, it is recommended that the statutes be revised to include more positive and comprehensive definitions of the personnel-management functions to be undertaken by our local governments and to provide the guide lines within which municipalities can develop sound personnel programs through use of management methods successfully employed by many businesses.

Methodist Choir To Stage Musical

ILL-FITTING COSTUMES prove to be hilarious in the musical revue entitled "Attic Antics" to be given by the Chancel choir of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights October 23 and 24. Enjoying the prospect of her husband trying on an old army uniform is Mrs. Walter Dill. The couple have lead roles in the benefit show.

Choir members of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will mount a tandem bicycle late this month and weave a musical path straight back to the Gay Nineties.

On October 23 and 24 the Chancel choir of the church will present an original musical variety show entitled "Attic Antics." Stars of the show will be "Amy and August Childs," otherwise known as Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dill, and a 100-year-old trunk.

Mrs. Irene Rybski, who wrote the script and is co-directing it with Charles Wellnitz, has collected costumes and dusty props from half a dozen sources. The high-wheeled tandem bicycle is being loaned by Kenneth S. Gerler, 88 S. Highland. It is 75 years old and was made by Gerler's grandfather.

AUGUST WILL SQUEEZE into a World War I uniform once worn by Dr. John A. Cousins while others in the cast of 50 will be stylish in two 1907 bathing suits and an original Gibson girl outfit.

Many of the costumes are being loaned by Margaret E. Johnston, 319 Park pl., who rescued them from an Evanston attic 20 years ago.

The show is a benefit to help pay the choir's pledge on a piano and organ installed two years ago. Tickets for the 8:15 p.m event may be purchased from choir members or at the door. The show will be held in the church's Fellowship hall.

Arlington Terrace News

The monthly meeting of the Dryden-Frederick card club was resumed with the September gathering being held at the home of Mary Kirchner, 908 Frederick, last Thursday evening. Attending to play cards and enjoy refreshments were Rita Turner, Joan Love, Marilyn Anderson, Ruth Lalish, Lois Norum and Janet Broderick.

Congratulations go to Jack and Ethel Menefee, 902 Dryden, on their 16th wedding anniversary. By way of celebration, they enjoyed dinner out last Saturday evening in the company of Jack's brother and wife and his mother and aunt. The evening out was also an occasion to wish a happy trip to Jack's mother and aunt, who will leave soon for California. Jack's aunt will travel on to Hawaii.

Judy Johns, daughter of Grant and Ruth Johns, 1017 Douglas, celebrated her 12th birthday September 25 by having some girl friends as guests for lunch, after which they attended the Arlington theatre.

The weekend of September 20 found Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collins, 811 Hickory, enjoying a visit from relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, of Loraine, Ohio.

ALSO CELEBRATING her birthday was Sheila Murphy, daughter of Ed and Marie Murphy, 833 Hickory, who was 8 September 21. Attending her party were Patsy, Danny and Tommy Collins, Nancy and Kathleen Nitch, Maureen Beem, Lynn Nelson and Brian Marinello.

Dean Evenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Evenson, 838 Hickory, was three September 18, at which time relatives gathered to help him celebrate.

A lingerie demonstration party was held at the home of Agnes Conolly, 837 Hickory, September Hickory st.

The Earl Spahrs, 939 Haddow, and the Ed Leistens, 1013 Haddow, attended the wedding and reception of close friends Saturday, when Al Phillip and Audrey Feller were married at St. Mathias church, Chicago. The reception was held at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Pre-School Study Group Meets Tues.

The pre-school child study group of the Arlington Heights PTA will have its first meeting Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 8:15 p.m. at the new Windsor school. Professor E. C. Reichert, department of education and director of Lake Forest college evening session, will speak.

"The Meaning of 'No' " is to be outlined with six major headings. An entertaining speaker with a practical message, he will also present a check-list of probable causes when discipline fails. Stimulating discussion should follow. There will be refreshments after the program. Mrs. Ernest Richardson is group chairman.

Lessons In English

The expression "enough that" is usually wrong in such constructions as, "It was hot enough that the horses suffered." Use an infinitive. Say, "It was hot enough to make the horses suffer."

Use "former" to refer to one of two persons or things previously mentioned, never to one of three or more.

Often Mispronounced

Prelate. Pronounce prell-it, accent on first syllable.

Peremptory. Preferred pronunciation is per-ehmp-toh-ri, with accent on second syllable.

Contract Is Set For River Work

An apparent low bid of $189,000 for the job of removing trees and debris along 16 miles of the Des Plaines river between Lake st. in Maywood and Golf road northeast of Mt. Prospect was received last week by the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

The Arcole Midwest Corporation was the bidder, the lowest of nine.

The cleaning job is the Sanitary District's first major flood relief program in 35 years for 10 suburbs along the river. They include Maywood, Melrose Park, River Forest, Elmwood Park, River Grove, Franklin Park, Schiller Park, Park Ridge, Des Plaines, and Mt. Prospect.

THE PROJECT was authorized earlier this year.

The district hopes to ease flood dangers in the 10 west and northwest suburbs by removing log jams and other debris, thus improving the flow of presently clogged sections of the river during heavy rains.

The log jams consist of driftwood and other debris snagged above each bridge along the river. They seriously interfere with the flow of storm water and cause flooding in periods of heavy rains, according to Horace Ramey, chief district engineer.

The cleaning job is expected to begin in October and completed within a 120 day period.

RAMEY SAID the project should be followed by two others involving the clearing of trees and debris along the river from Mt. Prospect to Wheeling and from Maywood to Riverside.

To provide really substantial flood control, the river should be deepened by dredging, Ramey added.

He termed the debris clearing project "a good job for fall or winter rather than spring or summer when you usually have periods of high water." (B8

Reformation Rally Slated October 26

A Lutheran Reformation rally, sponsored by 13 Lutheran churches in northwest suburbs, was announced Saturday by Rev. Edgar H. Behrens, chairman.

Rev. Behrens is pastor of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights.

The rally will be held Sunday, October 26 at 3 p.m. in Arlington high school gymnasium.

"Purpose of the rally," explained Rev. Behrens, "is to provide a fresh statement of the relation of our Christian faith to our present times just as Martin Luther did in his day for his time."

TWO SPEAKERS have been scheduled for the rally. They are Rev. William Buege of Minneapolis and Rep. Paul Simon, prominent Lutheran layman, newspaper publisher, and state legislator.

Two mass choirs will be included in the service which will feature Theodore Lams, head of Northwestern university's church music department, as organist.

Rev. Behrens said the program will be open to the general public.

How Palatine Doctor Fled Death Sentence in Germany

A Palatine doctor will long remember the date May 7, 1945.

To Americans, this date meant V-E Day, but to Lothar Hussman, then a 23-year-old German army lieutenant, it meant a new lease on life.

When the Nazis capitulated, Hussman was at the western front awaiting trial by the supreme court of the German Army for subversive activities. Conviction on the charge might have meant the death penalty, especially at that time in the war.

THE CHARGES WERE the outgrowth of his accepting the task of defense counsel for 30 army sergeants, all of whom were fellow medical students who also had been incapacitated by war wounds. The sergeants had wilfully broken up a Nazi party demonstration.

Hussman, who now has a general medical practice at 125 W. Chicago ave. in Palatine, was arrested by Gestapo for being an "instigator" after gaining what amounted to acquittal for the sergeants.

This was not the first time

DR. LOTHAR HUSSMAN

Hussman, a native of Wuppertal in the Rhineland near Cologne, was before Gestapo cameras. As a youth of 15, he went to Switzerland where he learned a great deal about Hitler's tactics.

Upon his arrival home, he began to tell fellow youths about what Hitler was doing. This lasted one day. The Gestapo put him in jail for 10 days and took away his civil rights.

It wasn't until Dr. Hussman was wounded four times within a week at the Russian front in 1941 that his civil rights were returned.

THE DOCTOR WAS wounded first in the right arm, partly paralyzing the use of his limb; then in the right leg; then shrapnel splinters pierced his left hand; and finally he was hit in the feet.

Through it all Hussman remained at the front line. There were no first aid station, said the doctor.

The crowning blow was when a piece of shrapnel hit his helmet, stunning the then 19-year-old youth. After this, he was returned home for recuperation.

For his performance on the Russian front, Hussman had his civil rights returned and was commissioned a lieutenant. He was sent to the western front but didn't remain there long. A British plane strafed the truck he was driving, and a bullet pierced his left leg.

Having partial use of his right arm and hobbling on crutches, the doctor resumed medical studies with the 30 German army sergeants.

THE WAR WOUNDS were not the motivating factors for his becoming a physician, Dr. Hussma nsaid. He based it more on the fact that his family was in the scientific and medical fields. He proudly pointed to his uncle, I. G. Farben, who heads one of the largest pharmaceutical houses in Germany .

Upon the end of the war in Germany, he returned to medical studies at Heidelberg university. A year later he transferred to Goettingen university from where he was graduated in 1946 after five and a half years of study.

He then served as assistant in surgery at Goettingen and did further residency at Frankfurt university in gynecological surgery.

It wasn't until 1950 that he decided to leave Germany. The reason - socialized medicine.

Under socialized medicine, only a specified number of physicians could open their own offices. Every physician had to get on a waiting list. Dr. Hussman estimated it would have been 10 years before he could have opened his own practice.

IN THE MEATIME, he and fellow physicians in the same predicament worked as assistants in hospitals free of charge. They made their livings at less skilled jobs such as janitors and man, in Chicago, Dr. Hussman himself was a furniture mover.

Adding to the dismal picture was a restriction of a $1.35 in medicines which a patient could receive in any three month period. Then too. Hussman said, under socialized medicine, a German doctor usually treated upwards of 100 patients daily.

Having an uncle, Carl Hussman, in Chicago, Dr. Husman applied for immigration to the United States. Six months later he received approval.

Not knowing a word of English when he came to the U. S. in 1950, Dr. Hussman anticipated seeking other work until he found out that Goettingen university's diploma was acceptable in the U. S. This was not common knowledge in post-war Germany, he said.

From 1950 to 1951 he interned at Illinois Masonic hospital. It was there that he met his wife, Dr. Julia El Attrache of Syria, whom he married this past spring.

HAVING MOVED his practice from Chicago to suburban Palatine this summer, the two doctors are looking forward to building a home on 34 acres they recently purchased on the northeast corner of Rohlwing rd. and Devon ave. in Elk Grove township.

Today at 36, having fully recovered from six war injuries, Dr. Hussman reflects on his past and proclaims, "I'm proud to be an American physican."

'Queen' to Have Loads of Prizes In Local Test

Some young woman is heading for a wonderful time and armloads of gifts if she happens to be chosen "Queen for a Week" in the Novak & Parker contests being held in connection with the Mt. Prospect's fall appliance promotion starting this weekend.

After entering her name in the contest, the young lady, 18 or over, married or single, has nothing whatever to do except wait for a windfall to drop in her lap. No votes to solicit; no judges to face; no parading in a bathing suit; nothing to do except look forward, with fingers crossed, to the following:

THREE-DAY PLANE trip to and from New York city with companion for a stay at the Waldorf Astoria and tickets for her choice of 10 Broadway productions;

Use of brand new 4-passenger Ford Thunderbird for a week;

Thre-piece "coordinated" outfit;

.Dress shoes, sport shoes and slippers; new hat; string of cultured pearls; nylon house coat or $30 merchandise certificate; travel case complete with complexion set; crystal decanter and glasses; 24-piece dinnerware service; antique taffeta bedspread; hair styling and permanent wave; full year's pass to Pickwick theatre for entire family a well as other awards. State Senators Hit Blue Ballot Foe

The claims by a former judge from Alton, Ill., that the proposed judicial reform article in Illinois is a "plot and a "scheme" were attacked this week by two members of the General Assembly.

State Senators W. Russell Arrington, of Evanston, and William J. Lynch, of Chicago, issued a three-page statement answering the charges made by the former judge, Floyd E. Thompson.

THOMPSON attacked the good faith of the legislature in drafting the judicial amendment in a speech last week in Alton. He indicated that the courts cannot be relied on under the provisions of the amendment to administer properly their business or to appoint qualified judicial personnel.

"We believe such reckless and intemperate attacks on elected officials made to scare and confuse the voters actually undermine confidence in our basic institutions," the senators said in their statement.

The statement, which was presented Thursday at an Assn. Of Commerce Blue Ballot judicial luncheon in Chicago, continued:

"This irresponsible attempt to create an atmosphere of mystery and impute sinister and ulterior motives for the provisions of the amendment allowing the legislature to fix the length of judicial terms is altogether unjustified.

"As legislative sponsors of the amendment we want to assure the people that there is nothing to conceal and there was no plot of any kind."

IN HIS ATTACK, Thompson called the judicial amendment "a plot to degrade the judiciary and a scheme of political leaders to control the courts."

The Arrington-Lynch statement took up the charge that the judicial reform measure would endanger a judge's tenure of office.

"The simple fact is that, under Section II of the amendment, changes in the basic method of selection of judges and their tenure, will require a referendum of voters," the statement said. The senators added:

"The claim of the opposition to judicial reform that the amendment would violate the doctrine of the separation of powers between the legislative, executive and judicial departments overlooks the fact, as the Supreme Court pointed out recently, that the doctrine does not mean that the 'departments should be kept so entirely separate and distinct as to have no connection or dependence on the other.' "

ARRINGTON and Lynch said they could not conceive of any session of legislature that could impair the strength and independence of the courts. "Certainly, the pressure of the press and public opinion, as well as the power of the governor's veto, would inhibit action of this kind," they said.

The two senators took note of the fact that opponents of judicial reform have asked for an explanation of the omission of the provisions of the bar draft which would delay the increased representation given Cook County on the Supreme Court until incumbent judges fail to seek re-election.

"The opposition assumes wrongly that each member of the Supreme Court has a vested right to run for re-election. This is not the case," they said.

"As a matter of fact, the legislature rejected the provision in the bar draft giving judges of all courts the right to run on their record without opposition.

"We felt that if Cook County is entitled to fair representation on the high court there would be no justification for delaying the complete effectiveness of this long overdue readjustment until possibly 1969, when the terms of the five judges to be elected in 1960 (none from Cook county) would expire. We also thought it unreasonable to delay indefinitely reapportionment of the Supreme Court districts until a new method might be adopted at some unknown date in the future, as Mr. Thompson suggests."

"It is claimed that the consequences of displacing sitting judges of the Supreme Court upon their morale might be unfortunate," the senators said. "This is regrettable, but long range reform of great importance should not be determined by such transitory personal considerations."

ARRINGTON and Lynch said "it was shocking to learn" that Thompson now states that substantially all of the proposed judicial reform can be accomplished by statute.

"This is a complete reversal of his earlier representations," the senators said:

"Disappointment and frustration in not having all of his views adopted in the legislative proposal does not justify such a startling about face.' "

Arrington and Lynch also took note of the fact that the amendment does not expressly provide that magistrates must be lawyers and must be prohibited from participating in political activity. They said:

"This charge overlooks the fact that the legislature or the circuit court judges can be relied upon to prescribe appropriate qualifications. It would be wrong to suppose that in selecting magistrates the circuit court judges will not pick the best personnel — and lawyers wherever available."

REHEARSALS ARE WELL under way for Palatine Players' production of James M. Barrie's popular "Dear Brutus" October 18-19 and 25-26 in Cutting hall of Palatine high school. Ticket sales chairman Dick Snyder is prompting players Dorothy Daniels and Ruth Lockwood as they rehearse their lines. The 3-act fantasy will be staged as a benefit for Northwest Family Service association.

Carousel Club Dance Oct. 4

The Carousel club of Arlington Heights will hold the first of its two annual dinner-dances Saturday, Oct. 4, at Itasca country club.

The 8:30 p.m. dinner will be from 7 to 8. Decorations will be preceded by a cocktail hour in fall colors with straw flower arrangements on the tables.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. John Vannier and Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Rasmussen. (A

Announce Exciting Trips For YMCA Fun Club Series

Northwest Suburban YMCA is announcing its schedule for the Saturday Fun club series which begins October 18 for boys and girls in the northwest suburbs. The Fun club meets eight Saturdays in a row for a variety of educational and exciting trips around the Chicagoland area.

Highlights in the fall series of events are a demonstration by the Northwest Obedience Dog Training school with owners bringing their dogs to present actual obedience training, a tour of a submarine resting in Lake Michigan and a hockey game at the Chicago stadium.

Boys and girls will travel by chartered bus to all events and are under adult supervision at all times. Bus pickups will be made in Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines.

A SCHEDULE of trips is as follows:

OCTOBER 18 — An outing with games, contests and relays will be followed by lunch and an obedience demonstration by the Northwest Obedience Dog Training school of Palatine. Members of the club will be present with their pets to show the boys and girls how dogs are trained to follow their masters' commands.

OCTOBER 25 — The Fun club will take a trip into Chicago to explore, the submarine "Silversides" as she rests in Lake Michigan.

NOVEMBER 1 — Since this date is so close to Halloween, boys and girls will show off their Halloween costumes at a party with movies, refreshments, games and a chance to win prizes.

NOVEMBER 8 — Here's a chance to learn about our future as space travelers. A trip to the Planetarium will tell all about the possibilities of a visit to the moon and other space facts.

NOVEMBER 15 — Aptly following the previous week's trip to the Planetarium the group will be "space explorers" and see a movie called "Flight to Mars."

NOVEMBER 22 — Atrip to the Playdium in Glenview is planned for a roller skating party. Beginners are especially welcome.

NOVEMBER 22 — A trip to the one has forgotten how to swim since summer, the Fun club will visit the Playdium pool for a recreational swim.

DECEMBER 6 — This is a trip to see the roughest sport in the world, ice hockey. The Chicago Blackhawks will battle the Detroit Redwings at the Chicago stadium, and the Fun club will be there to see the exciting game played by professionals.

ENROLLMENT is limited, and registrations may be made at the 'Y' office, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, or by calling VA 4-4156. As the time schedule for each Saturday's trip varies, definite pickup times may also be received by calling the 'Y' office. (B8

Illinois' Citizens Praised For Support of Schools

People of Illinois deserve commendation for their interest in schools and for their willingness to finance them, declares Gerald W. Smith, Republican candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

LAST YEAR the people of this state provided an average of $382 per pupil for operational costs. With such expenditures, said Smith, Illinois ranked seventh among the 48 states, which position happens to match per capita wealth ranking among the states.

Smith pointed out that in overall financing of Illinois schools, the three principal sources of revenue were divided into 1.5 per cent federal, 22 per cent from state appropriations and 76.5 per cent from local taxes. He explained that since state appropriations are distributed partly by flat grants but principally on an equalization basis, the amount of money included in local districts budgets ranged from less than one per cent in some districts to about 87 per cent in a few others.

GIVING ATTENTION to controversies that go on continuously over sources of revenue for schools and the relative portions that should come from federal, state and local sources, Smith said he favors major financing of schools through taxes collected from local and state levels.

Experience has shown, the state school candidate said, that finance and control tend to be closely connected. Smith stated his belief that the best guarantee for retention of local control, in which he heartily believes makes it wise to provide more than half of the school money from taxes of local districts.

Referring to earlier statements which he had made in the campaign urging an increase in the state contribution from the present average of 22 per cent to about one-third of the total operational costs, Smith said that he favors such an objective to provide more adequate equalization and to help prevent greater burdens on local property taxes.

RELATIVE TO increased state support which he advocates, Smith said he was not promoting any new taxes at this time. He said he favored an all-out effort to finance schools within present sources if at all possible.

Commenting further, Smith reminded his audience that basic decisions relative to financing of schools are legislative ones, not in the hands of the executive branch of government. At the local level, the citizens set tax rates by referendum. At the state level, members of the legislature make the final determination of how much money is to be spent and from what sources it shall come.

He cited the work of the Illinois School Problems Commission, composed of members of both major political parties in both legislative houses, in addition to ex officio memberships and appointed members from the professional and lay groups interested in education. This group provides relief for the governor and legislature as a whole by conducting hearings throughout the state on matters of education and by presenting recommendations to the legislature, only after thorough examination of problems involved.

CAPITAL OUTLAY for schools appears to be adequate in bonding power of the great majority of districts. The state legislature created the Illinois School Building Commission to provide building aid. Less than half of the $10,000,000 appropriation made for this program has been committed to date, Smith added, indicating that cases of need at this point are not as great as at first believed. New applications for aid may be expected within the next two months, with new enrollments determined.

Smith pledged that if elected, his office would give full cooperation to the many statewide organizations continuously studying and working for sound programs of finance for schools. (B12

Arguments Ended In Rail Fare Case

Two days of final arguments before the Illinois Commerce Commission in Chicago climaxed the Chicago and North Western railroad's fight to hike suburban fares from 24 to 120 per cent and to drop 23 of its stations.

THE ARGUMENTS, which ended Wednesday, followed 39 hearings and 4,768 pages of testimony before the state commission.

Attorney Harry R. Booth, representing the North Western Commuters Association, argued that with the type of service and kind of equipment provided by the railroad only minor fare boosts should be permitted.

Booth charged that the railroad's claim it lost over $2,000,000 in 1956 is based on inflated expenses and "questionable" depreciation figures.

HE CONTENDED that the basic proposals made by the railroad should be rejected as "inconsistent with the public interest." Booth said these include:

1. The proposals to eliminate the 10 and 25-ride tickets because (a) illegal and undue discrimination would result; (b) a substantial group of riders depend on these tickets; (c) these riders may have to pay increases from 40 to more than 100 per cent and (d) the line may lose enormous revenues.

2. The proposal to eliminate 23 stations because (a) such service is required by the public interest; (b) only inadequate service of a substitute character is available and (c) there has been no showing that retaining the stations would result in a loss.

THE RAILROAD has claimed that abandonment of the Chicago service is necessary in order to provide more service to the outlying areas which have grown rapidly in recent years, Booth said. The inconsistency of this argument is disclosed by the fact that the community which has shown the greatest growth is Skokie where the line proposes to abandon service completely, he charged.

There can be no question but that the proposed fare changes operate to discriminate unduly and illegally against various substantial groups of riders using the suburban service, Booth charged.

Since much of the discrimination arises from the proposals to eliminate the 10 and 25-ride tickets and to increase unduly the one-way and round-trip fares, these aspects of the proposed fare structure changes should be rejected, Booth argued.

BOOTH CONTENDED the railroad is attempting to get present-day riders to pay for the mistakes of a previous management. He quoted the testimony of Ben W. Heineman, the line's new chairman, as attributing current difficulties to the inefficiency and obsolete character of the operation before he made changes.

The attorney charged that "the railroad's claims as to reproduction cost are clearly excessive and even its book and investment cost figures are also over-stated."

In reply, Jordan J. Hillman, attorney for the railroad, said the fare increases and station elimination sought would provide more efficient operations for the majority of its patrons.

HE SAID COMMUTER service is essentially a losing operation because equipment and manpower are not used to the fullest extent.

"The road is anxious to improve its commuter service because of the dynamic development of the city's suburban areas," Hillman told the full commission who took the case under advisement.

Hillman emphasized that the changes are needed to keep the suburban service alive. He said the railroad hopes to buy 36 new air-conditioned double-decked commuter coaches.

Hillman described the proposed fare hike as basically 24 per cent on the 46-ride monthly ticket. He said other fares will be keyed to this if the railroad is allowed to complete the ticket structure revision it seeks.

TRAINS OPERATING on the line's three divisions serve Chicago, Oak Park, River Forest, Maywood, Melrose Park, Bellwood, Proviso, Elmhurst, Villa Park, Lombard, Glen Ellyn, West Chicago, Geneva, Lake Forest, Lake Bluff, North Chicago, Waukegan, and Highland Park.

Also served by the railroad are the communities of Glencoe, Winnetka, Indian Hill, Kenilworth, Wilmette, Evanston, Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, and Barrington.

Attorneys from many of the communities including Assistant Corporation Council Edward Kelly, representing Chicago, have opposed the railroad's proposals.

FIFTEEN OF the 23 stations proposed to be closed are in Chicago. The line contends it can ease its standee load on commuter trains by abandoning the "lightly patronized close-in stations."

"We need to get equipment released for the longer runs to ease this standee load," said a railroad official at one of the hearings.

Chicago replied that the North Western should not be permitted to close any stations until it presents an alternative plan to provide needed service.

The ICC has suspended North Western's proposed rates until November 20. The state commission must rule by then or the rates will automatically become effective.

The railroad carries 46,000 commuters each business day on its north, northwest, and west lines. (B8

YMCA Fall Program Adds 'New Look' to Activities

Northwest Suburban YMCA is taking registrations now for its fall program for all adults and youth in the northwest suburban area. New and different classe have been added to the regular activities to meet the growing variety of interests of suburban families. Classes will begin the week of October 13 and are isted below by interest groups.

Registrations may be made by stopping at the 'Y' office, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, or by calling VA 4-4156. A program folder will be mailed on request.

BOWLING begins Friday Oct. 17, at Beverly Lanes for a series of nine lessons. Boys and girls 10-14 years of age will be given the opportunity to learn to bowl and form teams to participate in a league. Trophies will be given, and beginners are especially welcome. Children meet at Beverly at 4 p.m. and bowl until approximately 5:45 p.m.

SWIMMING classes will be held at Maine township high school beginning Wednesday, Oct. 15, for nine weeks with emphasis on teaching the beginner to swim and move to deep water and the deep water swimmer to improve strokes and skills to earn emblems. Girls who are beginners will swim at 5:45 p.m., and girls advanced class will begin at 6:25. Boy will have their lessons Wednesdays from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. for the first three lesson; then move to Tuesdays for the last six, from 5:45 to 7:15 p.m.

ARCHERY will shoot off Saturday, Oct. 18, for all "Y" members 9-12 boys and girls 9-10 will meet at the front entrance to Maine high school at 12:50 p.m. and shoot until 1:45. Boys and girls 10-12 meet at the rifle range in the building at 1:45 p.m. and shoot until 2:30. Bows and arrows are furnished, and diplomas are given to those who score well.

SATURDAY FUN CLUB is a series of eight trips to interesting places and a variety of exciting entertainment. Each Saturday beginning October 18 boys and girls 8-14 will travel by chartered bus under adult supervision to such events as a tour of a submarine, observing dog obedience training, a hockey game at the Chicago stadium, and swimming and roller skating at the Playdium.

For Girls Only

TAP DANCING is a new 'Y' activity for beginning tap dancers and will be directed by an expert instructor, Mrs. Georgette Williams. Courses are planned for a full year so that participants will be able to produce complete costumed dances and routines at a demonstration in the spring. Three classes of eight lessons each will be conducted after school on the following beginning dates: Cumberland school, Des Plaines, October 24; Recreation Park, Arlington Heights, October 21; Rupley school, Elk Grove, October 22.

JUNIOR HIGH CHARM course in charm, personality, wardrobe selection and posture. Classes will begin October 22 from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in Algonquin school, Des Plaines, under direction of Miss Pat White. All girls of junior high age are welcome.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS volleyball is being set up in a special class for girls who are interested in improving their game and for those who enjoy competition. All high school girls in the northwest suburban area are invited to join the fun from 7 to 8 p.m. Thursday evenings beginning October 30; instructor is Miss Pat White, physical education teacher.

TRI-HI-Y CLUBS for girls at Prospect and Arlington high schools are a popular group activity meeting Monday evenings under 'Y' sponsorship. Social, service, physical and educational activities are planned each semester by the girls and run by committees in each club.

For Women Only

LOSE WEIGHT the 'Y's Way is a class for overweight women who are really serious about wanting to lose weight. Eight lessons of diet control, exercise and special sessions with experts on modelling, wardrobe selection, etc., will be brought in to add charm to the new figure which will be the goal of all members in the class. The course begins Thursday, Oct. 16, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Forest school, Des Plaines.

SWIMMING is a popular recreational and exercise outlet for women who want to improve and enjoy a healthy sport. An eight-lesson course will be held at the Park Ridge YMCA Tuesday afternoons from 1:30 to 2:15 p.m. beginning October 14. The 'Y' specializes in teaching those who are afraid of the water; 75 per cent of the beginners learn to swim in eight lessons.

TAP DANCING is good exercise and fun for women who want to learn. Classes will begin Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Cumberland school, Des Plaines, under direction of Mrs. Georgette Williams.

BOWLING in a women's league will begin Friday morning, Oct. 17, at Sims bowling alleys in Des Plaines. The first three mornings beginners will be instructed and advanced players will practice; the fourth morning league points will be counted. Mothers with pre-school children are welcome to join, as nursery care will be provided for the children while mother is bowling.

DRESSMAKING is a new class at the 'Y' under Mrs. Doris Spector's training. Fundamental steps in making a new garment and also the techniques of altering will be shown the sewing class to be held in Higgins school, Elk Grove, starting Tuesday, Oct. 21, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

BUSINESS GIRLS CLUB is a new club for business girls, called the 'Y' Service organization. The main purpose is to entertain servicemen at their own bases and at parties planned by the girls in the club. Trips have already been established to the Arlington Nike base, Ft. Sheridan and O'Hare field. The club meets the second Tuesday night of each month at the 'Y' office in Des Plaines.

MR-MISS CLUB is an opportunity for young women to get acquainted with young men and make new friends between the ages of 21 and 35. It is a coed club which plans parties, dances and trips for members and special group events. Their meetings are the first Monday night of each month at the 'Y' office.

THE USUAL adult program which has been in session the past several years at the YMCA will also be presented this fall. Bridge classes, dancing, auto driving and men's volleyball and gym classes will begin meeting in a few weeks, the schedule to be announced in this newspaper.

Lutheran Pastor to Attend Workshop on Mentally Ill

An Arlington Heights clergyman is one of 10 Protestant ministers invited to participate in a Ministers' Workshop on pastoral care of the emotionally handicapped.

He is Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor of Our Saviour Lutheran church.

The workshop will be held at Illinois State hospital, Elgin, on seven Friday afternoons from October 24 to December 12.

SUPERVISING THE program will be Rev. C. L. Brunings, Protestant chaplain at the hospital who said he hoped the workshop could become an annual affair.

He said the workshop was inaugurated because of the realization that clinical pastoral training in an institutional setting is increasingly being accepted by churches and seminaries as a valuable part of theological training.

"Ministers who have received training in an institutional setting report that it made a vital contribution toward their pastoral work," explained Rev. Brunings. "In clinical training, the pastor studies and relates his work to those who have been hospitalized for treatment and care of emotional difficulties."

Psychiatrists state that most people who come to them for counseling or therapy have in the earlier stages of their disturbance seen their clergymen, added the hospital chaplain. Many psychiatrists feel that the church is ideal for preventative counseling if the pastor can adequately help his parishioners.

IT IS RECOGNIZED that a pastor cannot easily take three months off from his parish duties to participate in the formal clinical training course. For this reason, the Protestant chaplain's department at Elgin State hospital will conduct the special workshop.

The sessions will consist of studying cases, visiting with the mentally-ill, and discussing and developing counseling procedures.

Rev. Petersen, 31, has been pastor at Our Saviour Lutheran church since October 16, 1955. Previously, he served the Lutheran Church of the Ascension in Chicago.

He was graduated from Carthage college and Chicago Lutheran Theological seminary.

Early next month, he will hold first services in a new $208,000 church building at N. State rd. and Olive st. (ACM

Ordinance No. 101

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE OPERATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES IN THE CITY OF ROLLING MEADOWS ILLINOIS

Printed and published in pamphlet form by order of the City Council of the City of Rolling Meadows, Illinois this 23rd day of September, 1958.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ROLLING MEADOWS, ILLINOIS:

SECTION ONE: No person shall operate or drive any motor vehicle on any street, highway or other public way within the City of Rolling Meadows, unless such person has a valid license or permit as an operator or chauffeur or a restricted driving permit issued by the Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, except for a non-resident of the State of Illinois, who is at least sixteen (16) years of age and who has in his immediate possession a valid operator's or chauffeur's license or permit, issued to him in his home state or county.

SECTION TWO: For the purposes of this ordinance, "motor vehicle" shall mean every vehicle which is propelled otherwise than by muscular power, including but not limited to motor cycles, motor-driven cycles, pole trailers, reconstructed vehicles, road tractors, school buses, semi-trailers, special mobile equipment, specially constructed vehicles, trackless trailer coaches, trailers, trucks, truck tractors, as well as motor cycles, power cycles, bicycles with motor attached, or power scooters with a motor which produces not to exceed 5 brake horsepower.

SECTION THREE: It shall be unlawful for more than one person to ride, drive or be a passenger upon a motorcycle, bicycle with motor attached, power cycles, or power scooters with a motor which produces not to exceed 5 brake horsepower.

SECTION FOUR: Any person, firm or corporation violating the terms of this ordinance shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each offense.

SECTION FIVE: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

YEAS: Groves, White, Piekarski, Sales, Keller, Roeing, Hamm, Rush, Hickey.

Focus Attention On Fire Prevention

How many fire hazards are there in the home?

"Not many people can answer that question fully," says Arlington Heights fire chief Elroy Winkelman. "But most people are living with one or more of the conditions that cause fires—they cause more than half-million home fires every year in the United States, according to National Fire Protection Association records."

Surest way to get rid of these dangerous conditions, says the chief, is a fire department inspection of your home. A fireman knows where fires start and what breeds them, he points out.

Some of the hazards are defective wiring, improper fuses, frayed extension cords, or extension cords under rugs. Rubbish that piles up in closets, attics, basements and yards can be treacherous. Paint and flammable liquids carelessly stored may start a fire.

During Fire Prevention Week, October 5 through 11, in Arlington Heights there will be an accelerated program of inspections by the fire department, Chief Winkelman says. He urges residents to take advantage of this opportunity.

Lessons In English

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Theological; pertaining to the science of God or religion. "It is never wise to become entangled in any theological argument."

Rotative; turning, as a wheel. "Her mind was as rotative as a wheel."

Arrogate; to assume, or claim as one's own, unduly, proudly, or presumptuously. "How can this man dare to arrogate the position of leader?"

Confute; to overwhelm by argument; to refute. "He was finally able to confute his severest critics."

Dire; extremely evil or terrible. "Their armies are in dire peril."

Wheeling Democrats To Dance

The Regular Democratic organization of Wheeling township has scheduled a dance at the Chevy Chase country club for Wednesday evening, Oct. 8, according to James Stavros, Wheeling township committeeman.

A large number of Democratic candidates for office in the November 4 elections are expected to be present, including Daniel Ryan, P. J. Cullerton, Francis S. Lorenz, and Frank Sain. Democratic dignitaries, including Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago, will also be there.

A 1958 FORD sedan will be given away, presentation to be made by Pamela Whitlow, queen of the recent Wheeling Keen Teen contest.

"The dance presents an excellent opportunity for local residents to meet and talk to the men and women they will vote for in the fall elections," said Stavros.

He recommended that reservations be made through Edward Smetana, VA 7-3825, secreta . .

Blue Bird Training

Fifty-two leaders, co-leaders, sponsors and interested mothers attended the fall Blue Bird training course offered by the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls at South church in Mt. Prospect, September 16, 18, 23 and 25. Certificates were presented to 25 women who attended all five sessions. Palatine leaders receiving certificates were: Mrs. Frank Calkins, Dolores Martin, Mrs. Herbert Noftz, Kathryn Normandt, Mrs. Frank Pleska, Mrs. William Youngquist and Mrs. James Zadny.

From Mt. Prospect, the following received certificates: Mrs. Frank Billmire, Mrs. Richard Cameron, Mrs. Norman Dahlgren, Mrs. Elmer Hedke, Mrs. John Jamieson, Mrs. Edward Kunz, Mrs. Lillis Nelson, Joan O'Connell, Mrs. George Schaefer, Mrs. Henry Schroeder and Mrs. Jack Walter.

Certificate holders from Arlington Heights are Mrs. R. Down, Mrs. Robert Engelbretsen, Mrs. Richard Graczyk, Mrs. Frederick Lauterburg, Mrs. Richard N. Lilleberg, Mrs. Claude Markstrom and Mrs. E. W. Nielsen.

Mt. Prospect

Three more new Blue Bird groups have been formed in the Mt. Prospect area this fall, making a total of 11 new groups of Blue Birds. Leaders for the girls at St. Raymond Catholic school will be Mrs. Richard Kozanecki and Mrs. Harold Lind, representing one group, and Mrs. Richard Cameron will supervise another group. Mrs. Leonard Thiergartner and Mrs. Leeman will co-direct a group of Blue Birds at the Fairview school.

Kathy McMahon displayed her award-winning Citizenship Torch Bearer memory book at the September 21 Torch Bearer tea held in Lions Park fieldhouse. Kathy and other recent rank bearers were present to answer questions on their chosen craft and to help prospective rank bearers select one of the 19 crafts to work on in attaining this highest of Camp Fire honors.

A wonderful day was enjoyed by all who participated in Saturday's father-daughter picnic in Deer Grove. Group-sponsored activities, under the direction of Donald Jaacks, held the interest of the dads and Blue Bird and Camp Fire daughters attending the annual cookout.

Arlington Heights

Various committee chairmen were appointed to serve for a term of three months at the September 25 meeting of the Elukocita Camp Fire Girls. They are Karen Wulff, refreshments; Linda Vetter, day camp girl-planning; Carolyn Genevich, national project; Karin Anderson, games; Ellen Loughrin, songs; Barbara Johnson, program; Gail Klingenmaier, supplies; Kathy Black, cookout; Jane Huff, parent party and Phyllis Christie, community service. Refreshments were served by Karin Anderson and Gail Klingenmaier.

Blue Belles Blue Birds enjoyed a "penny hike" during their September 23 meeting and upon their return, the group played a game of "Snatch" and "Dr. Riley." Linda Crittenden, as president and hostess for the day, served cookies to the girls.

PLANS FOR an outing to Busse Woods became a reality September 23 for the Merry Blue Birds, when the girls cooked hotdogs and hamburgers over an open fire. Toasted marshmallows and chocolate milk completed the menu. After collecting dried weeds, each girl made an eye-catching mobile to decorate her room. Group officers and committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Nancy Clupsa, president; Rose Marie Kelly, vice-president; Bonnie Marks, secretary; Candy Ormsbee, treasurer; Linda Lorenz, refreshments; Nancy Roth, candle lighting; Jo Ellen Ottenheime, friendship circle; Shirley Owen, supplies; Linda Genevich, attendance; and Sandy Ormsbee, telephone. "SEND AWAY GLOOMY FEARS"

* (Author's Name Below)

In ancient days, as soon as people became sick, most of them immediately gave up hope and prepared for the end. Positive cures were almost unknown. One really had to be very lucky to recover.

Nowadays we have many medicines that can be depended upon to give positive help. Physicians know more about the cause of most diseases. They prescribe from the thousands of different drugs pharmacists stock, the one that will help most. They are no longer restricted to the few they can carry in their bag or office. Do not fear any sickness, just visit your physician quickly.

The Casey Gordons, 720 N. Kennicott, began last weekend by seeing the sights in Galena. From there they drove to Dubuque, where they visited the Fred Dufflemeyers. The families began their friendship when the Dufflemeyers lived in Arlington Heights.

Gay Homecoming Scheduled Friday

Colorful preparations were being completed Thursday at Arlington high and Prospect high for the 1958 edition of Homecoming.

The meeting between York and Arlington Friday night on the Arlington gridiron will climax an all-day whirl of student events.

Highlight of tomorrow's schedule is the traditional coronation assembly which begins in the Arlington gymnasium at 1:15 p.m. The Homecoming Queen and King will be named at this assembly. Students from both schools voted earlier this week for their favorites from a select list of seniors. Seniors nominated by their class for this coveted honor include Judy Keppen, Judy Rosa, Judy Johnson, Toni Minetti, and Jean Conroy for Queen. King candidates are Ed Whitelaw, Bob Barbour, Dave Buren, Jim Sherman, and Fred Hedemark.

FOLLOWING THE coronation assembly, the new student royalty will be presented to the public in the annual parade. Thirty-eight floats representing all Arlington-Prospect homerooms will present a variety of unusual and beautiful entries. Many days of planning and construction have gone into each float, and prizes will be awarded to the winners during the half-time ceremonies at the game.

The Arlington band, Majorettes, Rhythmettes, and Prospect band will also participate in the parade which is scheduled to begin at Arlington high at 2 p.m. The parade will proceed from the high school east on Euclid to Vail, south on Vail to Sigwalt, east on Sigwalt to Evergreen, north on Evergreen to Wing, east on Wing to State, north on State to Miner, east on Minor to Pine, north on Pine to Euclid, and west on Euclid to the high school. This route is subject to change due to street repair work now in progress.

RICHARD KINNEMAN is the faculty chairman for Homecoming activities; Judy Keppen is the student chairman.

Completing week-end activities is the Homecoming Dance on Saturday night from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Arlington gym. This dance is sponsored by the "A" club

Problems Clinic Guests To Hear Planning Chief

Northwest suburbs, wrestling with the dilemmas of suburbia's "boom," will be provided next week with goals and answers by a leading city planner.

Discussing what's ahead for northwest suburbs, what common problems confront area communities, and what help they may expect from state and regional authorities will be Paul Oppermann, executive director of the newly-formed Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

He will deliver the main address Saturday, October 11 at a noon luncheon for 300 guests attending Paddock Publications second annual Suburban Problems Clinic in Arlington Heights.

OPPERMANN WILL BE introduced by Tom Brennan, associate editor of Paddock Publications' 13 newspapers and co-chairman for the Suburban Problems Clinic.

The Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission was created by the state legislature last year as a result of problem studies made by the "Randolph Commission" in the Chicago metropolitan area. The new commission is designed to coordinate metropolitan and inter-urban cooperation in an area comprising Cook, Lake, DuPage, Kane, and Will counties.

Oppermann, appointed executive director in March, will also discuss what effect the commission's program will have on northwest suburbs.

Prior to accepting the post, he was director of planning for the city and county of San Francisco for nine years.

He is especially well qualified to discuss problems of metropolitan areas.

HIS BACKGROUND includes:

—two years as architectural designer for the architect firm of Voorhees, Gmelin and Walker in New York City;

—city planning and architectural work for the city of Saginaw, Mich.

—city planning and housing studies in England, Holland, France, and Germany;

—assistant director for five years of the American Society of Planning Officials;

—director for two years of the Tri-Cities Planning Project in Johnson City, Tenn.;

—urban planning adviser for the Federal Housing Administration in Washington during World War II;

—city planning consultant to the French Ministry of Reconstruction and Urbanism in 1945; and —urban planning officer for the Federal Works Agency in Washington from 1946 to 1949.

AUTHOR OF NUMEROUS research reports and articles on city planning and architecture, Oppermann has also lectured on city planning, housing and urban redevelopment at American university and the University of California. He has served as chairman of the National Capital Housing Authority, member of the Joint Committee on UN Headquarters, Interprofessional Urban Planning Committee, and as an adviser on planning urban renewal and redevelopment for the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington.

Oppermann is also a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on California Children and Youth, the California State Mobilization Service Committee, and the advisory council for Land Economics.

Professional organizations include membership in the American Society of Planning Officials, American Planning and Civic Association, Regional Development Council of America, American Institute of Planners—for which he has served as member of board of governors, president, and editor—American Society of Public Administration, Western Governmental Research Association, the Committee on Urban Research, Highway Research Board, and the National Academy of Sciences.

He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Lambda Alpha, hnorary land economics fraternity. He studied at University of Michigan school of architecture.

Oppermann, 55, is married and has two children.

THE SUBURBAN Problems Clinic, annual community service project of Paddock Publications, is an all-day conference held in Arlington high school.

Beginning at 9:15 a. m. in the Little Theatre, the program will include a welcoming address by Stuart R. Paddock, president of Paddock Publications, and panel discussions on school problems and downtown area planning. The noon luncheon will be held in the high school cafeteria, and the afternoon session in Little Theatre will feature presentation of the H. C. Paddock Community Service award and a panel discussion on social problems.

Invitations to the clinic were mailed last week.

Suburbs Must Plan For Future Growth

A program to prepare suburban Cook county for the vast industrial and residential development expected by 1970 is the basis of the campaign of John J. White, Glenview manufacturer and civic leader, for suburban Cook county commissioner.

White, a director and county board representative on the Northfield Township Planning association, is a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

The only candidate who resides in an unincorporated area, White has proposed immediate consideration of a complete program of development and governmental modernization which has evoked widespread interest. White stresses the importance of an immediate attack on Cook county problems in all his speeches at township rallies and suburban group coffee hours.

"UNLESS WE BEGIN now with a program of development comparable to the program which Mayor Daley has proposed for the city of Chicago we will face a suburban crisis in the next ten years," White says. "Our problems of health and sanitation, zoning, fire and police protection, and the growth of suburban slum areas are critical right now. In another 10 years, unless we move promptly and vigorously to meet them, they will swamp us.

"The suburban areas need vigorous and aggressive representation on the county board. They need representation which will be present at all the board meetings, which can and will work with the majority of the board, and which will stand up and fight for action on suburban problems. In too many instances, the suburban representatives have been inexcusably silent or absent when matters of extreme importance were settled.

"We must have a greater measure of home-rule for Cook county. And we must have a county system capable of working smoothly and efficiently under enlarged home-rule to solve Cook county's suburban problems. Cook county, with half of the state's population and most of its industry, has too long had to go hat-in-hand before rural legislators who knew nothing of its problems, in order to get the authority to do things the county should be able to do on its own."

AMONG THE programs White is advocating are:

(1) Revamping of the zoning board of appeals to provide that all members be from the suburban areas, with one member at least from the unincorporated area. The present board has five members—three from the city of Chicago. White points out that no suburban members serve on the Chicago board and advocates that the county board be composed wholly of suburbanites.

(2) Promotion of governmental efficiency by realignment of functions and the elimination of overlapping and duplicating services "so that the taxpayer will get 100 cents of service for his dollar."

(3) Suspension of hit-and-miss zoning pending the submission of the Chaddick commission report on suburban zoning, and the granting of emergency or "hardship" permits only after consultation with the commission.

(4) CONSOLIDATION of offices and elimination of duplication in the law enforcement and welfare services. Elimination of outmoded offices, and the placement of their functions in other offices.

(5) Institution of a drastic checkup system on suburban construction to insure that acceptable standards of sanitation, drainage and septic facilities are fully met, with the requirement of performance bonds to insure that contractors adhere to the engineering designs which they file in obtaining construction permits.

(6) Consolidation of policy-making functions in the county board, with trained personnel to perform the administrative functions under policies set by the Board.

(7) Elimination of "deadwood" from all county payrolls with periodic checks by the County Board to determine that offices are run efficiently.

(8) That the county board take aggressive leadership in regional planning to solve problems of fire and police protection, transportation, flood protection, elimination of suburban slums, and scientific zoning to guide the development of housing and industrial projects. (B8

Sedulously; diligently; perseveringly. "These things should be sedulously followed."

Extirpate; to root out. "The better element among the sportsmen are determined to extirpate all crookedness from athletics."

Effectuate; to bring about. "The town's citizens are dissatisfied with their present government and wish to effectuate a reform."

Stultify; to make or cause to appear stupid or foolish; to make a fool of "Despite all his efforts to appear at ease, every word uttered by the man seemed to stultify him." (B8

Girl Scouts Ask $16,400 in Drive

The annual Girl Scout fund drive began Wednesday in seven northwest suburban communities. Goal of the campaign this year will be $16,400.

The scout program includes crafts, camp life and offers the opportunity to develop good working and living habits through companionship and introduction to community service.

"A GENEROUS contribution to this campaign will enable more girls to participate in activities designed to help them develop self-reliance, integrity, dependability, concern for others, initiative and whatever native talents they may possess individually," said Betty Thackery, council publicity chairman.

"Girl Scouts learn to express their individuality through creative channels and they gain experience in working and playing as members of a group. Through scouting they discover that homemaking can be fun and that playing the role of an active citizen of the community can be stimulating. Through scouting, our young girls grow into maturity accepting their responsibilities as wives and mother and leaders of their community," she continued.

Girl Scout districts four and five include Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Elk Grove, Wheeling and Rolling Meadows. (B8

New Great Books Discussion Begins Monday

A new Great Books discussion group will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 6, in Pioneer Park field house, Arlington Heights. There is no tuition and all adults are eligible to join. No special background is required.

Basis of the program is the development of a liberal education. To better understand the problems that all men face, group members read and discuss the great writers of history and examine what they say. Subjects to be discussed will include "What is Love," "Can War be Prevented," "How Much Freedom Can Men Have," "What is Justice."

Adults may enroll for the group by calling Morton B. Tomlinson at CL 5-6253 or by attending the first meeting. (B9

County Problems Hearing Thursday

Cook county residents interested in acquainting members of the legislative Commission to Study County Problems with their own local problems will attend public hearings October 2 at 2 p.m. and October 3 at 10 a.m. in Chicago.

The hearings will be held in the County Board assembly room at 118 N. Clark st.

Sen. Daniel Dougherty (13th) said the commission has held similar hearings during the past year in the state's other 101 counties.

SUBJECTS expected to come up for discussion, he said, include (1) methods of assessing taxes in the county, (2) possible elimination of certain county offices, (3) the effect of the Hodge-Downing Act which limits the tax rates charged within townships, and (4) the proposed state income tax.

The whole complex problem of finances relative to county government is expected to be discussed, Dougherty said.

Invitations to attend the hearings have been mailed to officials of all Cook county municipalities, also township officials. Organized groups are asked to have spokesmen represent them and, if possible, to have copies of prepared statements, Dougherty said.

THE COMMISSION is "groping in the dark" in regard to the number and intensity of problems facing communities, he said. Urging big turnouts at the hearings, Dougherty said: "We are willing to extend the hearings to a third day if necessary."

Cook county members of the commission, other than Dougherty, are Rep. Joseph Lelivelt, of Maywood, and Dr. William M. McGovern, professor of political science at Northwestern university. (B8

Do not say, "I have ate my dinner." Say, "I have eaten my dinner."

"Needs" as an adverb means "of necessity," and is used chiefly with "must." Thus: "He needs must go," and, "He went as needs he must."

Do not say, "I claim that my figures are correct." Say, "I maintain."

Avoid dangling phrases, those attached to the wrong words in sentences. Thus, do not say, "The storm struck just as we reached home with great violence." Instead, say, "Just as we reached home, the storm struck with great violence."

Say, "James was accompanied by his brother (a person)." Say, "The war was accompanied with loss (a thing)."

Troop 506 visited Meyer's Candy company as a part of the summer troop activity. The leaders who accompanied the girls on this interesting tour are Mrs. Louis Konac, Mrs. Robert Sibgen, Mrs. L. Pullman and Mrs. E. Gobel.

Families of new brownies accompanied them on a summer-fall brownie roundup at a picnic held at Camp Pine September 27. This was the official opening of the brownie scout season. The families enjoyed a picnic supper, program and camp fire.

August 20 Intermediate Scout troop 207 toured Avon Products in Morton Grove. The girls are working on their Good Grooming badge and the tour fulfilled one of the activity requirements.

Senior Scouting

(Submitted by Senior Scout Sylvia Pfeffer of Arlington Heights.)

Service is the key word in Senior Scouting, and serving others and the community is the purpose of each senior scout. Service projects may include a variety of activities from placing literature in envelopes at the city hall to conducting a Christmas party at an orphan's home. Senior Scouting includes service in the hospital as nurses aides, in the public library as library aides, in the national forests as ranger aides, and in almost every other field of interest.

Mariner Ship 95, led by Mrs. John Cordaro, has adopted an orphan as one of its projects this past year. These high school girls have washed dishes for the Arlington Heights Women's club and saved their spending money in order to send 10 dollars a month to their adopted girl. Other service projects and instruction in navigation and waterfront activities complete the program for the Mariners.

Many opportunities exist in scouting outside the level of the troop. These activities are known as national and international opportunities.

SYLVIA PFEFFER, a member of Ship 95, was accepted as a participant in the Senior Girl Scout Mobile camp in the southwest this past year. In order to application telling of her activities in scouting, her school and her community. In addition, she had to submit a statement telling why she wanted to go and what she would do to share the experience she had with others. Applications like this were screened at the council, regional and national level and then the final participants were announced.

Each of the three mobile trips lasted two weeks and originated at Santa Fe, N.M. During this time, the girls traveled 1200 miles by auto and learned about everything they saw. Visits to the Painted desert, Petrified Forest National monument, Meteor Crater, Wupatki National monument, Sunset Crater and several museums highlighted the trip. Between stops the girls learned about the history, geology, archaeology and anthropology of the land through which they traveled. Primitive camping at night and getting to know each of the 23 other girls completed the program.

TWO ALL-STATES encampments were held this past summer, one in Illinois and one in California. Each of these activities included 100 girls from the entire country, usually two from each state. Activities at All-States include a variety of sports and skills.

Other senior activities this past summer included attending conferences at the Chalet and the Cabanna, exchange programs with scouts and guides the world over, a Summer Arts festival and an experience known as the Adventure in Citizenship.

Some of these activities will be suspended for the year of 1959 due to the Second Senior Girl Scout Roundup. The first roundup was held outside Detroit in 1956 and was a tremendous success. Colorado Springs, Colo. is the site of the coming roundup. Girls who have completed one year of senior scouting and are under the age of 18 are eligible to apply. Roundup includes a variety of activities with the major emphasis being placed on getting acquainted with girls from all over the country with different backgrounds, and sharing skills and knowledge with them.

Bad Check Case All 'Mopped Up'

What the TV private eye might call the "Arlington Floor co. caper" was (excuse us) mopped up by Police Magistrate William F. Neumann Wednesday.

The case concerned a number of checks passed during the second week of September on check blanks of the Arlington Floor co., which formerly operated out of Palatine. The checks were cashed after the firm was closed and its bank account liquidated, bringing yelps from bilked merchants who hadn't known of the firm's demise.

The owner of the company, James A. Cameron, 28, who formerly lived near Wheeling, was nabbed by Wheeling police September 22. That was 12 days after he cashed a check for $525 at Krause and Kehe real estate in Arlington Heights. The charge of check fraud was reduced to disorderly conduct by Magistrate Neumann after it was learned that a relative had made restitution of the money.

A fine of $100 was levied on the disorderly charge and a second charge—that Cameron was carrying a concealed weapon in the glove compartment of his auto when stopped—turned out to be not a violation of any law.

Cameron, who cooled his heels in county jail nine days awaiting trial, didn't walk out of court a free man, however. An Arlington Heights policeman took him into custody for failure to comply with a Superior court order directing him to support his wife.

Police thought that Cameron had gone on the check-cashing spree with a former employee, James McPharlin, 29, of Grayslake. McPharlin was apprehended by Arlington Heights police September 15 as he attempted to cash one of the Arlington Floor co. checks at a local auto agency.

Two charges of check fraud against McPharlin for a total of $244 were also reduced to disorderly conduct by Magistrate Neumann at his trial last week. Restitution was made to the Vail tavern and Arlington liquor mart for these checks.

When McPharlin was unable to pay his $100 fine, he was sent to county jail to work it off at the rate of $5 a day.

McPharlin has another date in court when he departs from the Cook county jail. Lake county authorities are also holding some of those "Arlington Floor co." checks. (AF

Dr. Reichert is a professor at Lake Forest college and director of its evening session. Discussion is slated to follow the talk. Refreshments will conclude the evening.

Safety Checks for Bikes

Policemen will inspect bicycles this week prior to issuance of licenses. Every bike should have a horn or bell and lights, if it is to be used at night. A list of rules for safe riding is to be sent home with school children. Inspection dates follow: Monday, Oct. 6, South Jr. High, 9:30 a.m.; Park school, 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 7, Dryden school, 9:30 a.m.; Westgate school, 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 8, North school, 9:30 a.m.; Ridge school, 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9, Miner Jr. High, 9:30 a.m.; Windsor school, 1:30 p.m.

Guess What Europe Wants!

European schools are trying to imitate ours, while we pose the ironic question, "Should we follow the European pattern of education?" "Our schools are the finest in the world for all the people's children," emphasized Dr. Harold Shane of Northwestern university at the combined Windsor-Miner meeting last Tuesday. About 80 per cent of European children are excluded from secondary education, which would mean at the junior high level here. About one child in ten in Switzerland goes to college compared with almost 50 per cent in this country.

Robert Campbell, principal, urged, "Bring your problems to school; we can't do anything about some problem we don't know exists."

The Big Change

A new, more serious attitude prevailed at South Jr. High, reported A. Todd Fouty, principal. Such factors as technological events, parental encouragement and the current crisis in education were undoubtedly responsible. Changes in the math and science programs were explained. Science is now presented four days a week, all year long, as compared to last year's schedule of five days a week for one 13-week period.

The staff of 35 teachers was introduced. Over half have received their M.S. degrees and over half continued their studies this summer.

Questions Asked and Answered

Westgate PTA separated into five groups to discuss five questions relating to the roles of teacher and parent working separately and together. At the conclusion of the discussions led by parents in "buzz session" style, their reports showed active thinking, concluding that they can and are willing to work together to take fullest advantage of the education offered.

Voting Information

Citizens who have not registered and who are planning to vote at next election, November 4, may register through October 6 at the County Clerk's office, room 230, County building, Chicago. However, on October 7 it is possible to register at your polling place from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Voters who have changed their address must return their application card for transfer of registration to the County Clerk's office. Information is on the back of the voter's registration card.

Thank You . . .

I am one of the 9,496 Girl Scouts in the Northwest Cook County council. I want to thank you all on their behalf for your generous contributions to our 1959 fund drive, October 1-8.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

50 Years Ago
October 2, 1908

Rain, snow and hail has broken the long drought. From many sections of the country joyful telegrams were received at the weather bureau in Washington announcing that "dry spell" which threatened ruin to thousands of farmers and millions of dollars of crops is ended. But slight damage was done by the snow flurries, although the frost, which powdered Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas, caused the late corn to shrivel and caused other losses.

Accidents in coal mines of the United States during the last calendar year resulted in the death of 3,125 men and injury to 5,315 more.

Frank H. Robinson died September 21, at his home in Manchester Center, Vt., after an illness of over ix years. He was born in Rutland County, Vt., in 1836. He came to Palatine in 1866, and engaged in a mercantile business in company with Richard Turner in the building now occupied by Toynton' Pharmacy. Five years later, he bought out Mr. Turner and continued the business alone until about 1886, when he sold out to Mr. Sanford Peck of Barrington. He was postmaster from 1875 to 1883. Mr. Robinson married Miss Nellie Turner in 1866. She died in 1871, and one child, Charles, survives. The deceased was married again in 1874, to Miss Melissa Keyes, who died the same year. About 1891, Robinson left Palatine and moved east to Vermont.

The new ordinance recently approved by the city of Chicago, a section of which was published in these columns last week, should be seriously considered by every farmer. The board of health is in earnest and the law will be strictly enforced, and the sooner the farmer has his cows examined and makes arrnagments to dispose of cattle infected by tuberculosis, the better. It means a great upheaval of the whole dairying business.

The law also provides that examination is not necessary for a period of five years where the milk and cream can be pasturized. The Bowman Co. have equipment for doing this.

Palatine—Rufus Starck has moved into the Converse residence which he has purchased.

John Domkowsky had his face severly bruised and cut in the city Monday. When crossing the street, a street car came around the corner and struck him.

In the absence of other news, we might have published particulars of several bouts, but as the same were carried off without the use of regulation gloves or referees, we will not publish the particulars this time.

Palatine will play the Fuqua Giants, Colored Champions, October 4th. The Giants have a good reputation in the semi-pro world. They have with them the great Coacher, Bill Joiner, who was with the colored team, which played here two years ago. Come out and see the colored boys play. That Bill Joiner can certainly make some noise even for a coon.

Rev. H. C. Hoffmeister became pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical church ten years ago, September 29th, and in commemoration of the ten years fellowship of pastor and congregation, special services will be held Sunday morning. Rev. Hoffmeister has proven himself to be a man, who seemingly, has an unlimited capacity for work.

Schaumburg — Fred Schrage and wife celebrated their silver wedding, September 20.

Hon. Christian Busse and wife, Hon. John Fasse and affianced came to America on the same ship and landed in Chicago June 24, 1848—60 years ago.

Our young sprout D. made a hit with a pretty Roselle girl last Saturday evening. He informed his friends that considering the pleasures he had, combined with the bliss which he enjoyed, would knock the spots off a five dollar bill.

It required the services of a small army of police to keep in check the throngs of people who crowded about the Chicago Opera House, for blocks around Sunday night, to witness Henry W. Savage's authorized version of Franx Molmar's great Play "The Devil."

Bensenville—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson a little girl, September 24.

A cheap for cash bargain for 2½ acres of land with buildings. Apply to G. P. Ernsting.

Mr. Arthur Smith from Maywood and Miss Amanda Bartels were united in marriage at 4 p.m. Sunday in the German Lutheran church. Wedding feast was given at the home of the bride and a merry time was had by all. 100 invitations were sent out and were all well taken care of despite the rain Sunday.

Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Franzen, was taken sick suddenly September 22 and died the next day.

Henry Mess and wife, of Palatine visited at Elfring's last Sunday. Mr. Elfring took them in his auto to Rev. Grosse's church to see the wedding ceremony of Miss Martha Bartels, of Bensenville, to Otto Schmidt, of Melrose Park.

Hanover — John Schumacher, who was sickly all summer, died Monday at his home with Christ Reimer Jr. on Elgin road. Schumacher was a prominent hard working man as long as he was able to. He lived in his late residence over 3 years and worked for H. Heine Sr. 24 summers always happy and well. His wife died about eight years ago. He reached the age of 77 years, leaving a number of relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Arlington Heights — Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Miller on Wheeling road, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, with a large crowd.

Wm. Becker is having a house built of cement blocks. N. Pizen and map are doing the concrete work. Rumor says our R.F.D. mail carrier on route 1 is to be married before Christmas. We hope it is true. Then the girls won't tease him so much on the way.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M.E. Church will give their annual Harvest supper in the church parlors, October 8. The Ladies are planning to make this an evening of welcome to the new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. R. Edgington.

Wm. Sieburg has moved his family here from Chicago. They occupy the Mrs. Henry Wilke house on Euclid ave.

The Bruhnke family have moved into their new house on East Euclid ave. opposite Dr. Draper's.

Wm. Kehe takes his wife out riding in a fine new Staver carriage bought of Chas. Petersen.

Wheeling—While Messrs. Weist and Wendling were shingling Jacob Wolf's house Tuesday, their scaffolding gave way and both fell to the ground. Mr. Weist escaped with slight injuries but Mr. Wendling was not so fortunate.

If you are hard up for a sweetheart, boys, probably one of your second cousins will take pity on you.

This territory has hundreds of cases of colds, grip and influenza which keep the doctors busy; Spanish influenza is playing havoc with the United States.

If you have a cold, do not cough or sneeze at any one; do it in your handkerchief. If you have a cough and expectorate, spit in paper and burn it. If you spit on sidewalk or street the sputum dries and the wind carries it up, some one may inhale it and contact the disease that way. If you have a cold with fever go to bed. —Dr. E. A. Elfeld, Chairman, Board of Health.

A bad accident occurred on Rand road near Foundry road Saturday night when August Durnik of Arlington Heights, riding a motorcycle was blinded by the lamps of an approaching auto, hit it square, was thrown thru the windshield over the auto and landed on the pavement in back of car. Friends of Durnik have not been able to learn his condition on account of the hospital quarantine in the city.

Palatine township starts out like a whirlwind on its Liberty Loan drive. Some start — Some start. $16,400 subscribed by noon and $28,500 at the close of business on opening day. It was the biggest day of its kind in Palatine history.

Fred C. Linnemeyer was born in Germany in 1831. He married Miss Doothea Dohel in 1857. The family came to America in 1868, settling in Chicago. Forty-five years ago he came to Palatine and for many years lived in what is now the Hicks homestead. He was a mason by trade and followed it until 1903, since which time he has made his home with his son William. His wife passed away 12 years ago. His health was good until the day of his death, which was caused by old age, September 9.

Isaac Blum has closed his saloon and rented his sheds to individual farmers. Thus Palatine saloons now number three.

The reorganization committee of the P. L. Z. & W. reports that only $20,000 of the necessary $125,000 had been raised for the rehabitulation of the road. The Borden and Patterson people said half of that amount—Quindel of Palatine put in $1,000 which leaves only $9,000 subscribed by the people of Wauconda. Unless the citizens of that place want that road more than $9,000 worth, they will lose out altogether.

Ernest W. C. Blanck, a former employee of the Public Service Company passed away at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, September 29. He had only reached the age of 20 years but wanted to serve his country. He enlisted August 15, but the Lord deemed it necessary to take him after only serving his country seven weeks and only having the chance of coming home twice.

Bloomingdale—The old bowling alley is no more. They are occupied by hogs and chickens: some fine bowlers.

The Home Guards from Glen Ellyn hiked to Bloomingdale Sunday and pitched camp down the road for dinner.

Roselle Rumbles—Louis Fasse has moved into the Fenz home on the west side.

Geo. Benhard, of Rodenburg, moved his family into his home on the north side Monday.

Mrs. Albert Bremer died October 1 in her 58th year.

A very pretty wedding occurred Wednesday, when Miss Elsie Sauerman became the bride of Henry Baxman. They will make their future home in the westside bungalow.

The neighbors and friends of Wm. Edecker were shocked to hear of Mrs. Edecker's sudden death Tuesday. She had been in the best of health, and was busy sewing when she suddenly fell from her chair dead from a stroke of apoplexy, aged 52 years.

Churchville—Mr. Henry Triebold was found dead in bed September 26 at the home of J. F. Steil. Deceased was 24 years old, and had been working the past 5 years for J. F. Steil.

Mt. Prospect—Mrs. L. W. Wille received a telegram Thursday from the government stating that John Alex, who had previously been reported killed in action had been located in a hospital. He had only been wounded in the left leg July 18.

Schaumburg — Mrs. Dietrich Meyer passed away Monday suffering from pneumonia but a short time.

Our peace-loving citizens were aroused suddenly by the ringing of the fire bell at 5 p.m. Saturday for a fire at Wm. Kastning's. The few fire fighters that were home were assisted by Swick and Danielsen and got away to a flying start with H. W. Fenz driving the auto truck with the engine hooked behind. It was lucky they did as the barn being close to the burning strawstack was beginning to smolder when the first burst from the hose hit it. The engine worked like a charm as our engineer F. W. Botterman had given it the once over a short time ago. Roselle and Palatine departments also appeared on the scene and convinced all that they were more than neighborly. Thank you, Gentlemen.

August Drewes was born at the home of his parents on what is now part of the Feehanville farm in south east part of Wheeling township in 1850. In 1875 he married Miss Augusta Garbe. They started life on the 80-acre farm now owned by his son John. Their union was blessed with five children. Mr. and Mr. Drewes retired from the farm in 1909 and moved to Arlington Heights. His wife died in 1913 after which he lived alone in his village home. He passed away September 28.

Mr. John Weienbach, the Arlington Heights harness maker, died Tuesday evening from the effects of influenza, with which he and his family were afflicted. He was taken sick about a week previous and in taking care of his family instead of receiving the care, himself, that he should have had, his condition became worse. He was born in Hungary, Germany in 1888 and came to this country in 1907. He came to Arlington Heights in 1915, opened a harness shop, starting business in a small way. His methods gained

Do you know the real reason for the advance in the price of milk? The Tattler thot he did until this week when he was tipped off that the high price of beer was the cause. Our informant says that the drinking public, deprived of their beer and never being educated to drink water, are turning to milk as a substitute.

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Metthew Wickersheim gathered at the home of their daughter Mrs. Elsie Grewe at Wheeling September 30 in commemoration of Mr. Wickersheim's 86th birthday. He has lived in this vicinity the past 82 years and has always enjoyed the best of health which he credits to his moderate way of living.

Mr. C. D. Taylor, prominent Palatine citizen and a member of many Masonic bodies, died Friday night. He was born in Chicago in 1854. He began his business experience as cash boy, at the age of eleven at Potter Palmer's old iron front store on Lake street, which he followed what time he was not at school until he entered Bryan and Stratton's business college. He engaged in several different jobs until 1879 when he became a partner in the firm of R. J. Hipwell, an established coat manufacturing business, located on the corner of Twelfth and Clinton. He was married in 1880 to Miss Emma French.

Mr. Taylor later engaged in private enterprises in Palatine. After his election as director in the Court of Honor fraternal society, he was in charge of their Chicago office. In connection with his local Masonic work, Mr. Taylor was president of the Palatine lodge association, owner of the Masonic hall, from the time of its organization. He became a member of the village board the second time during the administration of H. Schierding. He succeeded him as mayor and held office eight years. For many years he was president of the board of education.

H. L. Bockelman, Palatine hardware merchant and Fred Voelker of Mundelein seldom leave their home towns, which is the only way that either of them can explain why Thursday afternoon was the first time that they have met in 52 years. The last time they saw each other was when they left the German school in Long Grove in 1886. Mr. Voelker chanced to be in Palatine, when the business sign of his former school chum caught his attention. Mr. V. Bockelman claims that he almost recognized his old time friend.

The Rev. Herman Wagner who served as first resident pastor of St. John's Evangelical church, Arlington Heights, from 1903 to 1909, died Thursday at his home in Bensenville. Rev. Barrington, Elk Grove Forests Added

Two northwest suburban townships added the most forest preserve acreage in Cook county during 1957, according to the annual report of Lachlan W. MacLean, comptroller of the Forest Preserve District.

Barrington township added 331 acres costing $250,600, more than doubling its total acreage, which is now 651.321, costing $409,815.

Elk Grove township added 303.89 acres costing $287,255, bringing its total to 2,586.758 acres which cost $1,330,203.33.

THE ONLY other north suburban townships with 1957 purchases were: Northfield, 8.01 acres costing $30,115, for a total of 2,999.067 acres costing $2,310,038.77; Leyden township, 2.02 acres costing $3,375, for a total of 2,492.3046 acres costing $2,375,453.63; and Niles township, .375 of an acre, costing $2,250, for a total of 1,441.1092 acres costing $1,817,064.03.

No purchases were made for Evanston, with 6.68 acres; Maine, 1,345.713 acres; New Trier, 1,170.3146 acres; Norwood Park, 60.5 acres; Palatine, 1,249.627 acres; and Wheeling, 1,364.4220 acres.

COST REACHED a new peak, averaging $1,396 per acre for the 1,486.4070 acres acquired in the entire county, a total of $2,075,068.21. During 1956, the average was only $1,017 for 938 acres, and in the 42 years the county has been buying land for forest preserves, the average was $776 per acre.

Total acreage at the end of 1957 was 43,404.0803, which cost $33,707,269.69. (B8

Casting Announced For 'The Crucible'

Randy Bolsinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bolsinger of 514 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect, has been cast in the leading role of John Proctor in "The Crucible."

The play, depicting the witchcraft trials in Salem in 1692, is being presented at Arlington high school October 24, 25 and 31.

Ellen Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wolf, 607 S. State, Arlington Heights, will be seen as the farmer's wife, irresponsibly accused of witchcraft by a spiteful girl to be played by Sue Tabacik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tabacik, 202 N. Emerson, Mt. Prospect.

AS A DEPUTY governor who presides over the trials will be Robert Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Martin, 1524 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights; as an obsequious minister willing to send to the gallows anyone who opposes him is Mark MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. MacDonald, 604 Wilshire, Arlington Heights; as an intimidated servant girl who almost withdraws her false testimony at the trial is Rosemary Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barry, 409 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

Tom Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Wade of 3201 Peacock lane, Rolling Meadows, portrays a clergyman who is disillusioned by the injustice of the trials. Playing young girls who accuse the innocent in Salem will be Patricia Mahler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mahler, 502 Raymond Mahler, 502 S. Vail, Arlington Heights; Susan Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, Arlington Heights; and Jean Ulizzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ulizzi, 1516 W. Grove st., Arlington Heights.

REBECCA NURSE, one among many re-created by Arthur Miller out of court records in Salem, a stricking example of an almost saintly woman falsely accused, is played by Merigail Moreland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moreland, 2207 Eastman, Rolling Meadows. As Francis Nurse, her husband, is Mike Hampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hampton, Mt. Prospect.

As a vindictive, but powerful couple in Salem, are Dennis Gaul and Pat Schneider. Dennis is the son of Mrs. Bernard Gaul, 944 Fernandez, Arlington Heights. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schneider, 115 S. Gibbons, Arlington Heights.

MICHAEL WOODWORTH, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Woodworth, 616 E. Sha-Bonee Trail, Mt. Prospect, will portray a man who unwittingly is the cause of his wife's death. Richard Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Buckley, 1404 W. Elm; and Steve Colvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Colvin, 1319 Watling rd., both of Arlington Heights, play men involved in the famous trials.

Completing a cast of 21 are Lynn Shaughnessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Shaughnessy, 646 N. Dryden; Jan Jorden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jorden, 641 S. State road; Brian Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thor Larsen, 1424 N. Dunton; and Marilyn Hirsch, 316 E. Euclid, all of Arlington Heights.

"The Crucible" is being presented in the Little Theatre at Arlington High with a curtain time each evening at 8. Admission is 75 cents and all seats are reserved. Tickets are now on sale by members of the cast or by mail orders addressed to the high school. (ACM

Lessons In English

Avoid such expressions as, "Empty out the bookcase," or, "We must empty out the garage." The 'out' is redundant, and should be omitted.

Do not say, "She was overly anxious to hear from him." Say, "She was overanxious."

Do not say, "I can't say as I care to go." Say, "I can't say that I care to go."

The use of "advise," in the sense of "inform" is popularly used in business letters, but it is wrong. The primary meaning of "advise" is to give counsel, to recommend, to warn.

Do not say, "He tried, but of no avail." Say, "He tried, but to no purpose," or, "with no success."

Two Englishwomen Provide Authentic Air for Play

MAKING SURE THAT VILLAGE Theatre players are authentically British in their forthcoming production of "Witness for the Prosecution" are Doris Paterson and Doris Moseley, two former Englishwomen who are now suburbanites. They are serving as "technical consultants" for props, costumes, and speech.

Perfection is the keyword in all phases of Village Theatre, Inc., productions, and Agatha Christie's "Witness for the Prosecution" is no exception.

The authenticity of the Engish court settings, the costumes, and the accents will be verified by two new members of the organization. Doris Paterson and Doris Moseley, delightfully English in their soft, clipped accents, are working on props and costumes for the play and assisting in the speech problems of the cast.

LONDON-BORN Doris Paterson came to the United States in May, 1957, with her husband and son from her home in Harrow, a suburb of London and site of the famous Harrow school. She is employed as secretary to the executive vice-president of the Arnar-Stone Laboratories in Mt. Prospect and lives on N. Kennicott st. in Arlington Heights with her family. Mr. Paterson is an aircraft engineer and their 15-year-old son is a senior at Arlington high school.

The better educational opportunities for their son was a prime reason for the Patersons' move to the United States, and the Chicago area was favored as Doris has a sister living in Skokie. Citizenship is Doris' goal, for she loves the states. "There are only two things of England I miss," says Doris, "one is lean bacon and the other a special blend of vegetable pickles."

Always interested in amateur dramatics, Doris belonged to the Studio Theatre in Harrow for six years where she played character roles and did backstage work. Finding a theatre group in Arlington Heights delighted her, and she is most pleased to be able to assist the cast with its English accents.

SECURING FIVE pound notes and an English newspaper is an easy task for Doris Moseley. Also London-born, Doris has been in the states more than seven years and recently became a citizen. She lives with her daughter, a secretary, on N. Vail st. in Arlington Heights, and has a son who is in his senior year at Harvard Medical school. He is married and has one child.

Doris was graduated from Homerton college of Cambridge university, where she prepared for a teaching career. During the war years, she taught in London and was evacuated several times with the school children trying to keep out of the way of the bombs. She has taught in the Arlington schools for the past two years and is now librarian and language teacher at South Junior high.

Active participation in the theatre is not new to Doris. She produced plays in London schools and was an avid theatre-goer frequenting the many theatres on Shaftesbury st. off Piccadilly Circus. This whetted her appetite for Village Theatre and now both she and her daughter, Diana, have become members. (ACM

A Community Has Need for Modern Hospital Facilities

by PAUL ZEHNER

Have you been a patient in a hospital lately? If so, you know that an operation, and the hospital care that goes with it, has changed a great deal in the last 20 years. A modern hospital is a vast organization built for one purpose, that is to help your doctor make you well as quickly as possible.

First you get "checked out" by every known piece of modern scientific equipment — electrocardiograph to test your heart, microscopic and chemical analysis of your blood to discover any hidden weaknesses in your health, x-rays to probe conditions the eye cannot see. All this is done with utmost care in a routine manner so your doctor will have all the information that modern science can give him which he needs to treat you.

THE MODERN hospital also sees to it that your doctor is not alone in facing his great responsibility. All this testing is done by persons of specialized skill, specialists, who know more about what they are doing than an average doctor. It is important that a hospital be large enough to bring together a balanced staff of specialists who are always ready to help your doctor if he should desire their help. Sometimes this need arises in the midst of an operation such as when a pathologist is needed to examine tissue and give an immediate verdict.

There is no place in this world for second rate medical or hospital care. When you are sick, you want the best, no matter what it costs. The family doctor cannot supply all the facilities and take all the precautions if he is alone, but if he is on the staff of a first class hospital his ability to serve you is multiplied by ten.

We hear a great deal of talk about the constantly growing cost of hospital care, but actually a hospital can be a means of reducing the cost of restoring health. A piece of equipment that costs thousands of dollars can be kept busy serving thousands of people, and therefore its cost can be spread. Newly invented equipment is needed immediately to save lives, and the hospital is in the position to buy it.

HAVE YOU NOTICED that the hospital stay for common ailments has been reduced drastically in recent years. If your hospital stay is reduced from 20 days to 8, you can figure what you save even if the per day rate is much higher. If you can go back to your job in 14 days instead of 30, you have made a great saving indeed.

Yes, when you are sick, you want to get well as quickly as possible, and you want to minimize in every possible way the risks that you face. That's what a hospital is for, and that's why people are willing to build and support voluntary hospitals right in their own communities.

St. Peter Moms To Hear Joliet Pastor Oct. 10

Dr. Erdmann W. Frenk, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran church in Joliet, will speak on "How We Parents Can Help During Confirmation Instruction" to members of the Mothers club of St. Peter Lutheran church in Arlington Heights when they meet Friday, Oct. 10. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school basement. Husbands have been invited.

In addition to ministerial duties, Dr. Frenk conducts a weekly service over the Joliet radio station.

The club board will meet at 8 p.m. October 3.

Allstate's 4 in 1 package policy saves homeowners up to 28%

One policy does the work of four

Allstate's Homeowners Policy protects you against financial loss from virtually every major home hazard that could threaten your family, your possessions, or your security.

It includes fire (dwelling and contents), theft and family liability insurance. Also covers vandalism . . . windstorm . . . explosion . . . smoke . . . lawsuits and legal fees for home accidents . . . medical payments for visitors and guests . . . even teen-age "pranks."

ALL THESE ADVANTAGES!

- Everything in one policy.
- One low premium . . . one renewal date . . . one company to serve you and look after your interests.
- Convenient installment payment plan means you don't have to lay out heavy cash in advance.
- Costs up to 28% less than comparable protection purchased in separate policies from most other companies.

Allstate's Homeowners Policy can't prevent accidents . . . But it can prevent them from ruining your future.

See or phone an Agent at the locations listed below, or look up Allstate in your phone book.

Motorist, 33, Is Killed In Collision

The 24th traffic fatality in northwest Cook county was recorded Monday in Barrington township when two autos collided head-on on Higgins rd. west of Sutton rd.

Killed was George R. Stein, 33, of Beloit, Wis. He had been residing at 129 N. Kildare ave. since becoming a metallurgist for Western Electric.

THE DRIVER of the other auto, George F. Koebler, 39, of 10 Western ave., Carpentersville, suffered a skull fracture and is in critica condition at Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Koebler apparently fell asleep at the wheel, according to state police, and swerved into the path of the eastbound Stein auto.

Last year for the entire 12 months, 22 persons met their death on highways in the six northwest Cook county townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg, Barrington and Hanover.

For Meat You Can Depend On !

Jewel Food Stores

To make a meal turn out well, you must have good meat to start with! That's why it's so important to shop at Jewel—where you know you can depend on the meat you buy. Here are some points to look for:

When you buy ham: Select a brand that's known for flavor and tenderness . . . like Swift's Premium. At Jewel, these famous quality hams are cut in half—each half containing its proper share of sweet, choice center slices! At some markets, these are removed to sell as ham steaks at a higher price!

This Year's 4-H Grand Champions Are Proud Youths

Judges inspected 4-H club poultry entries and named Lee Helberg of the Hanover Hawks as having the grand champion chicken.

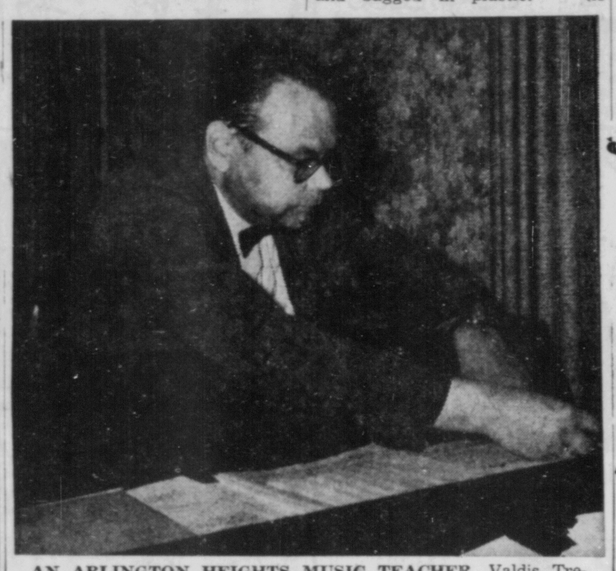
Pianist, Dancer Too Happy To Brood About War Past



AN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS MUSIC TEACHER, Valdis Tremainis, owner of the Art Music and Ballet studio leafs through music to pick out a selection for a pupil. He once wanted to become a doctor and was two years from his goal when the fortunes of war prevented it.

An unusual collection of photographs decorates one wall in a small anteroom at the top of the long stairway at 9 S. Dunton st.

The pictures show a lovely blonde ballerina in scenes from such works as "Swan Lake" and "Coppelia." On the opposite wall are several photos of a young man seated at a grand piano, pictures obviously taken in a concert hall.

THE VISITOR WITH a smattering of knowledge about the artistic world might expect to find such mementoes in a fifth-floor music and dance school located in the shadow of Orchestra hall or Carnegie hall. But at the entrance to a three-room studio in Arlington Heights—an hour away from the musical heart of Chicago? Hardly.

The treasured pictures are there, however, at the entrance to the Art Music and Ballet Studio, which occupies leased rooms over a floor covering store on S. Dunton st.

THE CIRCUMSTANCE that links the stages and orchestra pits of Europe with the rather drab surroundings of a suburban music studio was "the war"—as the young couple in the pictures simply put it.

Valdis Tremainis and Valerija Riekstina were two young people who had their careers well mapped out when their native Latvia, one of three small Baltic states, was drawn into World War II. For them, as for their country, war brought total upheaval.

Tremainis, now 38, was a medical student at the university in Riga, the capital city, when Russian troops swarmed across the border in June, 1940. He had studied music for several years, then changed to medicine.

TREMAINIS VIVIDLY recalls the first week of the occupation: "The Russians threw my father, a colonel in the Latvian army, into prison two days after the invasion," he said. "The family heard about him once indirectly not long afterwards. We never heard from him again, and we believe he died of torture in prison or was sent to Siberia."

Valerija's career was already under way. Only two years before she had graduated cum laude from the Ballet school in Riga directed by Mme. Alexandra Fokina, a former prima ballerina of the famed Russian clasical ballet. She had been engaged by ballet company of Liepaja, a town of 60,000 some distance from the capital.

"Latvia was a small country but had a very high culture," she explained. "Liepaja was not the only provincial town with a ballet company."

THE LITHE YOUNG dancer won the esteem of audiences as she danced two roles in "Swan Lake" for a run of 50 performances. She was proclaimed a prima ballerina after some months.

For the first few years of the war the two pursued their studies and careers without interruption. Valerija was forced to take examinations to retain her position by each conqueror in turn—first the Russian, then the Germans in 1941.

In 1944 the Germans conceived the idea of sending Latvian entertainers on a tour of Germany to bolster flagging morale on the home front. Tremainis was "enlisted" in the company for his ability to play four musical instruments and Valerija for her talents as a dancer. The traveling troupe found life even more hectic and dangerous than it had been at home.

"One time we found ourselves locked in a civilian passenger train bound from Berlin to Dresden," recalled Tremainis. "Instead of a one-day trip, it took us six days and we were never allowed out of the train to get food or drink. And it was so crowded we had no place to sit all that time."

AS CONDITIONS became more intolerable in the final months of the war, the touring company decided to break loose from the German grip. One night after a variety show in the hamlet of Klingenthal the group fled up the nearby foothills into hiding

Their next contract was with American troops who liberated and fed them. The entertainment-starved troops and the homeless Latvians struck a bargain—food, shelter and protection in exchange for music, dancing and relief from the boredom of battle.

As the GI's trickled home and American movie stars came overseas, there was less demand for the Latvians in American army camps, and they formed the Latvian Ballet company to entertain German civilians.

"People were so tired after the war they were willing to pay anything for theatre tickets," said Valerija, who had married Valdis shortly after the liberation. A four-mark ticket sold for 10 times that price on the German black market.

WAR-RUINED Germany held no future promise for the Latvians and gradually the company dwindled as opportunities for emigration came up. The Tremainis' chance came in October, 1949. A minister in Indianapolis sponsored their emigration to the United States. Coming to Chicago early in 1950 in search of work, Tremainis answered a classified advertiement for a music teacher in Arlington Heights.

He taught piano and accordion at the Arlington School of Music for more than five years before setting up his own studio. His wife, who had begun classes in ballet in Recreation park fieldhouse in 1951, brought her classes into the school.

The couple's travels are more regular now, but they are still on the go constantly. They have a second school in Chicago and divide their time between the two locations.

CONCERTIZING, teaching activities, doing work for a small recording firm, conducting recitals for their pupils fills up seven days a week. Little time is left for wondering "what might have been."

The pianist who wanted to be a doctor and the dancer who was on the threshold of a brilliant career are uncomplaining about the past and highly pleased with the success of their schools.

"After all, war interrupts many careers" concluded Tremainis. (B8

Top Reviewer Opens New Book Series

Mrs. Florence Bourke Ellis, one of the best-known dramatic book reviewers in the midwest, will return to the World of Books course at the Arlington high school library Monday at 8:15 p.m. for the first review in the new season.

A graduate of Columbia university with an advanced degree in literature, Mrs. Ellis is known for the excellence of her presentation and the dramatic impact of her selections. In addition to reviewing one book in depth, she aids her audience in keeping abreast of other current fiction with brief reports on books newly released or about to be published. All of her reviews are of books on the "best-seller" lists.

The World of Books course is a part of the regular adult education program, and registrations have been accepted with other class enrollments for the past several weeks. Additional registrations are welcomed, and it is possible to register on Monday evening in the library of the school, in advance of the review. Single admissions are available for any one review, also.

A welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, who recently moved into the subdivision at 1120 Elmhurst rd. Mrs. Wilson, originally from Milwaukee, is a physical education teacher in Park Ridge. Mr. Wilson is from Colorado and is in the building field.

Mrs. Arthur Haapoja was hostess for a jewelry demonstration. Mrs. Arnold Haapoja, Mrs. John Haapoja and Mrs. Clay Turner of Chicago were present, along with several women of Wedgewood.

A toy demonstration was given by Mrs. Henry Combs Wednesday evening. The affair was attended by Mesdames Leo Becker, George Krizek, Tom Merritt, Robert Marchetti, Louis Sylvester, Ernie Lundstrom, Howard Peterson, Jim Sailer, James Salisbury, Harold Bowlin, Robert Oswald and Frank Bedo of Wedgewood, Mrs. Charles Merritt of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Barbara Salisbury of Grand Rapids, Mich.

WEDGEWOOD Improvement association meeting will be held October 6 at the home of John Revus, 201 W. Euclid, at 8 p.m.

There was an attendance of 240 people at the fall dance held last Saturday at the American Legion hall, Skokie. The big success of the dance was due to the hard work of John Czerechowicz, Leo Becker, Adam Kwiecinski, James Deal, Jim Nykodom and Henry Combs, who made up the committee. The gifts of the evening went to Mr. and Mrs. Van Fleet of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwinn of Wedgewood.

Our Saviour's Lutheran church, the first church of contemporary design to be built in Arlington Heights, will be dedicated in ceremonies on November 9.

The first service will also be held that day, with Rev. George Hoog, director of missions of the Illinois synod of the United Lutheran Church of America (ULCA) to preach the sermon. Rev. [illegible]anized the congre- [illegible] in February, 1955.

Dr. A. Howard Weeg, president of the Illinois Synod, will preach at the 4 p.m. dedication service later in the day. Clergymen from the northwest suburban area and Lutheran ministers from the Chicago area have been invited to participate in the processional which will precede Dr. Weeg's message.

OTHER ACTIVITIES planned for the opening are an open house for the congregation on November 7, an open house for neighbors and local businessmen on the evening of November 11 and programs of sacred music on the evening of November 14 and the afternoon of November 16.

The pastor, Rev. John R. Petersen, said outside work on the church at State rd. and Olive st. is now virtually complete. Paving of a portion of Olive st. will be done in a few days and seeding of a lawn will follow the concrete work.

General contractor for the project, Carr Brothers construction co. of Berwyn, will also have a William Carr of the firm will hand the keys to the building to Pastor Petersen to signify completion.

League of Women Voters Support Judicial Article

With election day approaching, the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights this week urged voters to cast a "Yes" ballot Nov. 4 on the Blue Ballot judicial amendment.

Approval of the amendment will give Illinois a streamlined, business-managed, modern court system and improve the quality of Illinois justice, according to Mrs. Gerald M. Chapman, local league president.

JUDICIAL REFORM has been a subject high on the league's study agenda since the local chapter's formation several years ago. In fact, it was the first subject chosen for study at that time and has been accorded continuing study and support ever since.

For example, Mrs. O. E. Brown of Mt. Prospect, judicial amendment chairman, reports that the league booth at the recent 4-H club fair distributed more than 1,000 leaflets urging a "Yes" vote on the amendment, as well as offering voters' registration information. John Horton of Rolling Meadows was in charge of this activity.

The Blue Ballot amendment and what every league member can do to assure its success next November, will be the subject of discussion at a series of league meetings during October planned by Mrs. Charles Houchins of Mt. Prospect and Miss Marian Pope of Arlington Heights.

ALSO, MRS. BROWN and Mrs. Louis Nye of Arlington Heights, in cooperation with the Northwest Committee for Modern Courts, will distribute leaflets to marshal additional support for the proposal.

Mrs. Kevin Gillogly, Mt. Prospect, and Miss Pope are members of the speakers' bureau which is headed by Mrs. R. B. Yadon for the Northwest Committee for Modern Courts.

Mrs. Leonard Castle of Arlington Heights, the league's state agenda chairman, emphasizes that the local league's position in favor of judicial reform supports a recent statement of the League of Women Voters of Illinois, which said:

"The great reforms of court administration and reorganization as well as the abolition of the fee system . . . will give Illinois the framework for a system of courts that will be far superior to what Illinois or any other state now has." (B8

Lessons In English

The expression "enough that" is usually wrong in such constructions as, "It was hot enough that the horses suffered." Use an infinitive. Say, "It was hot enough to make the horses suffer."

Use "former" to refer to one of two persons or things previously mentioned, never to one of three or more.

Often Mispronounced

Prelate. Pronounce prell-it, accent on first syllable.

Peremptory. Preferred pronunciation is per-ehmp-toh-ri, with accent on second syllable.

Rotative; turning, as a wheel. "Her mind was as rotative as a wheel."

Arrogate; to assume, or claim as one's own, unduly, proudly, or presumptuously. "How can this man dare to arrogate the position of leader?"

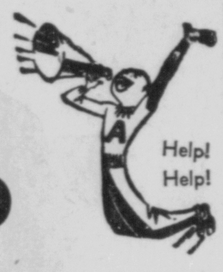
KICKIN' IT AROUND

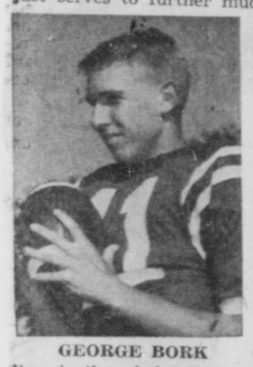


by BOB FRISK

AN IDEAL SITUATION exists in at least two key positions on the Arlington varsity this fall, and it's a healthy situation insofar as the school's grid eleven is concerned.

We're speaking of the intense competition all season for the starting quarterback and fullback slots.

It's gotten to the point where each passing weekend and game just serves to further muddle the individual battles prevailing at these positions. And the principals involved are quarterbacks George Bork and Gene Dahlquist and fullbacks Al Sander and Dick Stansbury.



GEORGE BORK

Bork and Dahlquist handle the signal-calling slot almost equally and so far it hasn't made too much difference who's been at the helm in the three victories. Both boys looked good against East Leyden before falling off a little in the 26-6 win over Glenbard. Last Saturday they both turned in acceptable performances in guiding the Cards to a 20-7 win.

Each boy is gaining experience and confidence every week, and the bright item in the whole picture in that they'll both be back next year to give Arlington claim to what will be an outstanding quarterback duo.

The fullback battle is just as interesting.

Letterman Al Sander started the season in the No. 1 spot and held it until shaken up early in the Glenbard win. That's when Dick Stansbury took over and when he was finished that evening, he had picked up 197 yards and scored two touchdowns.

GENE DAHLQUIST

But Sander got some extensive offensive action again last Saturday afternoon and all he did was to score two touchdowns and compile 78 important yards on the ground. Just to keep things hopping Stansbury picked up 69 yards and had one scamper for 20 yards. Al's longest was 29 yards.

And neither boy got thrown for a loss against R-B in 26 combined carries, an important item to consider about any fullback. In fact only once all season, Stansbury's first carry against Leyden, has an Arlington fullback been caught for a loss on a carry from scrimmage.

To further strengthen the fullback corps there's a 170-pound junior, John Lopata, who hasn't carried the ball yet this year but who could be a starter with some clubs.

There's no room for complacency at any position on any football team, but it couldn't be more evident than at these two slots on Arlington's varsity. And this type of competition is invaluable in athletics!

ANYWHERE FROM second to fifth."

That's the cautious summation of the Chicago Blackhawks' chances in the National Hockey League race this year as put forth by Bud Booth, Chicago reporter for The Hockey News, a paper similar to baseball's Sporting News.

Booth, Du Page editor for Paddock Publications, recently spent some time at the Blackhawks' training camp at St. Catharines in Ontario, Canada, and he passed along the following notes:

The club started with 46 players but after three weeks had cut down to only 36. A NHL team may only carry 19 when the season opens October 8 . . .

Sixty penalties featured two exhibition games between the Blackhawks and Toronto Maple Leafs with the Toronto squad winning one, 7-0, and Chicago gaining a 1-1 tie in the other. In addition, five players were injured in the pair of contests and one Toronto man will be out for six weeks . . .

The Blackhawks will play an intrasquad game Sunday, Oct. 5, in Rockton, Ill. . . .

Roy Edwards, 22, who was the goalie for the Canadian Olympic team which won the World title in Russia, is Blackhawk property and he was outstanding in the training camp, sharing duties with Glenn Hall, All-Star goalie last season. Edwards had a perfect record in his goal-tending, not allowing one score which was something Hall couldn't claim for an almost equal amount of time in the cage.

But Edwards will probably go to Calgary for more seasoning with Hall opening as No. 1 for Chicago. Glenn's amazing success since he entered hockey stems primarily from his speed to maneuver plus the lightning action of his now famous left hand.

AN EX-BELOIT, Wis. high school star who later enrolled at home town Beloit College will be in charge of the York Dukes Friday night in the Homecoming tilt at Arlington.

Alex Naidenovich, in his second year as head varsity coach at York, was a brilliant prep gridder who was labeled 'the best high school quarterback in Wisconsin" when his playing days terminated. In addition, as a junior he played on a state championship basketball unit.

After a successful athletic career at Beloit where he participated in football, track, wrestling and golf, Naidenovich stayed a year at his alma mater as an assistant coach, then went to Dubuque, Iowa, where he coached the sophs to an undefeated season. Matriculating to Geneva, Ill., he surprised even the school's most ardent fans when he guided a seemingly-weak varsity to a 5-1-1 mark and near championship.

Although Naidenovich's success hasn't been too pronounced at York, he hopes for better things to come. We hope so too—after Friday night!

Did you know that the wife of Dave Ash, starting guard on the University of Illinois football team and leading tackler in Saturday's 18-14 loss to UCLA, is teaching at Prospect high school?

The football career of Arlington's Jim Summers at Bradley has ended—at least until 1959. Summers, who had been running in the top left half slot, suffered a broken leg in the first half against Butler.

Dick Hoke of Rolling Meadows is listed as a tackle on the Elmhurst College team . . . Doug Hildebrandt of Palatine played an excellent game with the University of Miami last Friday though in a 20-0 losing cause . . . Bob Baker, an Arlington grad now teaching at Prospect, passed along this information this week: Tom Grey, Arlington's All-WSC quarterback last fall, is one of five signal-callers left at Dartmouth on the plebe squad from an original 13 . . . Ted Wissen, JV coach at Arlington, is a proud papa of eight pound 11½ ounce William Theodore . . . East St. Louis and Mt. Carmel are rated the top prep teams in the state—for what that's worth . . . But as far as we're concerned, prep polls are about as misleading as college ratings.

The WSC race is still very much up for grabs as we can't label this LaGrange team with too many adjectives off their showing against Maine. The Lions have an excellent quarterback in 6-3, 190 pound Bob Chandler, a boy who should make a fine college performer, and some other talented performers, but they can be taken to camp and that might happen this weekend.

However, we like the Lions over Hinsdale by one touchdown, Maine over Downers by 10 points, and Riverside over Glenbard by 14.

It's Homecoming! Arlington to Battle York

Sophs' Productive Offense Faces Third WSC Opponent

Arlington's high-scoring sophs, already exploding for 71 points in two league encounters, will attempt to continue their mastery of West Suburban opponents Friday night in the Homecoming battle against York's Barons.

Rolling over Glenbard, 44-6, and Riverside-Brookfield, 27-0, following a 12-0 win over Leyden, the Cards' sophs have exhibited an effective offense coupled with an equally effective defense.

The Barons of York have not had as much success, dropping their first three contests, but the visitors will be highly-keyed for Friday night's affair at Arlington and shouldn't be underestimated.

AT THE OUTSET of the week three of Arlington's outstanding offensive performers weren't running at top shape but it was hoped they would be ready for tomorrow's encounter.

Two 145-pounders, quarterback Fred Lussow and fleet halfback Keith Voigt, were nursing pulled back muscles, and fullback Tom Petrosino had a cold.

Lussow has ben at the helm of most of the scoring efforts this season and Voigt and Petrosino have done most of the scoring! Keith added two touchdowns against Riverside to bring his total to four and Petro added another to up his team-leading mark to six.

Beckman was pleased once again with the performance of the sophs in a league game and he stressed that they eliminated a lot of the mental mistakes against Riverside. That was one of the few drawbacks about the squad in the rout of Glenbard.

DEFENSIVELY, the young Cards were sharper against Riverside than against Glenbard with defensive captain Jeff Rogers drawing plaudits among others. "However, the whole defensive setup turned in an excellent job," Beckman added.

He also credited reserve back Jerry Halverson with playing a good game and indicated that reserve fullback Bob Miles would be ready for action Friday night after sitting out last Saturday with an injury.

Again the subs saw a lot of second half action against Riverside, much in the same manner as in the Glenbard rout when Beckman cleared the bench of all players.

Riverside Tops Cards' Frosh Squad, 24-19

In a free-scoring freshman "A" football game Monday afternoon Riverside-Brookfield edged Arlington high, 24-19, at the latter's field.

Recovering from a 12-0 first period deficit, R-B pushed over 18 second quarter points and won the contest with a six pointer in the third period.

Arlington's Jim Anderson scored both first period touchdowns, dashing 25 yards for one and 45 yards for the other, as the locals jumped off to their quick lead.

THE VISITORS bounced back with a 27 yard end sweep counting in the second segment, and they scored seconds later on a pass play after Arlington fumbled the kickoff.

Quarterback Ross Retterer crashed over from the one for Arlington's third score, and Bruce Andrise ran the extra point. But that was the scoring for Arlington—officially at least.

Riverside pulled within one point with seconds left in the first half on a 10-yard pass play and then pushed across the winning touchdown on a 10-yard run in the third period.

ARLINGTON had two touchdowns called back in the final period when the guards were offsides both times, and the game ended with the plebes on Riverside's eight yard line, first and ten.

"We played ragged ball at defensive tackle and on pass defense," Coach Charles Aldrich said, "but all the backs ran hard."

Next game for the "A" squad is Monday, Oct. 6, at York at 4 p.m., while the "B" unit will host York that Tuesday at 4 p.m. (Sp

SIX OUT OF nine is the mark recorded by junior Denny Striegel in the extra point department this season. Holding the ball is senior halfback Al Seyler.

Expect 5,000 for Encounter, Dukes Improving Each Week

by BOB FRISK

A crowd of 5,000 is expected Friday night when Arlington's unbeaten Cardinals take on York's improving Dukes in the annual Homecoming affair under the lights.

And despite the two clubs' completely opposite season records, a good battle is anticipated.

Arlington has had little trouble in recording three straight wins, two in league play, while York was soundly trounced by Elgin, 43-13, before losing to Maine, 20-0, and Downers Grove, 14-13, in West Suburban action.

It's the gradual improvement of the Dukes which causes concern in the Arlington camp. Downers is certainly no pushover and York stayed on even terms there with only an extra point spelling defeat.

THE DUKES have six lettermen from the '57 unit which finished last in the WSC and five of these boys will probably get the starting call Friday night: end Gary Achepohl, center John Corzatt, guard Stu Ochiltree, tackle Bill Collins, and fullback Jim Nedjlik.

Nedjlik tallied York's first touchdown against Downers on a 35 yard scamper while senior halfback Joe Benedick added the other with an eight yard effort. The only other boys to score touchdowns for the Dukes this fall are Fred Faulkner, a fleet halfback who dashed 64 yards off tackle against Elgin, and Ken Straub who took an Elgin punt back 60 yards for six points.

Depth is a big factor at York and Coach Alex Naidenovich also counts team speed as an important asset this year, both in the line and backfield. Straub, Jimmy Elliott, and Faulkner are considered the break-away threats among the halfbacks.

ARLINGTON'S performance last Saturday against Riverside was its best of the season, according to Coach "Bus" Ormsbee.

In the defensive setup Ormsbee asserted that end Jesse Nehf, tackle Don Gerken, and inside linebacker Al Sander did an outstanding job with Sander also standing out on offense along with Mike Dundy and Bill McMillan.

"Riverside was the best team we've faced," the Arlington coach said, "and was much faster and better organized than the squad we beat 51-20 last year."

INSOFAR AS a starting offensive alignment for Friday's game Ormsbee indicated that Capt. Dave Buren would probably open at left guard. Buren went both ways against R-B, played about half the game, and turned in a commendable job after sitting out most of the season with leg trouble.

In addition, Leigh Moore, 223 pound senior, may get the call at the center slot as regular John Boehner has been sick. John Lussow will open at left end for the second straight week in place of junior Rick Johnston who is also on the sick list.

Bob Barbour, one of five returning lettermen this year, will suit up for the first time after sitting out the first three games with a knee injury. Barbour, who lettered at quarter last fall, has been switched to center and may see some action there Friday night.

SANDER EARNED his starting fullback slot back after an impressive performance against R-B but Dick Stansbury will also see extensive service.

McMillan is a probable starter at right half in place of Jeff Heintz who has a sprained ankle. However, if Jeff is ready, he will open. Heintz showed some of his hardest running of the season in the Riverside contest before the injury, piling up 34 yards in only four carries.

One encouraging item in the Arlington camp is that Rich Bader, regular end who was injured in the first game against Leyden, will probably have the cast off Saturday and there's a chance he will get back into action yet this fall. Bader cracked a bone in his ankle in the opener. (Sp

Cards Win Third Straight, Stop Host Riverside, 20-7

Arlington's methodical offense went about its task in workmanlike fashion last Saturday afternoon and humbled host Riverside-Brookfield, 20-7.

Four backs did most of the carrying on the scoring drives of 84, 56, and 50 yards as the Cards never trailed, recording their third consecutive victory of the young campaign.

With Mike Dundy, Al Sander, Bill McMillan, and Dick Stansbury piling up the yardage Arlington countered once in the first half, then added single scores in both the third and fourth periods.

DUNDY'S 85 yards rushing topped the offensive attack but Sander, McMillan, and Stansbury were close behind as the quartet ground out all but 31 of the Cards' 334 yards rushing.

The Bulldogs threw a scare at "Bus" Ormsbee's eleven on the first play of the fourth period when quarterback Johnny Patterson went over from 18 yards out and fullback Tom Tucek added the extra point, trimming the margin to a dangerous 13-7 with over 11 minutes remaining.

But the Cards rebounded with another of their time-consuming drives and this time held the ball for all but six plays of the final segment, finally pushing over the counter with just 1.05 remaining in the game.

RIVERSIDE'S Patterson, seeing extensive action for the first time this season due to an injury, engineered a serious threat for the hosts after the opening kickoff of the game. In nine plays R-B was on the Arlington nine but four plays later it was on the 11 and the Cards had the ball.

That's when Arlington went to work and there was no stopping the Bedbirds this time. Jeff Heintz opened the attack with a five yard burst to the 16, then a combination of Heintz and Stansbury rushes carried the ball to the Riveside 41.

McMillan was used for the first time and he scampered four yards to the 37 and Gene Dahlquist carried to the 34. After Dundy and Stansbury worked the ball to the 29 a penalty sent the Cards back to the Riverside 34. Dundy got one of those yards back, before Sander set sail on a 29 yard effort to the host's four yard line.

McMillan was stopped for no gain and Sander got to the one before carrying over for the first touchdown. Denny Striegel's extra point gave Arlington a 7-0 lead.

SANDER ALSO scored the second touchdown, terminating a 56-yard drive at the outset of the third period.

Arlington received the second half kickoff and in three plays Dundy broke loose from the Riverside 37 to apparently score only to have a clipping penalty nullify the six points. But in six plays the Cardinals were banging on the door again and Sander burst through from the one. Striegel's kick was off to the left.

This set the stage for the drama at the beginning of the fourth period with Patterson's touchdown narrowing the count before Dundy went in from the three with a little over a minute left to ice the contest. Striegel registered for the second time and Arlington walked off with an impressive 20-7 win.

Rams Blank Browns, 20-0, Capture AH Division Lead

In their first game of the season, the Rams defeated the Browns 20-0 to take the lead in the 7th and 8th grade division of the Arlington Park District's Midget football program. Totzke scored two touchdowns, one on a 65-yard run and the other on a 35-yard run. Joe Mueller scored the third touchdown on a 20-yarder. Ken Layden and Jim Ewart scored the extra points.

Outstanding defensive player for the Rams was Dick Martindill. The powerful Rams team will be split this week to form two teams of 7th and 8th graders on the south side of the village. The new team under the coaching of Johnny Quintinella, serviceman stationed at the Niki base, will be called the 49'ers and will play its first game Saturday against the Browns at Pioneer Park. The Rams will be fighting for their first place standing when they play the Lions next Saturday at Recreation Park.

THE PACKERS maintained their tie for first place in the fifth and sixth grade division by defeating the Cardinals 13-0 in a hard fought game at Pioneer park. Culbertson scored for the Packers on a 55 yard run and Hood carried the ball for the Packers' second touchdown. Culbertson scored the extra point. The Packers quarterback, Jerry Fink, completed four passes out of four attempts to the right end, Dale Chapman. Billy Sayre played an excellent game on defense. Outstanding players for the Cardinals were Rudy Kranz on offense and tackle John Moore on defense.

In the other game in the fifth and sixth grade division the Bears defeated the Giants 6-0 on a 35-yard run by Bill Becker. Tommy Hamilton played an outstanding game on defense. Dave Low, quarterback for the Giants, played an excellent game on defense and offense. Warren White, coach for the Giants, reported that his team has shown considerable improvement and expects to give the Cardinals a good fight when they meet them next week at Recreation Park.

All of the coaches reported this week that if the parents would give the boys a little more moral support by attending the games on Saturday, they would have more incentive to play their best.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

TRI-COUNTY CONFERENCE opened the 1958 schedule Saturday with a single game as defending champion, North Chicago, slaughtered Fenton 34-6. The Warhawks from North Chicago may make the Tri-County race a runaway if Saturday's game is typical and that may be the case if comparative scores are any indication. Friday night Notre Dame whipped Glenbrook by a decisive margin whereas North Chicago had romped over the Catholic school boys two weeks earlier. Glenbrook had been considered the only possible threat to North Chicago in their quest for two championships in a row.

This week there are two Tri-County games on the card as Glenbrook plays at Lake Park and Palatine at Elmwood Park on Saturday with doubleheaders starting in both cases at 12:15.

No doubt Glenbrook will get off to a winning league start as Lake Park has not shown to date that they have the material to cope with a school more than three times their enrollment. Palatine and Elmwood Park are rated pretty near on a par. Elmwood Park has a home field advantage and the Pirates have the advantage of a more rugged pre-conference schedule which has brought them along fast in their conditioning. Palatine was sharp at Barrington last Saturday and really surprised the most optimistic Pirate fans with a loss of 8-6 against a team rated four touchdowns superior. The Palatine defense played superb ball and but for a fumble and an intercepted pass by the offense might have shutout the Bronchos.

It looks like the line John Ellis has fashioned is going to achieve that miracle we spoke about several weeks ago by being a superior unit. The result was a definite moral victory for the Pirates and based on comparative strength of teams was just as great an achievement as the 26-13 victory the 1957 team won at Palatine.

Elmwood Park has a big fast team made up largely of juniors who last year ran away with the sophomore championship in the conference. They have a good record to date and look like the dark horse of the league. Any way you figure it the winner of the Palatine-Elmwood Park game will be the team to challenge North Chicago and Glenbrook for the first division spots in the standings.

Palatine's sophs start slowly but have good stuff this year. Wayland Campbell, son of a local physician by the same name, was the hero of Palatine's soph win at Barrington. Tied 6-6 with time running out, Campbell recovered a Barrington fumble and then caught a long pass for the winning touchdown. We also were impressed with the hard running of Gil Smith. This was the first time in many years Palatine sophs have beaten the Bronchos. Everyone is enthusiastic about the Palatine frosh team which lost 7-6 to Elgin after beating Crystal Lake. We are told that this is the team to watch, for the boys really love to block and tackle and appear to be the group to make the Pirate varsity a formidable unit a few years hence.

AROUND THE SUBURBS the narrowing down process is going on and the potential champs are coming to the front. In the Suburban League Proviso, Oak Park, and Niles are unbeaten and look good. Lake Forest, Warren, and Grayslake are pacing the Northwest Conference. Elgin whipped powerful West Rockford by four touchdowns in a convincing demonstration in the Big Eight but LaSalle-Peru is rolling along at just as tremendous a pace. LaGrange got by the big one in beating Maine by 2 touchdowns in the West Suburban but Arlington Heights and Hinsdale are still undefeated.

Crystal Lake, to this writer, looks like the North Suburban champ but there are a good many hurdles still to overcome before a title is nailed down and Barrington has a way of coming through when the chips are down. Last year they trailed Crystal Lake at the half 28-0 and then came back to win 30-28 and take the game and the league championship.

The Big 10 Conference proved Saturday that the league is head and shoulders above any other circuit in the nation in quality of football played this year. Michigan State and Michigan turned back California and Southern California Saturday while weak Northwestern (by Big 10 standards) beat Washington State. Iowa beat Texas Christian 17-0 and the losers have been picked as probable Southwest Conference champs. Ohio whipped Southern Methodist but had their hands full. Supposedly very weak Indiana was beaten by Notre Dame's touted national champs only 6-0 until the final seven minutes. Wisconsin beat Miami University by three touchdowns while both teams were rated by Sports Illustrated as being among the best 10 pre-season outfits in the nation. Purdue humbled Nebraska by four touchdowns and Minnesota lost a close three point decision to Washington on the coast. Illinois, on the upgrade, lost 18-14 to UCLA. Ohio State, Michigan State, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Michigan appear to be a cinch among the top 10 to 15 in the nation and the rest of the conference is strong enough to upset any of them unless they remain sharp every Saturday in the season.

BARRINGTON HAS A Quarterback Club which meets on Thursday evening each week of the football season, watches films of the previous games, and listens to the coaches discuss the varsity and soph games and other sports events of the week. This club donates money to defray the cost of filming the games and for refreshments served at the meetings. Films are taken both to inform and entertain the fans but more important to point up weaknesses in the play of the team and individuals which need to be overcome.

Such a club can be a great help to a coach and athletic squad or it can be a millstone around their neck. It all depends on whether the members of such a club are content to be interested and supporting spectators or second guessing assistant coaches.

The success Barrington has experienced over the years has been aided to a great extent by the keen interest shown in sports by the parents of the squad members. Parental interest and encouragement of a teen age boy in sports activities is a help for which there is no substitute. Barrington, we think, has more of this than other schools in the area in their size class. A turnout of 75 parents and fans to the weekly Thursday night Quarterback Club meeting is not uncommon.

Lincoln Edges Fairview In MP Lightweight Play

Lincoln found Fairview a real heads-up ball club in the Mt. Prospect lightweight division of the midget football program but still won, 13-6, in one of the week's highlights.

Bobby Payne scored twice for Lincoln from about the 30 with Denny Wilkinson tallying the point after touchdown.

Bill Phillips of Fairview scored his team's six points on a run from scrimmage. Tommy Clow was completing a 60-yard run when the gun ended the game, giving the victory to Lincoln, 13-6.

THE LIONS found easier going against Owens when Ricky Lynch ran 40 yards for the first score in the opening minutes of the game. In the second period John McAndrew made another dash for the second score with Lynch tallying the extra point.

Johnny Spooner went wild to score twice before the quarter ended and repeated again the next period.

In the third quarter Ricky Lynch intercepted an Owens' pass and scored as did McAndrew and the Lions had another six points. Spooner tallied again for the final total of 49 points.

DAVE MAHON carried the ball over for Owens as the gun sounded.

Sunset found it hard to stop Mike Mueller when he went over for three touchdowns in the first half with Packard scoring a point after.

Bill Leonard and Tom Willie gained another 12 points in the third period and a Bill Edgely to Mike Shanley pass brought home six points for Sunset in the fourth period.

Sunday's clash between the undefeated Lincoln squad and Lions should be a highlight in the lightweight division.

Sophs Roll On, Blank R-B, 27-0

Business was profitable, as usual, for Arlington's sophs last weekend.

Sparked by the running of Keith Voigt, the sophomores blanked host Riverside-Brookfield, 27-0, for their third straight win and second in conference play.

Voigt tallied two touchdowns and was a consistent ground gainer for Bill Beckman's unit which also turned in an outstanding defensive effort.

FULLBACK Tom Petrosino did the opening honors for his sixth touchdown of the season with a 1-yard plunge in the first period and Dennis Leonard kicked the extra point.

And that's the way the score stood until the Cards got busy with another impressive offensive drive. On the eighth play of the second period Keith Grams got the attack rolling with a six yard push to his own 46. Voigt followed with a dash to the R-B 39 for a first down and Petrosino skirted end for nine.

VOIGT PICKED up six for another first down to the host's 24, then Grams ground out 13 key yards to the eleven. Petro was caught for no gain but Voigt rolled for six to the five.

Grams blasted through for two and Petrosino got to the one from where Jerry Halverson, a reserve back who looked impressive in the contest, cracked over. Leonard's attempted conversion was no good this time.

Darryl Phillips gave the young Cards additional life three plays later when he recovered a fumble, and the boys went to work again, this time functioning swiftly on their scoring drive.

PETROSINO rambled 12 yards to the Bullpups' 34, and Grams got five to the 29. Exhibiting the speed opponents are becoming fully aware of, Voigt sprinted the remaining 29 yards for the score. Leonard Split the uprights and Arlington had a 20-0 half time lead.

Coaches Beckman and Bob Hoese put the reserves in for a good part of the second half after Arlington had countered at the outset of the third period.

Voigt brought the crowd to its feet with a sparkling 55 yard return of the opening kickoff of the second half, putting the ball on the Riverside 27, and seven plays later Keith cracked over from the six. Leonard's toe was accurate again and the Cards held on for the remainder of the contest to pull out an impressive 27-0 victory. (Sp

Second Annual Midget Football Pageant Oct. 8

The Mt. Prospect Midget Football Association will present its annual football pageant on October 8, 7:00 p.m. at the Arlington Heights high school stadium.

The program will include six midget football exhibitions, a midget cheerleader demonstration, and a special band music presentation.

THE MT. PROSPECT Football Association provides organized 8-man football for approximately 260 boys of ages 8 to 13 residing in the Mt. Prospect school district. In addition approximately 100 girls function as cheerleaders under the direction of the association's Ladies Auxiliary.

Funds to sustain the midget football program are obtained through the pageant games. Admission will be $1.00, and children accompanied by parents will be admitted free.

The Mt. Prospect Midget Football Association was organized last year by the Mt. Prospect Junior Chamber of Commerce, with 125 boys participating in the program. This year we have doubled in size increasing to two 6-team leagues. (Sp

Cross Country Teams Meet York Today

A double victory over Riverside-Brookfield was recorded by Arlington's two cross country squads Saturday afternoon with the varsity winning, 23-33, and the sophs, 21-34.

Ken Courter and Bob Taggart ran 1-2 for the varsity in the victory with Courter finishing in 9:41 and Taggart in 9:43 over the R-B course. Rich Wolden and Jim Glidden copped the top two spots for the frosh-sophs with Wolden 12 seconds in front of his teammate.

Arlington won both divisions of a meet at Elgin Tuesday afternoon. The varsity topped the Maroons, 20-43, with the sophs winning, 15-48. Ken Courter, was top man for the varsity, finishing three seconds behind the winner from Elgin, and Rich Wolden was first in the soph bracket. (Sp

TODAY (THURSDAY) the two squads will host York at Prospect high school in a meet starting at 4 p.m. York has a powerful varsity squad this fall, topping Downers, 17-45, and deadlocking a strong Maine unit, 28-all. York's sophs have a win and a loss in the WSC so far.

Also gaining spots in the top ten for Coach Russ Attis' varsity against Riverside were Chuck Phelan (5), Don Knoepfle (7), Jim Erickson (8), and Bill Dodge (10).

For the sophs Doug Vaughn finished fourth, Jim Hendricks gained a fifth, and Rog Luedke a ninth.

Coach Bob Meissner is starting a 100 Mile Club for the sophs in which each boy will tabulate his actual distance covered in practice and meets before the end of the season, Oct. 29, to see if anyone can gain "entry" into the Club.

Lincoln, Lions Still Unbeaten In Mt. Prospect

Lincoln and Lions remained undefeated in the Mt. Prospect Midget football league and Sunset rang up its first victory of the season last Sunday at Lions Park.

In the opening game Lions outclassed Owens, 35-0, scoring twice in the first period of a 3-yard plunge by Larry Bogart and 40 yard pass play from Phil Collins to Jim Hogarty, the latter tossing a lateral to Bob Lange.

Lions added two more touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the fourth. Bogart scored on a 20-yard sweep after faking a reverse. Collins and Hogarty then teamed up to score on a 50-yard pass play.

MIDWAY IN the fourth period the Lions had the ball on Owens' 20-yard line. Collins dropped back to pass and found Hogarty all alone in the end zone.

Undefeated Lincoln scored three times in the third period and went on to beat Fairview, 24-0.

The only score in the first half came when "Jug" Gerrard broke loose for a 60-yard scoring gallop. "Jug" took the opening kickoff in the second half, cut to his right and raced 65 yards for Lincoln's second marker.

FOR THE remainder of the third segment Lincoln operated out of a spread without the use of an offensive huddle.

Gerrard picked up 11 yards to the Fairview 37. On the next play Gerrard passed to end George Gaiser and Lincoln had a lead of 18-0. Lincoln's last TD came when Gaiser picked off another one of Gerrard's pitches.

Fairview quarterback Mike Phillips played an outstanding ball game as he mixed up his offensive plays beautifully.

SUNSET WON its first game of the year, squeezing past Central, 13-12.

The winners drew first blood on the first play of the second half. Tailback Dick Westergaard passed 35 yards to end Bob Koopman. Central came right back and scored on a 2-yard plunge by Jack Bley.

Sunset's winning score was set up when halfback Don Greco raced 52 yards to the Central one. Westergaard then plunged the remaining distance. Westergaard also ran for the deciding extra point.

Central scored the last TD of the day on a 38-yard pass and run, Jack Bley to Tom Haenisch.

Rand Park Dog Training Club Now in Tenth Year

Rand Park Dog Training club is in its tenth year of training, with the usual and welcome influx of beginning members and a most unusual and new special class for their advanced handlers and dogs.

The chief purpose of this nonprofit organization is to teach dog owners how to make their dogs better companions and more enjoyable pets through simple obedience training. The club hopes to make any dog owner realize the ease of having a well-mannered pet that can command respect in the home and neighborhood. Following this reasoning, 40 new members have started training their dogs in the beginners classes. Today it is probably impossible for these beginners to realize that many of their unruly and difficult dogs can be competing in American Kennel club sponsored obedience trials by year end.

Because of this growing interest in formal competition and the desire of many new members to continue their dogs' training, the club also conducts intermediate and advanced classes. All classes follow the routines and exercises prescribed by the American Kennel club for their sanctioned obedience trials.

THIS YEAR the club has added to its permanent curriculum a class designed entirely to train the handler to show his dog in formal obedience competition. This class is conducted by Stewart Fitz Gibbon, 10035 Margaret, Des Plaines, a licensed American Kennel club judge. This may be one of the first classes of its kind in the area, perhaps country. The results so far have been astonishing: three 199's, two 198½'s, one 198, one 197½, two 197's. A perfect score is 200, from which a dog is downgraded for even minor imperfections such as not sitting straight or sniffing other dogs. However, the greatest loss of points is usually through some simple failure on the part of the handler. This new class should help the dog owners avoid penalizing their well-trained dogs.

Newly elected officers of the Rand Park Dog Training club are: President, Wayne L. Smith, Northbrook; Vice President, Don Des Lauriers, Park Ridge; Treasurer, Chet Eriksen, Chicago; Secretary, Mrs. David Hoel, Skokie; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. A. H. Henriksen, Northbrook and H. E. Schroeder of Des Plaines continues as chairman of the board. Eric Paetsch of Des Plaines has been reappointed director of training.

Visitors are most welcome to any Tuesday night training session, conducted from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Rand Park Fieldhouse in Des Plaines.

Elmhurst Wins Fourth Straight Bi-State Tilt

The Elmhurst Travelers won their fourth Bi-State league game in as many starts Sunday, blanking Cudahy, 13-0.

A mighty Traveler defense which gave up only two first downs gave the winners enough ball control to spell the difference.

ELMHURST scored its first touchdown in the second quarter when it generated a 90-yard drive, Pat Albanese doing the honors from the one. Buzz Grady's try for the extra point was wide.

Don Busch caught a flat pass from Grady for the second Elmhurst touchdown.

Sunday the Travelers will meet the Racine Raiders in Bensenville on the Fenton athletic field and it will be a benefit game for the Fenton high school Booster club. Kickoff will be at 2 p.m.

Grid Contest A Challenge To Area Fans

Chicagoland football fans will be treated to a new test of knowledge of college football in a series of eight weekly contests sponsored by Sinclair Refining Company, with cash prizes totaling $50,000, it has been announced by H. L. Lussow, 407 Windsor, Arlington Heights, Sinclair's central division manager.

"The contests will be a true test of sports fans' knowledge of how the country's top college teams shape up," Mr. Lussow said.

THE EIGHT weekly tests beginning with games played on the weekend of October 11 calls for contestants to determine the winners and estimate the scores of each of 15 top college games of special interest to midwest fans.

Each week prizes will total $6,250 with 187 cash prizes in all. First prize will be $2,500; second $1,000 with $100 going to each of the next 10 winners, and $10 going to each of the next 175 weekly winners.

AREA FANS may enter the contest each week by obtaining a free entry blank at Sinclair dealers stations in the metropolitan Chicago area. No purchase is necessary. Because the cash prize contest is a local one, Mr. Lussow pointed out, it gives contestants a better chance of winning.

Entry blanks will be available at Sinclair dealers in Lake, Grundy, Kane, McHenry, Cook, DuPage and Will counties, Illinois, and in Lake county, Indiana. Contestants may enter all eight of the Sinclair college contests, Mr. Lussow said.

North Chicago Harriers Win Two Over Bisons

North Chicago scored a double victory over Fenton's cross country runners Friday afternoon on the Fenton course. The varsity Warhawks took coach Frank Novatny's boys into camp 18-43 (low score wins) while the sophs were victorious 15-35.

Tom Cheze with a third place finish put on the best performance of any of the Fenton runners.

JOE KRISTOF, captain of the star-studded Pabst Blue Ribbon team of Chicago's North End Traveling League, will appear at Beverly Lanes, 8 S. Beverly, Arlington Heights, on Friday, Oct. 3 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., conducting a special "Ladies Day." See story for additional information.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Schoolyard Not for Dogs

Now that the youngsters are in school, keep the family dog at home. Although it's only natural for the dog to want to continue the day-long companionship he enjoyed with the youngsters during the summer vacation, a school yard full of other children and other children's dogs is an ideal setting for dog fights and dog bites.

Bites aren't always intentional. Joining in the play, a dog may chase a running child and try to catch him by grabbing an ankle. Or, jumping for a ball, he may scrape a hand with his teeth or even knock over a small child.

So common are such cases that most communities have ordinances that prohibit dogs in school yards, but all too often the law isn't strictly observed. In some places, school custodians will hold dogs picked up or notify the dog warden and owners are liable for charges and boarding fees.

Even if there is no law, a school yard is no place for the family pet. Playtime for youngsters and their dogs should be at home and in their own yards.

Happy Hunting

That time of year is here again and just remember you hunters, your editor wrote about training that hunting dog many, many columns ago. If you have not done it by now you had better get going if it is to be a successful season.

If you have a new dog or just a pup, don't expect too much this late in the training season. If it is an older dog with just some of the rusty spots to be oiled up — then get going. A few workouts in the field will help the dog and yourself.

Doberman Pinscher Show

The 13th annual specialty show of the Doberman Pinscher club of Chicagoland will be held Sunday, Oct. 12, at the Suburban Transit System garage, 5800 W. 95th st., in Oak Lawn.

This show will be one of the top ones for this breed in the country and will bring some of the best Dobes out for judging in this annual event. There will be classes for all, including pups. The entry closing time was September 30. If what club officials predict comes true, you will see a large specialty show.

Wonder Collie

Writing about various breeds of dogs brings to mind a recent news release from WGN television about the most celebrated collie in the world. He was born in North Hollywood, Cal., the runt of his litter. All his brothers and sisters seemed destined for a life of blue ribbons, but he was undersized, with a head too wide for dog show standards.

The handsome white and gold Collie, famed as "Lassie" throughout the world in fiction, movies and television, stars as "Jeff's Collie" each Saturday on WGN-TV (channel 9) at 6-6:30 p.m.

While yet a pup, christened "Pal," he developed the bad habit of chasing cars, and was taken to Rudd Weatherwax and his brother, Frank, to be broken of this practice. At the end of a week, "Pal's" owner, finding the peace and quiet of his home so pleasant without the yapping pup, asked Weatherwax to keep the dog in exchange for the training fee of $10.

Weatherwax, who for years trained canines for motion picture work, started teaching the collie to sit, lie down, speak, retrieve, attack crawl, open doors and even yawn. This patient training was rewarded when a call went out from MGM for a canine star for Eric Knight's famous dog story, "Lassie Come Home." The dog won the coveted role over the 150 dogs tested.

During the collie's seven years at MGM, the dog earned a total of $264,000, which bought a home, yacht and airplane for Rudd Weatherwax, and plenty of dog biscuits.

The first TV program to star a dog was "The Lassie Show," broadcast every Sunday over a national network. Four of "Pal's" smartest offspring have been trained as stand-ins for the canine star. When it comes to sleeping and eating he has the best. This includes an air-conditioned kennel and his food which is a stew composed largely of beef. When either he or his stand-ins are working in a picture it is of interest to note that the food is then composed largely of raw beef, but when they are idle, cooked meat.

It was rather fitting that as part of National Dog Week, "Old Drum," the hound that inspired Senator Vest's famous eulogy to a dog 88 years ago, had his statue formally dedicated September 28 at Warrensburg, Mo. The speech has gone down in history as perhaps the greatest in pointing out a dog's loyalty to his owner.

Insurance Team Bowls 3029 Series, Advances to Third

Harold Nebel Insurance shot three good games Wednesday night of last week in the Beverly Lanes Classic league for a 3029 series. The keglers won all three tilts from Tinsley Bus by shooting 955, 1035 and 1039.

Three of the keglers passed the 600 mark, including Fred Kehe 656, Ray Meyer 628 and Whitey Hefferan 617.

The triple victory enabled the insurance men to move up to third place in the league led by Forest Glen Lounge. (Sp

IC Sophs Tip Lancers' JVs

Monday the Lake Park Jayvees dropped an 18-0 decision to the Immaculate Conception sophomore footballl team. The game was marred by costly fumbles and mistakes on the part of both squads.

Early in the first quarter, the Lancers had two punts blocked inside their ten yard line, but the stiff defense did not budge, and they gained the ball twice on the two yard line.

The second time they had the ball, the Lancers fumbled on the half yard line, and I-C took advantage of this to score their first touchdown. They followed with one in the second quarter on a 55-yard slant and a 60-yard pass interception in the fourth quarter. (Sp

Bowling Clinic For Women This Friday

Joe Kristof, captain of the Pabst Blue Ribbon team of Chicago's North End Traveling League, will appear at Beverly Lanes on Friday, Oct. 3, at 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Through the courtesy of the Pabst Brewing company, Tom Kouros, manager of the Beverly Lanes, has arranged for Kristof to conduct a clinic and give individual bowling instructions to all ladies in attendance.

KRISTOF, one of the country's finest bowlers, has averaged over 200 for the past 19 years with a high league average of 220. During his career he has rolled 21 300 games (two in succession) and has rolled one 300 game on live television. Joe has five 3-game series of 800 or more, the highest being 835. His top 10 game block is a resounding 2,691. Kristof holds the record-qualifying score in the Masters of 951 for four games.

Tom Kouros has not only arranged for a clinic for the lady bowlers but will also, at a later date, have Kristof back to appear along with Glenn Allison of the Pabst team for a clinic and instructions for the men bowlers. Watch your local newspaper for this announcement.

Remember, October 3 is for "women only" at Beverly Lanes. Therefore, Pabst Brewing company and Beverly Lanes cordially invite all lady bowlers to take this opportunity to improve their bowling scores and give their husbands some really stiff competition!

Fenton Frosh Rally Falls Short, 18-13

A first quarter pass which strayed into the arms of a North Chicago halfback who in turn ran it back for a touchdown, spelled defeat for the Fenton frosh gridders as they went down 18-13 in a game played Friday afternoon on the Fenton field.

There were a few bright spots in the cloud of defeat, however, as the middle of the defensive line manned by Dale Greco, Gary Wolf, and Frank Kolodziej was impregnable, backs Ron Folak, Don Adis and Dan Criel ran very well and quarterbacks Mike Phillibin and Phil Floring showed signs of becoming good passers.

NORTH CHICAGO led at the half 12-0 as a result of the first period interception and a 50-yard sprint around the Bison left side.

Fenton cut the lead to 12-6 in the third period on a 40-yard pass play which went from Phillibin to Terry Krase for the score.

The Warhawks struck right back on another long jaunt around end for their final six points.

After the next kick-off the little Bisons marched right down the field and speedy Don Adis went the last 21 yards on a reverse. Dan Criel plunged for the point and the game ended 18-13. (Sp

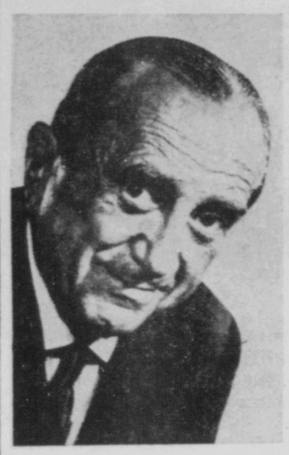
Winston Chosen UNESCO Member



NORMAN K. WINSTON

An internationally known builder, with three multi-million dollar developments in the Chicago area, has received another honor from the United States government.

Norman K. Winston, chairman of the board of Winston Park Northwest Corp., was appointed U. S. delegate to the tenth session of the general conference of UNESCO to be held in Paris Nov. 4 to Dec. 5.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave official recognition to Winston's appointment in Washington, D.C., and noted that this would be the first time a U.S. delegation to a UNESCO conference will meet with the country's national commission for UNESCO.

Dulles stressed the growing importance of UNESCO to the United States in the overall world picture when addressing the new delegates. Winston, who also is special advisor on trade fairs to the U.S. department of commerce, will take part in formal opening ceremonies of the new UNESCO building in Paris Nov. 3.

Winston recently returned from Europe where he conferred with building experts of several nations in efforts to help them with their housing problems. His latest local projects involved groundbreaking last week for the $9,000,000 Winston Park Plaza shopping center at 9th and North aves. in Melrose Park. This center will adjoin the Melrose Park residential development, Winston Park, constructed in 1955.

Another of his developments, Winston Park Northwest, is a $45,000,000 housing, shopping and industrial area in Palatine. Winston and David Muss, president of the construction firm, are considered pioneers in mass building projects. They have erected more than $750,000,000 in dwellings, office and shopping units throughout the country, Canada, Spain and France.

Industrial Council Has First Parley

Dr. Robert K. Burns, director of Industrial Relations Research at the University of Chicago, was guest speaker at the opening fall meeting of the Northwest Industrial Council September 17.

The council is an organization formed last year by industrial concerns from Barrington, Lake Zurich, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling and Des Plaines, to promote the general welfare of the area in which its members are located, and to promote cooperation on mutual problems and interests.

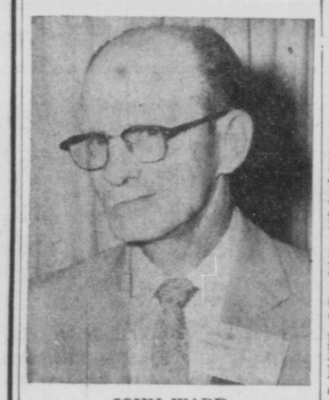
DR. BURNS GAVE A very stimulating talk on research, as it applies to management and industrial relations in industry, to the 45 members and guests present.

Officers elected for the coming year were F. S. Hintz, Cornell Paperboard Products company, president; J. S. Williams, Jewel Tea company, vice-president; R. J. Kempton, Ekco-Alcoa Containers, vice-president; A. L. Funke, Barco Manufacturing company, secretary and treasurer.

The next regular meeting will be November 19. (BB

Ward Named 25 Year Member



JOHN WARD

John E. Ward, 114 Flagstaff lane, Hoffman Estates has been elected to membership in Hotpoint Co.'s Quarter Century club. Ward, an inspector in the company's electric range plant, recently completed 25 years' service with the Chicago appliance manufacturer. In ceremonies at the club's annual dinner meeting at the Elmhurst country club, William C. Wichman, Hotpoint's chief executive officer, presented Ward with an electric wrist watch.

7 Graduate From Course In Insurance

Seven representatives of the Prudential Insurance Company's Palatine Office, 235 North Northwest Highway, have successfully completed integral parts of the training course set by the Life Underwriters Training Council in 1958, according to Manager, Henry C. Bauer.

Joseph A. Aguado, 212 S. Plum Grove, Palatine; Thomas Goebel, 7106 Beckwith st., Morton Grove, passed first year examinations; Paul G. Watson, 122 Glendale lane, Hoffman Estates, completed second year exams, thereby graduating from the course.

Samuel J. Abbinanti, 424 Bob-O-Link, Mt. Prospect; Thomas P. Drew, 1105 Phelps, Arlington Heights; William F. Mitchell, 5848 Main st., Morton Grove and John O'Brien, 310 North Carlyle, Arlington Heights successfully completed and were graduated from 1958 LUTC Accident and Sickness course.

The LUTC training program covers basic and advanced life insurance principals, and is one of the most respected in the life insurance industry. (BB

Prepaid Mail Penalty Set For Feb. 1

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced this week that the five-cent postage due penalty on all unpaid or insufficiently prepaid mail will be deferred again until February 1, 1959, to permit further study by the Department and to avoid possible confusion during the holiday mail season.

On July 17, 1958, the imposition of this five-cent shortpaid charge as applicable to unpaid and shortpaid mail was suspended to October 31, 1958, because new postage rates went into effect last August 1, and the department felt the public's lack of knowledge about them would create needless confusion.

"We believe this additional time will enable the American people to become more familiar with the variety of changes in the new postage rates and prevent penalties being imposed on innocent postal users who make honest mistakes," Summerfield said. (BB

Never Underestimate An Intelligent Rat

Why, despite intensive control measures, are there still so many rats? The answer is simple. Rats breed rapidly. They are crafty and hard to kill.

One explanation for the present day increase in rat numbers is that many rodenticides currently being used result in the destruction of the "easy-to-kill" rats but leave the smart ones to survive and continue to breed. These are the rodents that cause trouble; the marginal feeders who resist ordinary control measures.

Just what causes bait shyness in rats? According to the best authorities there are several factors. For example, bait containing a fast acting poison by killing a number of rats in a hurry arouses the suspicions of the hardier rodents and they stop feeding. Slower acting toxic baits are helping to solve this problem. Another reason advanced for bait resistance is that rats, like humans, want fresh food. Many prepared baits go stale on dealers' shelves; the natural oils turn rancid. Rats just won't eat such preparations.

Dr. Robert Gates, assistant director of research at Niagara Chemical division, has spent years studying these problems. Recently, with the discovery of a potent new chemical diphacinone, Niagara has introduced a rat and mouse bait that promises to overcome the objectionable aspects of earlier lures. The Niagara product is called Diphacin, and is named for its toxic base. It is pronounced "die-fas-in."

According to Gates, Diphacin kills rats and mice by destroying the white corpuscles in the blood stream. It works effectively, without arousing suspicion and usually results in a high percentage of kill in seven days or less.

Diphacin is formulated from choice, wholesome foods. It is vacuum packed in cans to retain its freshness and acceptability to rodents indefinitely.

Diphacin comes in one pound and four ounce sizes. These cans also have the utility of serving as feeding stations, thereby eliminating all need to handle the bait.

Start to Save Month Opens

Thousands of people will open savings accounts in October, during the observance of "Start to Save Month" by the 206 insured savings and loan associations of Cook County.

"While most people have a savings account, there are still many who have no cash savings to their name," said Paul E. Collins, president of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association, which is participating in the month-long observance.

" 'Start to Save Month' will prompt many to do something they've meant to do for a long time—but never started," Collins said. The observance is tied in with National Thrift Week, scheduled across the nation for October 19 to 25.

During October, the 1,500,000th savings account will be opened in one of the 206 insured savings and loan associations in Cook County.

Savings are expected to top the $3,000,000,000 (three billion) mark.

These savings provide two-thirds of the small-home financing in the county—more than the combined totals of all other lenders, Collins pointed out.

Dividends in these associations should reach a record $50,000,000 for the last six months of the year, Collins predicted. These dividends, or earnings on savings, will be paid on or near December 31.

The anticipated record six-month total tops the amount paid during the first half of 1958 by $2,000,000. It will exceed the total of the last half of 1957 by $8,000,000 and last year's first-half total by $12,000,000.

Manufacturers In Area Aid Shipbuilding

Illinois, leader in transportation equipment manufacturing, made major contributions in powering and lighting as well as dining and entertainment essentials, to the Moore-McCormack Lines, Inc., luxury liners, the S.S. Brasil and the S.S. Argentina.

Arlington Heights, Bensenville, Chicago, Des Plaines, Elmhurst, Evanston, Highland Park, Morton Grove, Mt. Prospect, Northbrook, and Skokie were among Illinois cities and communities supplying vital materials, parts and services to the propulsion and lighting of the two new liners as well as to their galley and moving picture equipment.

"Every community in America benefits from American shipbuilding our two-year study of over 1,500 purchase orders reveals," reported Mooremack's vice chairman, Admiral Robert C. Lee, who is in over-all charge of the company's ship program. "The orders show American shipbuilding creates jobs even during recessions. Our two luxury passenger-cargo ships cost more than $50 million. They are only part of our $400 million shipbuilding program. That in turn is only part of the $3,500,000,000 rebuilding program of the American merchant marine."

"Five hundred job classifications were listed by replying vendors. Replies indicated suppliers, subcontractors, and their suppliers, could add hundreds of job classifications in arts, crafts, skills, techniques and professions demanded in shipbuilding today. Communications, power and light, and transportation also furnished thousands of jobs in bringing shipbuilding products and services to places when and where wanted."

Wheeling or any other Illinois city of about 6,000 could light all of its homes with the electricity consumed daily by each of these 22,700 ton ships built by Ingalls Shipbuilding corporation at Pascagoula, Miss.

Arlington Heights contributed to making Minneapolis-Honeywell's pneumatic control systems.

Bensenville extruded plastics were used by the lighting systems made by Luminator, Incorporated.

Des Plaines plant of Luminator, Inc., shipped parts of lighting systems to Chicago.

Highland Park's contribution to construction of the Brasil and the Argentina came through Luminator's plant there.

Morton Grove's Crane Packing company supplied: packing for Copes Vulcan soot blower, furnished the liners by Robert H. Wager company, South Orange, N.J.; and miscellaneous materials to Minneapolis-Honeywell for its pneumatic control systems.

Mt. Prospect participated in making Luminator's lighting systems as did Northbrook.

Skokie's Wm. H. Nugent and company, Inc., supplied the ships with sight flow indicators that show the flow of liquid in a pipe line. Luminator, Inc., has a plant in Skokie which also is a material source for Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator.

Large, Small Businesses Depend Upon One Another

Large and small business firms depend on each other for their continued existence, Wyatte F. De Loache, midwest manager of the Du Pont Company's extension division, told members at the Arlington Heights Rotary club last Thursday.

"When small business takes punishment," De Loache said, "big business suffers too. If big business is singled out for special penalty, it can only work ultimately to the disadvantage of small business."

"In one sense, there simply is no such thing as a completely independent business firm," he explained. "Some are less dependent than others, but about the only business decision a firm can make today with complete independence, is the decision to go out of business. To stay in business, every firm depends upon others."

In describing the "incredibly complex and interdependent business community," the speaker showed how large firms handle big jobs and the smaller firms smaller jobs.

He pointed out that "we have a business establishment in this country in much the same sense that we have a military establishment, or a religious establishment, or an educational establishment. The business establishment is composed of millions of business units of different sizes. Each has a size best suited for the job that it does, and each is dependent on scores of other firms for its continued existence."

"Whether large or small," De Loache said, "business size is the result of function, of the size of the job to be done. . . We would never send a little tugboat to launch airplanes against an enemy beachhead, nor could we expect a giant aircraft carrier to maneuver safely for herself in a crowded harbor. Yet, each has a size which fits its function, and it is the same in the business world."

The speaker said corporations are big "only when big numbers of people are involved," pointing out how thousands of suppliers, customers, employees and stockholders pool talents and resources to do a job collectively that is so big no one person or small group could do it alone.

"The bricks which built the Empire State Building," he said, "are no bigger than the bricks in a five-room bungalow, although one has many more bricks than the other because of the difference in the size of the job."

As for ownership of the big corporations, "practically everybody in this country is a capitalist," De Loache said. "More than eight million Americans own stock directly in American business; even individuals who own no more than an insurance policy have a very real financial interest in one or more of the big corporations." 2,000 Travelers From Overseas Land at O'Hare

During the first month of operations at the O'Hare International airport, 2,019 passengers arrived in flights from foreign countries.

Altogether, 81 passenger planes entered the port, with Pan American Air lines leading with 32 flights carrying passengers from London, Shannon, and Frankfurt. British Overseas Airways corporation came a close second with 31 flights from Manchester and London. Trans World Air lines stopped at Rome and Paris with nine inward flights, and coming from South America with passengers from Rio de Janeiro and Caracas, the Brazilian International airlines made nine flights.

In addition to the passenger traffic, a considerable amount of freight was unloaded at O'Hare International airport, amounting to 967 pieces of cargo—tonnage was not ascertainable.

Other airline flights are expected at O'Hare airport depending upon obtaining ticket counter space and approachways. The lines who are ready with their schedule of foreign flights are Lufthansa German airlines, Air France, Compania Mexicana De Aviacion, S.A., and American Air lines.

Customs and other officials engaged in clearing passengers and air cargo at the federal headquarters reported that the recent construction work by the city is adequate and satisfactory.

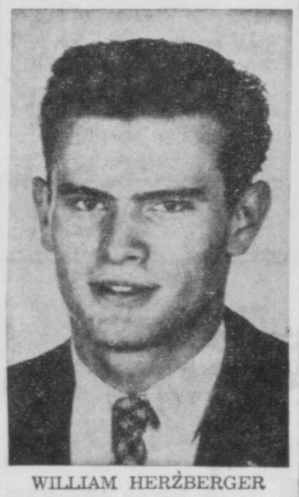
Hoffman Man Earns C.L.U. Designation

Lynn R. Weatherwax of 455 Bluebonnet, Hoffman Estates has successfully completed all parts of the C.L.U. study program set by the American College of Life Underwriting, according to O. F. Shadel, C.L.U. of the Prudential Insurance Company's Northtown office, 2716 W. Devon ave., Chicago, where Weatherwax is a staff manager.

Weatherwax has now completed the entire course and is entitled to use the coveted C.L.U. designation after his name.

The C.L.U. course covers basic life insurance principals, economics, law, wills and trusts, and general education. The C.L.U. designation is one of the most respected in the life insurance industry.

Addison Man Goes To Caracas



WILLIAM HERZBERGER

William H. Herzberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, 2N 431 Villa ave., Addison, has gone to Caracas, Venezuela, where for the next five to nine months he will be helping to install a 54 position toll board for the Cia Anonima Nacional Telefonos De Venezuela.

Herzberger is a student installer of telephone central office equipment for Automatic Electric company, Northlake, a major supplier to independent telephone companies. For the duration of this assignment, he is on loan to Automatic Electric International, Inc., an affiliated manufacturing and sales organization serving the foreign market.

A member of the Evergreen Park community high school graduating class of 1957, Herzberger became a trainee in the installation department of Automatic Electric a year ago. In March, 1958, he advanced to the title of student installer.

Prior to his current assignment, he worked in Coldwater, Mich., in connection with General Telephone of Michigan's cut over from manual to dial operation.

Local Man Joins Allstate

Marvin F. Johnson, 800 Dresser dr., Mt. Prospect, has joined the Allstate Insurance companies, Skokie, as claims director for Allstate's two newest lines of insurance, accident, sickness and hospitalization and life insurance.

Prior to joining Allstate, Johnson was associated with a Baltimore insurance company. He is an alumnus of the University of Baltimore and has a degree in law. From 1943 to 1945 he served with the U. S. navy.

Allstate initiated its sale of accident and sickness insurance in Texas and Oklahoma last month and is expanding the operation to Indiana and Kentucky this month. The sale of life insurance was launched last September and Allstate now has more than $60 million of life insurance paid for in 42 states. (BB

Completes Insurance Course

Donald R. Gokey, 811 N. School st., Prospect Heights, local representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance co., has returned from New York City where he participated in a two-week training course on advanced life underwriting techniques and practices.

Among the topics under discussion during the sessions were the newest developments in the field of estate planning for the conservation of both business and personal assets. Included was a detailed study of business life insurance for sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations, and for the indemnification of business concerns against financial loss resulting from the deaths of key men in the organization.

Gokey has had an outstandingly successful record in rendering service to policyholders. Recently he was appointed to the position of Metropolitan insurance consultant, in which capacity he will continue to be associated with the company's Gateway district office, at 5475 Milwaukee ave., Chicago. CHICAGO'S STATE STREET will be considerably brightened when these revolutionary street lights are turned on in early November. Much of the credit for the new system goes to John D. Weber (center), 418 S. Hi-Lusi ave., Mt. Prospect, who as a power service engineer for Commonwealth Edison company, has worked on the project from its inception. Weber says the new lights will be four times brighter than the present ones installed in 1926, and will spearhead the current national trend to re-light downtown U.S.A.

48-Star Flag Will Not Go Out of Date

The present American flag will not go out of style on July 4 of next year, the official date for adding Alaska's star to the existing 48. According to Science Digest for October, no matter how few stars an American flag has, it never goes out of style.

Executive order 2390, issued during President Wilson's term, states that "All national flags and Union Jacks now on hand or for which contracts have been awarded shall be continued in use until unserviceable." Thus, even serviceable 13-star flags can still be properly flown.

Of course, any flag that is tattered and worn should be "destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning," according to a 1942 act of congress.

Suburban Business Execs

The great business corporations now launching drives to interest their executive personnel in political matters to safeguard corporation and stockholders interests, would do well to begin now to ask their executive personnel to attend regularly scheduled political rallies in Chicagoland's suburban areas, says the Illinois Retail Merchants Association.

The appealing lack of interest in the 1958 political campaign comes, in large part, from the stay-at-home proclivities of business and professional leaders and their wives. When invited to attend rallies where candidates appear, these executives become conspicuous by their absence. They express, according to suburban party workers, no desire to waste time learning to know and evaluate the candidates.

This condition can only result in strengthening of party machinery; further inroads into the conservative strongholds of the suburban areas and in less and less desire on the part of substantial citizenry to go into politics.

These conclusions were expressed last night before a McHenry chamber of commerce audience at the McHenry Country club, which included a number of the suburbanite commuters, by Joseph T. Meek, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants association.

Revnes Is Among Top Young Men

Joseph A. Wisersky, 229 S. Walnut ave., Arlington Heights, was honored Monday, Sept. 22 at Allgauer's, Chicago, where he was presented with a 45-year service pin by the Illinois Bell Telephone co.

Wisersky is a PBX installer for the organization. Also present at the ceremony was Mrs. Wisersky, who was given a miniature Bell-telephone pin and corsage.

Shun Politics: Joe Meek

"I have been asked," Meek said, "to discuss the encroachment of government into business in general. It seems an idle subject to discuss when at the very core of the problem the executives most vitally affected shun local political rallies as though they were a plague."

"Hold a political rally" here or in the LaGrange area or in any part of the suburban area and the number of commuter-business executives present could be measured probably on one hand. Yet it is here where the big talk about corporations springing into the political arena must really get started. It is here that candidates get enthusiasm or feel the dull certainty of defeat. It is here that civic leaders, even as you, find out that their allegedly dauntless sacrifices really are of no concern to their fellow commuters.

"I wonder," Meek said, "how many of those who are teaching corporations such as Gulf Oil company and General Electric the facts of political life are now urging their student executives to get off their hindsides of a nice fall evening and journey down to the candidates' meetings right in their back yard. Politics begins with ones own candidates, at home. If the corporation executives won't patronize their own political meetings, if they fail to set an example for less fortunate citizens who might emulate their example for participation, we think their over-all program for political prominence is doomed to failure." Elected Greyhound Vice Prexy

CLIFFORD D. CHERRY

Clifford D. Cherry, 353 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, treasurer of the Greyhound corporation since November, 1957, has been elected a vice president of the nation's largest inter-city passenger carrier, it was announced last week in Chicago by F. W. Ackerman, president of Greyhound, following a meeting of the company's board of directors.

A native of Minneapolis, where he attended a four-year banking course of the American Institute of Banking while he was working for the Midland National bank there, Cherry also has had extensive experience in finance and industrial banking.

He first joined the Midland National bank in April, 1939, and held various positions with special emphasis on installment lending. He left in July, 1942, to serve as a navy pilot in the war.

Following military service, in December, 1945, Cherry joined Gamble-Skogmo, Inc. in their Minneapolis headquarters, where he served as regional credit manager. In this capacity he established several key regional credit offices, each covering several states, for this well-known Midwestern retail store chain.

In 1952, Cherry rejoined the Midland National bank as operations officer for its installment loan department. Three years later, in August, 1955, he became credit manager of the Dayton company, a leading Minneapolis department store. He resigned from this position on Nov. 1, 1957 to join the Greyhound corporation as treasurer, a position he will retain in addition to his newly increased responsibilities as a vice president of the company.

In Minneapolis, Cherry was active in the financial field. He was a member of the board of directors of both the Minneapolis Credit exchange and the Minneapolis Retail Credit association, and formerly was secretary of the Systems and Procedures association in Minneapolis.

He also took a deep interest in community affairs in his home city and was a member of both the Minneapolis Community fund and the United Hospital fund.

He is a graduate of North High school in Minneapolis and he received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Minnesota in 1948, following his military service.

With his wife, Ruby, and four children—Daniel 9, Darlene 7, Barbara 4 and Linda 15 months—Cherry has been a resident of Arlington Heights since December 3, 1957.

Asbestos Textile Display Opens at Science Museum

The expanding number of unprecedented uses for asbestos textiles—such as their heat-resisting contributions to the rocket heads and fins of the new space age missiles—are disclosed in a new exhibit which opened Thursday at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry.

Titled "The Story of Asbestos and Its Uses" and to be on display at the Museum for a year, the exhibit has been prepared by the Asbestos Textile institute.

So that the spectator may learn the complete story of asbestos, the exhibit takes him back to the prehistoric period when the earth's surface was still in upheaval and molten rock was being deposited in cracks deep in the ground to remain hidden and unused by man for untold centuries to follow.

Actual samples of the crude asbestos fibers and the so-called "blue" type of crude asbestos now being unearthed from those early deposits, as well as maps showing where they are located throughout the world, are also shown.

Tracing the later history of asbestos as civilization progressed, the museum visitor finds that the Greeks used it in making handkerchiefs, and the Romans for lamp wicks and cremation cloths.

Another of its early and more dramatic adaptations is portrayed in the disclosure that Emperor Charlemagne utilized it to win a reputation as a magician among his less-informed Dark Age cronies by pulling unburned sheets of it out of fiercely burning fires.

The section of the exhibit covering present utilization of the heat-resistant mineral demonstrates how asbestos is taken from both open pit and underground mines and how it is milled. A. production "flow chart" of a typical combined mine and mill operation is scheduled.

Its importance as a basic factor in the production of thousands of widely divergent items for the home, industry, and the armed forces is enumerated in a wide variety of colorful examples.

In addition to its best known function as a fire fighting and protection agency, these include examples of its use in acid resistance apparatus; air-conditioning; insulation coatings for high power cables; airplane fire walls; the sealing of gaskets in high-pressure steam engines for ships and locomotives; brake linings, clutch facings and transmission parts for automobiles and motor trucks; and the dryer felt-pads used in paper manufacturing

Mt. Prospect Firm Named For Kitchens

The D. H. Doane Co. has been appointed sales representative in Illinois and Wisconsin for the Commercial Kitchen Equipment division of the Gifford-Wood co., it was announced here today by Gifford-Wood. Headed by Harry Dane, the D. H. Doane Co. is located at 813 Dresser dr., Mt. Prospect.

According to Gifford-Wood, the appointment was made to intensify representation in this two-state area for the Gifford-Wood line of vegetable peeling machines and Unifryer automatic deep fat fryers. The D. H. Doane company has an extensive background in the field of restaurant equipment sales.

Doane, a former marine corps captain in World War II, is married, has three children, and resides at 813 Dresser dr., Mt. Propect. (BB

This opening will mark the first permanent packaging machinery display in the United States. For the opening and thereafter, actual packaging operations will be in progress on such items as polyethylene bags, stationery, candy, fertilizer, automotive parts, industrial parts, pottery etc.

A large attendance is anticipated by Edwin J. Griffin, president, from representatives of practically every industry which today uses packaging automation. (BB

Long Grove Man Upped By Firm

FRANK RILEY

Spencer Stuart and Associates Inc., international management consulting firm specializing in executive recruiting for industry, announced appointment of Frank Riley to its Chicago headquarter executive staff last week.

Riley, long associated with management consulting, research and engineering, is a specialist in technical industries. He will concentrate on domestic and foreign clients in automotive, aeronautical, chemical and similar industries, said Spencer R. Stuart, president, in making the announcement in conjunction with the firm's expansion program.

"Complexities of technological advancement in modern industry are a compelling force that stimulate need for such services as those provided by this firm through personnel of Mr. Riley's stature," Stuart commented. "Strong executive ability and technical competence are rarely found in one individual, making this phase of executive procurement difficult."

Riley, a resident of Mardan Estates, Long Grove, has an extensive background, including a MS degree in aeronautical engineering from the University of Michigan, and a BS degree in engineering from Georgia tech. He also completed graduate work in mathematics and physics at Cornell. Prior to this, he was graduate in liberal arts from Georgia Military college.

Assigned to air force engineering staffs as a lieutenant during the war, Riley completed military service in 1946. While pursuing the masters degree he also was an associate profesor, in aeronautical engineering and aircraft propulsion, at the University of Michigan.

His experience also includes directing research organizations and industrial management in the automotive and aircraft fields as well as several years of management and scientific consulting before joining Spencer Stuart in July, 1958.

Riley is a licensed professional engineer in New York and Illinois, and is a member of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

Native of Milledgeville, Ga. (born April 24, 1922), Riley and his wife, the former Dorothy Dixon, Buffalo, N. Y., have two sons, Thomas Frank, 9, and Michael John, 8. (BB

Suburbs Have 11,771 Teachers

County Superintendent of Schools, Noble J. Puffer, this week announced that the number of teachers employed in the suburban elementary, high schools and junior colleges, had risen from 10,028 in the school year 1957-58 to 11,771 teachers for the school year 1958-59.

In commenting on this large increase in the number of teachers, Puffer noted that just five years ago in the school year 1953-54, there were but 6,693 teachers.

More than 1,250 new certificates were issued this year, which is included in the over all total of 11,771. Ninety-eight junior college teachers were certified; 592 principal's, elementary and high school superintendent's certificates were issued; 3,373 high school certificates; 4,474 elementary certificates and 767 special certificates.

In addition, 1,244 provisional certificates were issued, which means that these teachers did not fully meet the minimum qualifications for a teacher. One hundred and three certificates were issued to teachers who took examinations, who had at least a minimum of two years of college work and less than a four year degree.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that at the high school level, men teachers out-number women teachers 1,652 to 1,521. In the elementary field, the ratio is 920 men to 4,184 women.

Superintendent Puffer said, "I think we are fortunate in having so few teachers who are required to take an examination at a time when there is such a great national shortage."

Of the 1,244 teachers certificated under Provisional Plan I, all have college degrees, but have less than 8 hours of college work in the field of education. They will continue to take graduate work until they have a minimum of 16 hours of educational courses.

He reported that the 1,251 new teachers certificated for the school year 1958-59 were distributed as follows: junior college 1 supervisory 52, high school 405, special 88, elementary 599, substitute 106.

"In view of the children now born and attending elementary school, whose number we know, it is quite evident that we will have more than 15,000 suburban teachers in our public schools by 1963," added Puffer. (B8

Broad Heads NU Alumni Committee

A Mt. Prospect man has been named co-chairman of a new special gifts committee of the Northwestern university alumni fund. He is Frank F. Broad, 518 South Pine.

The 40-man committee has been established this year to spearhead the annual Alumni Fund drive. It will hold its initial meeting Saturday in the John Evans Center. Purpose of the meeting is to chart a campaign of personal solicitation with the objective of increasing the number of alumni contributors in the leadership category.

Broad, assistant agency manager of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is an engineering graduate with the class of 1941. He has been long active in NU alumni affairs, having served as an officer of the Mt. Prospect-Prospect Heights Alumni association chapter, as a member of the NU Alumni fund committee, and co-chairman of Alumni day. (CC

Water Revenue Bonds, Series 1958

Dated July 1, 1958 Due January 1, as shown below

Bonds maturing January 1, 1966 to January 1, 1973, inclusive, are not subject to redemption prior to maturity. Bonds maturing January 1, 1974 to January 1, 1983, inclusive, and bonds maturing January 1, 1998, are redeemable at the option of the Commission, as a whole on any date, or in part on any interest payment date, on or after January 1, 1973, in inverse order of their maturity (less than all of a single maturity to be selected by lot) at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption.

Principal and interest (January 1 and July 1) payable at The First National Bank of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, or at the main office of The First National City Bank of New York, New York, New York. Coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, registrable as to principal only.

The First National Bank of Chicago—Depositary

Interest exempt, in the opinion of Bond Counsel, from Federal Income Taxes under existing statutes, regulations and Court decisions.

THESE BONDS, authorized to be issued pursuant to Article 81 of the Revised Cities and Villages Act, approved August 15, 1941 (Chapter 24, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1957), as amended, are payable solely from the revenues to be derived pursuant to contracts with certain municipalities and other purchasers of water from the Commission, and from the operation of its properties. Provisions have been made in the Ordinance authorizing the bonds for the payment of principal and interest after payment of operation and maintenance expenses and after providing for an adequate depreciation fund.

The bonds do not constitute an indebtedness of any of the municipalities represented by the Commission.

RONALD BECKER

Ronald W. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Becker, 1004 N. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training center, San Diego, Cal., September 26.

Becker, who graduated from Arlington high school in June, 1958, enlisted in the navy under the high school graduate program.

He is now home on a 14-day leave, after which he will be assigned to a special training school.

With Uncle Sam

TESTING, 1-2-3-4 — Captain Warren G. Petersen (right), 118 Prindle, Arlington Heights, and Capt. Erwin R. Novotny, Chicago, check a portable communications system prior to a tactical problem during their reserve unit's annual active duty training at Camp McCoy, Wis. Petersen, a Chicago attorney, recently returned with the 308th Civil Affairs/Military Government group from the Wisconsin post.

At San Francisco

Lt. Carl G. Melin, USNR, 307 S. Reuter dr., Arlington Heights, reported September 15 to the navy's military sea transportation service, Pacific area headquarters in San Francisco for two weeks active duty training.

Lt. Melin, who is employed by E. I. duport de Nemours, is a member of MSTS reserve company 9-15 in Chicago. His two week training course included visits to the various departments of the MSTS area command, briefings on ship operations and studying cargo procedures for MSTS ships.

The military sea transportation service is the ocean shipping agency for the department of defense and provides sea transportation for the army, navy and air force.

Through the MSTS reserve units and active duty training programs, reserve officers receive the necessary knowledge, skills, and techniques to take increasingly important assignments in MSTS in case of emergency.

AN OCCUPATION PROCLAMATION is checked by Capt. Eddie Deerfield (left), 117 Berkeley lane, Hoffman Estates, with PFC Jack Ruth. This was part of a simulated advance into enemy territory during a two-week encampment of the 308th Civil Affairs/Military Government group. Deerfield, a public relations account executive, also is public relations committee chairman for the Hoffman Estates Home Owners association.

At Millikin

James Hughes of Arlington Heights was pledged September 13 by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, one of the four national fraternities with chapters on the Millikin university campus in Decatur, Ill.

Jim, a 1958 graduate of Arlington high school, has entered his freshman year at Millikin, where he plans to major in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes, 6 W. Grove, are his parents

At Illinois College

William Roosen, 314 N. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect, was one of the Illinois college entering students who scored sufficiently high in the English placement examination given on the campus Monday to merit his admission to an advanced reading and creative writing class.

Out of a total of 149 students taking the examination, only 14 will register for this advanced class and thus be excused from the required basic course in composition.

Roosen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Roosen, is a 1958 graduate of Arlington high school. His major field of study at Illinois college, Jacksonville, will be social science. (CC

At Shattuck

Entering Shattuck school, Faribault, Minn., this year from Itasca is Richard J. Rizzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rizzo, 410 Linden st. He has been selected for membership on the "Badger" intramural athletic team and assigned to Company D in the ROTC unit.

Students entering for the beginning of the 101st year come from 27 states, Canada, France and Germany. (CC

Air Reservists Are Realigned

Realignment of squadrons assigned to the 9140th air reserve group, including the de-activation of the 9646th air reserve squadron of Elgin, has been announced by Col. Robert S. Hinds, group commander.

Reserve officers and airmen assigned to the Elgin squadron now are assigned as a flight to the 9647th air reserve squadron of Aurora. The flight at Rochelle, formerly administered by the Elgin squadron, has been reassigned to the 9625th air reserve squadron at Rockford.

The 9140th group, with headquarters at Des Plaines, now consists of five air reserve squadrons comprised of 20 flights of air reservists assigned for training.

The new alignment for the group is:

9624th air reserve squadron, River Forest, which includes three flights.

9625th air reserve squadron, Rockford, with two flights, also one flight at Rochelle and one flight at Dixon.

9631st air reserve squadron, Des Plaines, with four flights.

9647th air reserve squadron, Aurora, two flights; two flights at Elgin and one flight at Ottawa.

9648th air reserve squadron, Joliet, two flights, with one flight at Kankakee.

There are approximately 540 air force reserve officers and airmen in the 9140th group, which includes Cook county west of Cicero ave. in Chicago, and 16 counties in north and western Illinois, Col. Hinds said.

The Way We See It

Voters to Decide Two Bond Issues

Illinois voters will be asked to decide on two special bond issues November 4: $248 million for improvements in state mental institutions and universities, and $75 million for a Korean veterans' bonus. Let's take a look at the issues.

University Construction Needs

Growing population figures on a national and local level have been publicized so highly that they hardly bear reiteration here. The "Closing College Door" theme can scarcely have escaped any of us. The crisis is not only a result of a population boom, but a building backlog, resulting from the depression and World War II.

The 1957 legislative commission on higher education estimated that enrollment in all Illinois colleges and universities in 1977 will be approximately 344,000, or 141 per cent greater than in 1950. Six state institutions now enroll almost half of all college students in Illinois, compared with only one-third in 1946. At the University of Illinois' campuses last year, 27,317 attended classes, up more than 5,000 over the 1954 high. University officials estimate an increase to 54,600 by 1969.

One of the extremes of overcrowding can be seen in the College of Education, where an enrollment of 1,125 last year attended classes in 20 different buildings, including frame houses, portable barracks buildings, and basement rooms. More than half the college's existing space was in temporary facilities.

Such conditions cannot benefit the citizens of Illinois, and we heartily endorse a vote of "yes" on this issue.

Mental Institution Construction Needs

Packaged with the first proposal is a second, $81 million from the over-all $248 millions, for construction of better facilities at the state's crowded mental institutions.

The 48,000 mentally ill and retarded now in state institutions constitute a larger number of persons than reside in each of the 78 smaller counties of the state. These great numbers are crowded into buildings which in some cases have been labeled "unsanitary firetraps," and more than half the buildings are from 50 to 115 years old.

Judged by minimum standards of the Illinois department of public health, the institutions are about 42 per cent overcrowded, housing 11,000 more mentally ill and 3,000 more mentally deficient persons than they should. Some 1,200 children now needing care have been placed on a one to three-year waiting list for admittance to the institutions at Dixon and Lincoln.

The public welfare commissioners, under whose jurisdiction the state's mental hospitals are placed, have stated that many of the department's buildings constitute grave safety and health hazards. Some buildings, originally intended for temporary occupancy, have been in regular use for more than 20 years. This situation tends to aggravate the mental conditions of some patients, to impede progress in treatment programs, and to make it difficult to attract and retain personnel needed for direct patient care and treatment. These factors cause longer hospitalization, leading to more expense to the taxpayer.

The Illinois Society for Mental Health reported recently that at Galesburg and Manteno hospitals patients were so crowded some had to sleep on the floors, and that overcrowding not improvement, was the major factor in the rise in the release rate in recent years.

The society pointed out that the number of mentally ill is enormous. One out of every five Illinoians will be treated for a mental or emotional disorder, and there are more mental patients in hospitals than those with other illnesses, a spokesman said.

Again, we urge a vote of "yes" on this issue.

Korean Veterans' Bonus

The Korean veterans' bonus issue will also be settled November 4, when voters will be asked to approve or disapprove an expenditure of $75 million to be distributed 295,000 ways.

A bonus would be paid to veterans who were on active duty at least 60 days from June 27, 1950, to June 27, 1953, and would be computed at the rate of $10 for each month served. Holders of the Korean Service medal would be granted an additional $100, making a maximum of $460 and a minimum of $20 possible. Survivors of those who died because of service-connected disabilities incurred in the three-year qualifying period would receive a flat $1,000.

We recommend a "no" vote on this bond issue, not only because of the cost involved, but also because of the distribution of the bonus. Only 60,000 of the 295,000 actually served in the fighting area. Assuming their length of service would average about the same as the others, these men would receive only $2.70 out of every $10 of bonus money, and the families of the 3,000 servicemen who lost their lives would receive only 48 cents out of every $10.

A Chance to Rescue Them

JPs Declare War On Court Reform

It's Justices of the Peace versus civic forces in the fight over the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment.

While the proposed amendment provides for comprehensive modernization and streamlining of Illinois' antiquated court system, the JPs, supported by police magistrates, constables, and political cronies in the "court-house crowd" are focusing their efforts to kill the proposal on two issues:

1. Will local municipalities continue to receive revenue from fines and penalties if the Amendment is adopted?

2. Is elimination of Justice of the Peace and Police Magistrate courts, as provided b ythe Amendment, a blow to local home rule?

THE JPS HAVE purchased a $10,000 printing press to flood the state with propaganda seeking to spread fear on these two issues.

The Committee for Modern Courts, coordinating the support of more than 60 business, labor, farm, religious and civic organizations, calls the JP tactics "deliberate distortion intended to deceive and confuse voters."

Samuel W. Witwer, who led successful Blue Ballot campaigns for the Gateway Amendment in 1950 and the Reapportionment Amendment in 1954, made the Committee's position clear this week in a debate with JP Francis Berg of Riverside.

Witwer made these points:

—Local municipalities will have more — not less — revenue from fines and penalties if the amendment is approved.

—Home rule is a phony issue that has nothing to do with courts. Justice should be rendered fairly and equally on the basis of law, not on the basis of friendship, neighborliness or local politics.

THE JUDICIAL Amendment, to be voted on at the November 4 general election, would abolish JP and police magistrate courts. In their place would be salaried local magistrates, appointed by the Circuit Court.

The JPs argue that this would give politicians control over local JP processes. Witwer replies that the office of JP is politically dominated now but would be less so under the new system.

"The JPs are fighting for their lives, using gross distortion to scare people." Witwer charges in pointing out that the amendment will result in significant economies in the operation of the Illinois court system.

JPs have recruited many local officials to their side by warning that revenues now going to municipalities will go to the state if the amendment passes.

Legal authorities say this is untrue, that the amendment has absolutely no effect on the disposition of fines and penalties which must continue to go to local governments, according to existing statutes.

WHILE THE JPs hold superior political power, despite the endorsement of judicial reform in the platforms of both political parties, the impact of more than 80 local citizens committees is beginning to be felt.

In addition, a split in the JP ranks, resulting in the organization of "JPs for the JA" — Justice of the Peace for the Judicial Amendment — has been a disturbing factor.

The supporters of the amendment plan to utilize the authoritative study, released recently by the Illinois Traffic Study commission, revelaing corruption and connivance in the operation of the JP fee system.

THE REPORT charged:

—that Justices of the Peace and Police Magistrates in some counties are pocketing fine money, causing losses in revenue to the state and local governments that are "astronomical."

—that deals between JPs and police in which the JP makes rulings favorable to the prosecution in order to assure a continuing flow of fees for hearing traffic cases brought to him are routine in many parts of the state.

—that the reports, required to be filed with states attorneys by all JPs, are often incomplete and conflicting — and some JPs don't file at all!

—that JP justice is an "official, illegal, and intolerable game of bingo."

These exposures indicate clearly the self-interest of JPs in trying to kill the Judicial amendment, Witwer declared.

Now: Male Sopranos!

Men: you too can sing opera with a soprano voice. Even the most masculine, black-haired, muscular brute can sing with the high pitch of the frail soprano. It merely requires getting rid of one's inhibitions.

This is the opinion of several British music teachers who are at present offering lessons in voice. This somewhat unusual idea originated with a German, Alfred Wolfsohn, now a resident in England and considered the "Freud" of the singing world.

The fact that men have low voices, states this group of musical heretics, is because they weakened to the forces of environment where "the lower the voice, the more the man."

HAD THEY BEEN raised in a community where he-men have soprano voices, their reasoning goes, a bass voice would be a comical rarity.

This, therefore, offers the singing truck driver a chance to be a lyric soprano. He can take lessons with any one of these several teachers and—if his interest lies in that direction—possibly become the world's first opera singer with a voice like a canary.

Rewards from such vocal lessons are not limited to men. Fortunately, these teachers assure us, women can benefit, too. With extended training any dainty bird-voiced little lady can eventually bellow out with bass tones that will make tables and chairs tremble.

HOW DOES ONE train the voice for this accomplishment? The "psychological approach" is used, complete with couch. One doesn't bother to sing, one merely gets rid of inhibitions. Toward the completion of the course, the truck driver one day opens his mouth and discovers a soprano voice.

Two of these teachers were interviewed and asked how business was going.

"Poor," they replied with a sigh. "The public isn't ready for us yet. We are too far ahead of the times."

The Bible Does Not Endorse Segregation

by WILLIAM McGILL

No small part of the segregation dispute has involved a conflict within the churches as to whether or not the pattern of the South is prescribed, described or proscribed in the Bible. Since the degree to which life is governed by the Bible is said to be a great deal more complete in the south than in the north, this has created quite a stir.

A new book, "Segregation and the Bible," attempts to answer the Biblical basis of the conflict. It is by Everett Tilson, a Methodist minister, who teaches in the school of theology at Vanderbilt. He cites a part of the side which believes this to be right and proper:

"Segregation predates the known history of the world. God was the original segregationist."

or

"While the Bible contains no clear mandate for or against segregation as between the white an dnegro races, it does furnish considerable data from which valid inferences may be drawn in support of the general principle . . ."

BUT THIS BOOK is not a study of segregation; it does not review the achievements of any race, it does not discuss the morality of segregation or integration; it talks about the principles of interpretation. In its way, this can be devastating.

There are certain key passages to which the segregationists draw attention, the account of the Hamitic curse (Genesis 9: 18-29), the confusion of tongues at Babel (Genesis 11:1-9); the ban on mixtures (Leviticus 19:9), and the plea for purity, particularly in Ezra-Nehemiah-Chronicles.

Then he suggests that the first principle of reading the Bible is to read it as it is. In the Leviticus quotation, for example, the mixture of animals of kind or breed is forbidden, as is the sowing of different seeds in the same field, or use of different fabrics in a garment.

REASONABLY, THIS would mean that the Old Testament people should not have used mules, but they did. It would, in the contemporary age, rule out hybrid corn, a dacron-wool suit, or a Holstein cow. It says nothing about people, and can hardly be called a Divine sanction for segregation. And it ignores the command in the same chapter, "The stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself."

More clearly, in the curse against Ham, he shows the hidden assumptions which are made. Noah was drunk, after the flood waters receded, and he cursed Ham. But the curse, to sanction segregation, must be viewed as God speaking through Noah's debauch. It is not just Ham who is cursed, but all of his descendants through a particular son. There is no historical evidence that could be adduced to such a curse for at least two thousand years after the event. To cap it, there has to be some tricky playing with words and meanings to tie Ham and his family to a negroid race.

THE PLEA for purity, in the post-exilic period, is always a plea for religious purity in marriage, never is it suggested as racial. To use it sociologically overlooks the plain fact of mixed religious marriages in the Old Testament. Some of the Biblical names involved in marriages which ignored the plea — either as partner or offspring — include Abraham, Moses, David, Solomon, Jesus of Nazareth.

Whatever may be thought of segregation, there is no Biblical evidence, in the view of this southern teacher of the Bible, to support a Divine ordinance regarding segregation. There is a great wealth of evidence on the other side.

Does Your Dog Need Hearing Aid?

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Does your dog need a hearing aid?

Dogs of the Austrian police force that become hard-of-hearing due to the rigors of duty are now given electronic hearing aids. In this way it becomes unnecessary to discharge such an animal from duty.

Because of this rather unusual canine medical service and its announcement to the public, civilian dogs have already been equipped with a few.

THE TRAINING of a dog for police work, states the concerned authorities, costs considerable time and money. Hearing aids might add years onto the service of some animals. The program is still officially classified as experimental, although well advanced.

How does one know when a dog's hearing fails or becomes weak? Since the dog is unable to mention the fact, certain signs are noted by policemen.

An animal that adopts the habit of barking louder than usual, for instance, is suspected of a hearing defect. But inalertness on duty is more usual. Even a greater tendency toward sleep is a sign.

Police veterinarians explain that the use of a hearing aid by a dog involves two main problems. The first concerns the physical irritation of the device itself upon the ear.

This has been overcome by using an electronic plug in each ear, even if only one ear is weak. There is then a physical balance, something comparative to a collar, that the dog can more easily learn to accept. A single weight on one side of his head would most certainly be pawed away.

THE SECOND problem concerns the volume control. Discovering at what point the volume should be fixed requires a brief field test.

A Viennese hearing-air company has grabbed at this opportunity of free publicity and sent a circular letter to dog owners. The advertisement concludes with a depressing thought: "Masters, the saddest thing in the world is a dog who can no longer hear himself bark."

Sidewalk Plan?

It was with interest I viewed the "Pedestrian Paradise" planned for downtown Arlington Heights. That our trustees have engaged village planning consultants is gratifying. Now maybe we can read in your paper all about the "over-all sidewalk plan" the trustees are alleged to have.

April, spring and possibly a new administration is just around the corner. Before this "over-all sidewalk plan" gets lost in the hustle and bustle of campaigning, it seems only fair that residents who have put in time and money installing sidewalks on the approaches to some schools, should be informed when they can expect sidewalks on the approaches to schools attended by their children.

Reform Overdue

The present system of courts in Illinois is antiquated to an extent that is surprising for one of the nation's important industrial states. The system is "jerry built." Courts of concurrent jurisdiction exist side by side with no relation of one to the other. The proposed reorganization would bring to Illinois courts an organizational structure and system paralleling closely that of our Federal Court system and that of several of our sister states. The single fact alone that at the lower or trial level some system will be brought out of the present chois by centering all trial level activity in the Circuit Court seems to me to warrant adoption of the amendment.

The principal argument I have heard and seen raised by my friends who oppose the amendment is that some degree of "home rule" would be lost and that the present "fee system" helps to defray the cost of local justice.

The "home rule" argument has an appealing sound, but it is misleading. This argument may be sound and valid when one is speaking of legislative matters, but it is a wholly inapplicable argument when applied to judicial matters. The argument is based on the theroy that, as it is usually put, local justice should be "responsive" to the local electorate. This is a wrong concept of justice. Justice should be responsive to the law and only to the law. It is exactly to remove justice from the area of "responsiveness:" to local obligations, associations, friendships and the like that judges in many jurisdictions (including our federal system) are not elected at all—but are appointed, and it is for this same reason that in most jurisdictions a judge disqualifies himself from hearing a matter when it involves a local or personal situation in which it might be said that he has an obligation of "responsiveness."

The "fee system" is so universally condemned that it is surprising that it still finds defenders. It must be apparent that the effect of the "fee system" is to encourage litigation and to affect directly the finding and the penalty. It is another form of payment on a "piece-work" basis, or, to equate it to legal terms, a "contingent fee" basis. While these may be proper methods of paying a workman who is interested in taking home as much pay as possible, or a lawyer employed to represent, in an openly partisan manner, one side of a controversy, it is hardly the method to be used in compensating a person whose function is the unbiased hearing of a controversy.

This court reform is long overdue; I hope that we will not miss this opportunity of effecting it, by voting "Yes" on the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment on November 4.

Irrefutable Truth?

"Rabid . . . 1. Furious; raging. 2. Going to extreme lengths in giving vent to a feeling or opinion; fanatical; as, a rabid socialist. 3. Of, pertaining to or affected with rabies." Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, G & C Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass., 1949, P. 696.

It seems to m that having a "rabid Republican" undertake the job of giving the true political picture is actually ludicrous. She could hardly be called a competent judge. In fact, I doubt if anyone would expect her to even recognize any truth which conflicted with her preconceived notions.

I have no objection to Mrs. Chapman's using the "freedom of the press' to give vent to her feelings. She should not, however, have attempted to disguise it as a statement of irrefutable truth.

In light of this, our "rabid Republican's" attack on Paddock Publications seems incongruous.

I like many others, certainly hope Paddock Publications keeps up the good work. I venture to say that very few of the general public would deny it the right to publish an editorial opinion.

Similar Problem

We read with interest in a June issue of the DuPage County Register your article with reference to the problem Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kudsk were having on their property due to a broken drain tile on which no one would take the responsibility to have repaired.

We have a similar problem on our property due to a broken drain tile, and to date it has resulted in the damage of approximately 50 Chinese Elm trees which surround our property. We have talked to the road commissioner with reference to our problem, but he denies that there is any drain tile around. However, it seems quite obvious that the constant pools of water which remain on our property can be from no other source.

We, the same as Mr. and Mrs. Kudsk, are "STUCK" with this annoyance as it appears there is no one other than ourselves who will be able to solve this problem, and we are still not sure how we can.

Radio Show Set For Cumberland

Famous radio personality Cliff Johnson, whose family breakfast program was heard for many years over Chicago radio stations and on the networks, will bring his "Kaffee Klatsch" radio program to Cumberland Village, just south of Mt. Prospect, Friday.

Kenneth N. Plencner, president of First Federal Homes, stated that Johnson's program will be broadcast at 10:05 a.m. Friday over WLS.

The show will consist of interviews with homemakers living in the Cumberland Village development and will be broadcast from the living room of a resident of that area. (B8

Tickets Sell Quickly for Jazz Concert

Tickets are going fast for the Dixieland jazz show scheduled to be held at the Barrington high school gym Thursday, October 9 at 8 p.m.

Toni Lee Scott, well known jazz vocalist, will be among the main attractions at the show which will feature Bob Scobey and his "Frisco Band."

SPONSORED BY the Mothers' club of Barrington Countryside school, the show is to be a benefit for the school and the proceeds are to be used to buy reference books, scientific and library equipment, and to supplement the band program. A portion of the funds will be used to provide a Teachers Scholarship fund and to help pay the salaries of the art and drama teachers, according to Mrs. James Beda, chairman of the affair.

Tickets, while they last, may be obtained at a $1.50 for general admission and $3 and $5 for reserved sections at Arlington Heights Music store and Olsen's Music Store in Palatine.

IN ADDITION to Toni Lee Scott, Bob Scobey's band will also feature Dave Black, reputed to be one of the world's greatest drummers and Clancy Hayes, the most recorded jazz singer in America.

Del Clark, well known disc jockey from WJJD will be Master of Ceremonies. (Bill

Everyone Needs A 'Quiet Time'

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXEL

In our modern hurly-burly rush-and-run economy, quietness is hard to obtain; yet it is amid quiet surroundings that much of the really creative thinking is done; and it is in moments of quietness that the human spirit can most readily commune with God.

One of our most disturbing experiences in life is the daily competition necessary to make a living. Competition which in the days of knighthood was a matter of challenging the other fellow for the hand of a fair lady, or going off to fight with some other knight to avenge an insult, today involves a struggle for the survival of the fittest in the business world. In those days it was a man's blood that was shed; but today competition which does so much for the life of trade, and the stimulus to new or better products coming on the market, also causes ulcers, high blood pressure, and bad hearts.

BUT COMPETITION is not the only cause of sickness. Fear, resulting from an inferiority complex, unforgiven sins, failure to live up to moral standards and similar causes, can also cause sickness. The need for an hour or more of quietness each day devoted to communion with God, creative thinking and prayer is as necessary for mental and physical health as the need to eat to keep alive, or sleep to renew the body. The words of Christ, that man can not live by bread alone, are evidenced in the lives of men and women spent in fear, hatred, or jealousy leading to ill health.

A block from my home in Park Ridge is a church, the doors of which are open day and night. Those who take advantage of this open door to "wells of living water," no doubt find in the quietness a suggestion of the nearness of God, and I like to think that many have found faith, help, and forgiveness in quiet communion with God in that church.

TAKE TIME OUT for an hour alone each day. Think, or meditate, pray or simply sit in silence, and open your heart to the inspiration of God. If it frightens you, as several people have told me it does, then you need to pray; but in any case, quietness can work a change in your life that can make you stronger, more confident, and more relaxed.

It is an experience that can do you infinite, perhaps eternal good.

Suburban Newsmen Tour Nuclear Power Station

Work on the Dresden Nuclear Power station has now passed the half-way mark, J. Harris Ward, executive vice president of Commonwealth Edison company, told Paddock Publications last week.

Ward told two newsmen, prior to a tour of the $45 million project, that the plant will be in regular operation some six months ahead of the scheduled completion date of Dec. 7, 1960. Tom Brennan, associate editor, and Ted Smart of Paddock Publications were his guests at the project.

"THE DRESDEN project, when completed, will be the largest nuclear plant in the United States — perhaps in the world. We realize that by the time it's completed it will be out of date, but we're not discouraged. This is a bold, pioneering project in a new field, the field of nuclear power," he said.

"We're fast approaching the point where possibly only governments can afford these mounting pioneering costs."

JOSEPH POER, manager of the Dresden project, showed the newsmen color slides of the mammoth undertaking, and explained:

Capacity of the station will be 180,000 kilowatts, sufficient to meet all the electricity needs of a city of 250,000 population. Its output will feed into the Edison-Public Service interconnected transmission system.

The outstanding feature of the plant is a 190-foot steel sphere which will house the nuclear power reactor assembly.

The 3,500-ton sphere was successfully tested last March when it was filled with compressed air to a pressure of 37 pounds per square inch, 25 per cent above the design pressure requirements.

WITH THE TEST completed, two large temporary openings were cut through the 1.4 inch thick steel to permit moving in material and equipment for installation inside the sphere.

The largest piece of eequipment to be moved in will be the 300-ton reactor pressure vessel. It is inside this vessel that the fissioning will take place. The vessel is being fabricated by New York Shipbuilding corporation at Camden, N. J.

It is so massive it must be shipped by water. It will be routed over the Atlantic and Gulf Intracoastal waterways to New Orleans and then up the Mississippi and Illinois waterways to the site. Delivery is expected late this year.

Inside the big sphere workmen are now installing concrete supporting and shielding walls at ground and upper levels. At lower levels they are putting in piping and electrical installations.

Inside the turbine room are being installed the main condenser, control boards and auxiliary equipment preparatory to the delivery late this year of the turbine generator.

The main switchyard to the north of the plant is nearing completion. From here five 138,000-volt transmission lines will carry away the power from the plant.

THE CONCRETE foundations for the fuel building have been built and structural steel is being erected. The first shipment of nuclear fuel, to be housed in this building, is expected next month.

Of the $45 million Dresden contract price, Commonwealth Edison will pay and capitalize as a regular part of its plant account $30 million plus something over $6 million of overhead and site costs.

The remaining $15 million is being paid as a research and development expense over a period of five years by the companies associated in Nuclear Power group. These are, in addition to Commonwealth Edison, American Electric Power company, Bechtel corporation, Central Illinois Light company, Illinois Power company, Kansas City Power and Light company, Pacific Gas and Electric company, and Union Electric company.

Construction work at the site is being done by Bechtel corporation, west coast engineering firm.

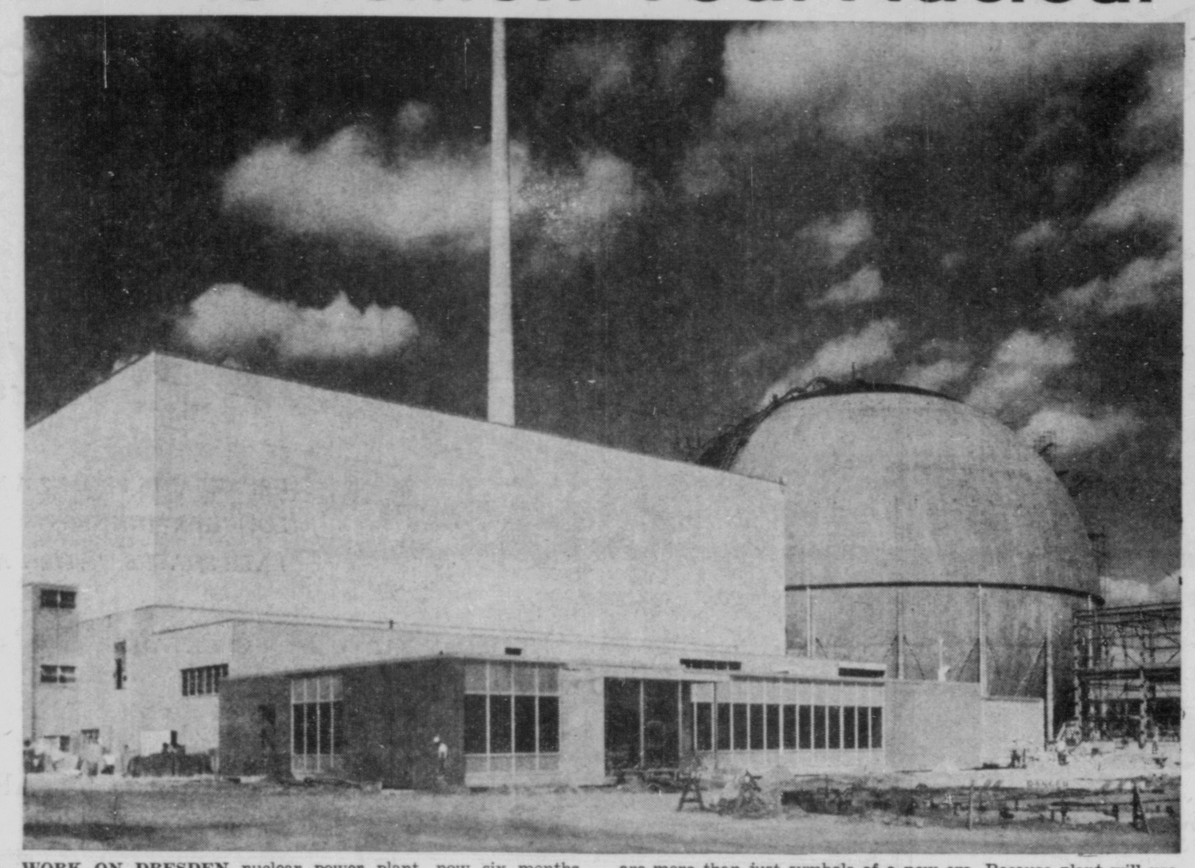
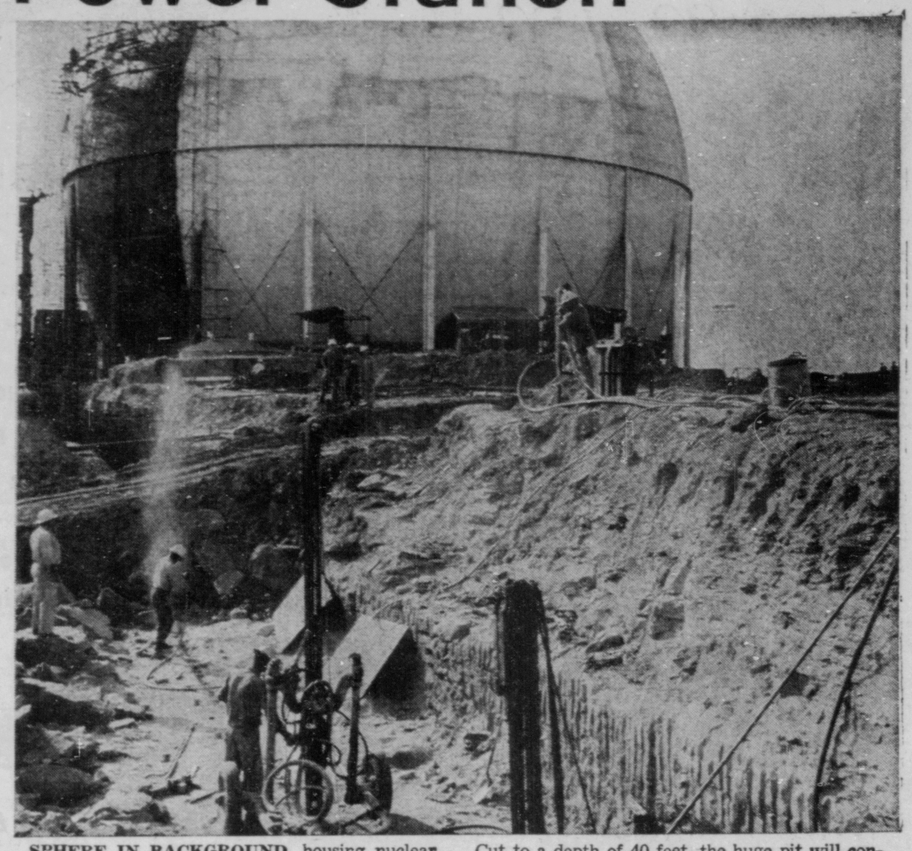
ON THE BASIS of the costs of something over $36 million which Commonwealth Edison will capitalize, it is estimated that the total power cost, including fixed charges, operating expenses and fuel, will ultimately approximate three-fourths of a cent per kilowatt-hour. This is about the same as the cost of power produced by the company's coal-fired units.

The three-fourths of a cent figure does not take into account the $15 million of research and development expense. Neither does it take into account the probability that General Electric's cost of the plant will exceed the $45 million contract price.



WORK ON DRESDEN nuclear power plant, now six months ahead of schedule, pushes ahead. Huge sphere and towering stack remind visitors of New York World's Fair of 1939, but are more than just symbols of a new era. Because plant will use nuclear rather than conventional fuels, stack will not emit smoke but vapors. Sphere is from 1¼ inches to nearly 1½ inches thick.



SPHERE IN BACKGROUND, housing nuclear reactor, is a constant reminder of radiation dangers. Here workmen drill a half-acre from the limestone bedrock to store radioactive waste. Cut to a depth of 40 feet, the huge pit will contain steel tanks which will contain minerals and resins from the water circulating in the atomic pile.

Betsy Zimmerman Is Bride of John Luther

In a seven o'clock garden wedding August 30 Miss Betsy Ann Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zimmerman of Wheeling, and John Luther, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Luther of Libertyville, were united in marriage. The double ring service was held in the garden of the bride's parents' home on Sixth st. with C. J. Carlton officiating.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Wheeling Amvet hall after which Mr. Luther took his bride on a week's honeymoon in Wisconsin and Michigan.

The bride chose a white silk shantung gown fashioned along princess lines with ballerina-length skirt and chantilly lace trim at the scooped neckline and at the hipline. Her headpiece was of silk and lace and held a fingertip veil. Amazon lilies and stephanotis made up her bridal bouquet. Mr. Zimmerman gave his daughter in marriage.

LIGHT BLUE taffeta princess gowns were worn by the bride's three attendants. Rings of pearls held their veils and they carried peach colored gladioli bouquets. Miss Carol Zimmerman was her sister's maid of honor and the bride's cousins, the Misses Nancy Thoma of Wilmette and Sharo Thurk of Appleton, Wis., were bridesmaids.

The bride's mother selected a turquoise sheath dress while the bridegroom's mother chose a silk shantung sheath. Both mothers wore pink gladioli corsages.

Leonard Vohasik of Mundelein was best man and ushers were David Zimmerman of Wheeling and David Carlson of Lake Villa.

The new Mrs. Luther was graduated from Arlington high school and her bridegroom from Libertyville high. Mr. Luther also attended DeKalb. Both young people are employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Mr. Luther in Northbrook and Mrs. Luther in Arlington Heights.

How to Use a Dog House

There are all kinds of rule books and manuals for all sorts of things. The Bluejackets have a manual and, I presume, so do all the other kinds of jackets. Like khaki jackets, airforce blue jackets and dress white jackets.

I am in favor of putting out a manual for wives. It shall be titled, "How To Put Father In The Doghouse — and Keep Him There Until He Sees the Light." Which is a rather ungainly title and could be shortened down to "Off With His Head," or, even more simply, "MEN!"

I have done a little research on the subject and have, besides, quite a lot of personal experience to draw from. My method is definitely for the active and snappy group. I get cross so then I get pretty speedy. Dashing around the house like a dervish, I whirl and spin slamming doors, dropping dishes meanwhile keeping the lips clamped together in a grim line. It takes hardly any time at all before the family, including the elder male, gets the idea that all is not right with mammy.

After a time, someone is bound to ask me, whatever is the matter? This is the time for the brief answer ground through clenched teeth, "Nothing." Of course, they all realize this is a flat lie so they keep after me while mentally going over their sins of commission and omission.

When it begins to look as though the guessing game is beginning to pall, I break down and let them, or him, have it with both barrels. Then the air clears and sweetness and light enter. The doghouse is put away for later use and usually it is my turn to enter it next.

The silent treatment is by far the best. It helps if you can manage to look martyred most of the time. Raise the eyes to heaven as if calling on all the powers of the universe to witness the terrible lot that is yours. No one can stand feeling like a brute for long. Except a brute.

Then there was a five foot tall woman who tied her 6 foot 5 inch husband to the bed as he snoozed and then beat him with his own belt. He had transgressed mightily. I do consider this method of showing pique a little drastic, but then I'm taller.

Mothers' Tour

The Mothers club of St. Patrick academy in Des Plaines, will have a furniture store four in Chicago Thursday, Oct. 2, at 1 p.m. Twenty-five women are required for the tour and all members and their friends are invited.

David Nesset Marries College Sweetheart

A ceremony in which two doctors saw their children united in marriage was performed August 31 in Central Lutheran church of Winona, Minn. David Nesset, son of Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Nesset, 300 W. Dundee, Palatine, took as his bride the former Solveig Lokensgard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Lokensgard of Winona, in a setting of bouquets of white gladioli and mums.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the bridegroom's uncle, Rev. Robert Kompelien, and the bride's cousin, Rev. Orwoll Anderson, at 8 p.m. Music for the candlelight nuptials was furnished by David Boe of Menomonee, Wis., and soloist was Chris Michelsen of Sand Creek, Wis., who sang "O Jesus Joy of Loving Hearts" and "Lord Jesus Christ Be Present Now."

ATTIRED IN A white silk organza gown detailed in chantilly lace, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her gown had a scoop neckline, bouffant floor length veil fell from a silk organza bow, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

The bride's cousin, Miss Kristi Anderson, was her maid of honor in a blue and green print street length dress with a full skirt, and she had a blue satin bow headpiece and matching accessories. Her arm bouquet was of white giant mums. Bridesmaids, wearing ensembles identical to the maid of honor's, were Miss Lynn Lokensgard, cousin of the bride, Miss Joanne Lander and Miss Krestie Lee.

The bridegroom's brother, Philip, attended him as best man, and Larry Chidley, Charles Klopp and Jack Larsen, all of Palatine, and Fred Longan of Northfield, Minn., ushered.

Serving as groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother, Burton; the bride's brother, Erik; and Jerrold Simonsen of Racine, Wis.

AT A RECEPTION in the church which followed the ceremony the bride's mother wore a royal blue wool sheath with a matching feathered hat and had a corsage of coral roses. Mrs. Nesset wore a beige sheath of silk taffeta and had a corsage of yellow roses.

After a wedding trip to the north shore of Lake Superior the couple will reside in Northfield, Minn., where both will be seniors at St. Olaf college. The bridegroom is a graduate of Palatine high school.

Arden Beauty Consultant Coming Here

LORETTA LARNER

Knowing that a bit of professional advice can do wonders in helping women to understand their potential, the Elizabeth Arden beauty salon is sending one of its special representatives, Miss Loretta Larner, to Harris pharmacy. Miss Larner will be at the pharmacy Saturday, Oct. 4, and Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 6 and 7.

She will point out that this year real beauties will have wardrobes spiced with many colors and their make-ups will be designed to complement. Miss Larner will also stress the need of extra glitter for evening wear.

Harris Pharmacy announces that consultations with Miss Larner are complimentary.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Our Remarkable Women

Dear Peg:

If I've learned nothing else, as president of our church Guild, I've learned to ask the busiest ladies (preferably those with four or five children) to take the jobs requiring the most time and energy!

They never fail to do a fine job quickly and efficiently — it must be because their homes are run in such a way (there's no procrastinating for long on the washing and ironing, or else the family will be without clothing. Nor can dishes pile up, or else there's soon nothing to eat off of!)

I hesitated to ask Gladys to take the membership chairman's job this year, just after she headed our annual bazaar last year and since she has six children, however, I decided to call and give her a chance to refuse or accept. I was so pleased when she agreed to take the job and promised her that I would help in any way I could. Little did I know how soon the opportunity was to come.

It was Gladys' responsibility to see that letters asking for dues and explaining the Guild went out to 900 women this month. Until this fall, the membership chairman had a crew of 26 women who helped her complete this job and do the necessary telephoning during the year. To our dismay 13 of the ladies found that they could not go on with the job, which left us with the task of replacing them and in the meantime getting the letters out ourselves.

Although a group worked with Gladys two nights, she still had a great deal to do when I called her Monday, so I told her that I'd come over and help (thinking that there would only be a couple of hours of work.) I went over two days for about five hours each day and we still were not quite through. No doubt we would have completed more if neither of us had had the children to take care of, but having had more baby-sitting in the past week than the budget allows, I took Gladys up on her suggestion that I bring Patrick and Joseph along.

It was like a three-ring circus what with Gladys' Patty and my Patrick chasing through the house, in one door and out the other, sometimes tripping over Joseph who, when he wasn't crawling into the bedrooms and getting lost under the beds, was getting into silent butlers and ash trays on low lying tables.

About the time we would get back to envelope stuffing, in would come Patrick and want to go to the bathroom (the most fascinating room in the house to him) — likewise Patty. This little task satisfactorily completed, we would get back to work for a while — a short while.

Suddenly loud talking and yelling would come from the front yard and upon investigation, I would find Patrick yelling "Get out!" and "Go home!" to some poor unsuspecting neighbor child who came over to play. Only with the threat of a spanking would he decide to be nice to the little child (I keep telling myself it's just his age).

For a little while yesterday it was too quiet. Torn between wanting to know why and wanting to leave it that way, we decided we'd better find out. To our surprise we found Patty sitting alone in the sandbox Questioning was to no avail, she didn't know where Patrick was. It was just a stroke of good luck that I happened to look up and see him sitting cross-legged on top of our car sucking on his bottle and watching us. How in the world he got up over the windshield I'll never know. Fortunately, the children spent over an hour at noon watching the TV.

In this chaotic atmosphere of working and mothering, Gladys and I regaled ourselves with the thought that women today are remarkable! They are raising larger families of brighter, healthier children, they are buying and cooking more nutritious food, they are raising the funds for the building of church, schools and hospitals and for the care of sick and aged and they are undoubtedly influential in the politics of our country — in other words:

The ladies are terrific!

My love
Patty

Robert Weilands Make First Home at U. of I.

The marriage of Miss Carol Jean Erickson and Robert J. Weiland was celebrated at a nuptial high mass Augut 23 in St. Nicholas church, Evanston. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Erickson of Evanston, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Weiland of Arlington Heights.

A gown of chantilly lace over tulle with a matching veil was chosen by the bride for her wedding day, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis.

MISS DIANE Erickson, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Carol Pirlot of Evanston, Doris Secrist of Iron Mountain, Mich., and Rosemary Weiland, sister of the bridegroom. Each wore a sheath dress of white lace over aqua with aqua accessories and carried pink carnations.

James Weiland was his brother's best man, and ushering the guests to their pews were David Erickson, the bride's brother, Keach Hayden and Dennis Dormann of Arlington Heights.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Erickson wore a dress of dusty rose silk organza over satin with matching accessories and had a corsage of stephanotis. Mrs. Weiland chose a blue print crepe dress with a corsage of yellow roses.

FOLLOWING the ceremony a breakfast was served in the Orrington hotel, and in the afternoon and evening a reception was given in the Skokie home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Erickson, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The couple spent a honeymoon in Sarasota, Fla., before returning to Champaign, where the bridegroom is continuing his studies at the University of Illinois.

Delicious Streussel Cakes Ideal for Coffee Parties

by LOIS SEILER

Planning a coffee party? You can invite the whole neighborhood if you make Mrs. Arthur Raven's delicious streussel coffee cakes.

The recipe makes two cakes 12 by 15 inches in size, so is excellent for serving a large group.

Or if you just wish to treat the family to an appetizing breakfast, make both cakes and pop one into the freezer. The cake freezes well and will come in handy on another occasion. It's nice to have an extra cake available for unexpected guests, too.

LIGHT-TEXTURED, this excellent coffee cake has a cinnamon-flavored topping.

Another appealing feature of this yeast cake is that no kneading is required. All of the ingredients are beaten in one bowl and the dough is left to rise in the mixing bowl.

Placed in the refrigerator overnight, it is spread in baking tins the following morning, left to rise again, sprinkled with a streussel topping and baked.

The recipe has been a favorite of Mrs. Raven's for years, and is certain to perk up early morning appetites or delight coffee guests.

The Ravens live at 502 S. Edward, Mt. Prospect. They have one son, Bob.

Mrs. Raven is a member of St. Mark's church Women's Guild.

Streussel Coffee Cake

4 eggs
1 cup milk, scalded
1 cake yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

When milk is lukewarm, stir in yeast which has been dissolved in the lukewarm water, and the flour which has been sifted with the salt. Beat this into the creamed mixture.

Let rise once until double in bulk. Punch down and place in the refrigerator overnight.

The next day, spread the dough in two greased cookie tins, 12 by 15 inches. Let rise again until double in bulk.

Prepare the streussel topping by cutting together the following ingredients:

1½ cups sugar
1½ cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Spread streussel over tops of cakes.

Bake 25 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Alumnae Group To Aid Blind

In line with the national program of aid to the blind, members of the Northwest Suburban Delta Gamma Alumnae association will work on cork maps to be used in the high school by blind students at their first fall meeting.

The meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 6, at 8 p.m., in the home of the president, Mrs. W. Lewis Corbin, 930 N. Harvard, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Corbin will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Bergstrom.

Any Delta Gamma who has not been contacted may call Mrs. Kenneth Hood, CL 3-5966, for further information.

Jewelry Night For AOPis

A jewelry demonstration by Carol Wilkins of Mt. Prospect will highlight the October 8 meeting of northwest suburban alumnae chapter of A O Pi. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Louis C. Spiegler in Des Plaines.

Fashion notes on the selection and use of jewelry will be given and members have been asked to wear jewelry necklines as the speaker will have need of models.

All AO Pi alumnae in the area are invited and those needing further information or transportation are asked to call Mrs. Sam Cullison at CLearbrook 5-5410.

Nonsense About Weight Ended

You can take two inches off your waistline in a year, and not by crash diets and violent exercise.

Almost incredibly, the answer to most overweight problems is just a few less calories and a leisurely stroll.

RESEARCH CONFIRMS what common sense has shown. If you stop eating an extra 25 calories or so a day, you'll stop gaining weight. And if every day you cut 50 calories, you'll lose weight as fast as you were gaining it before.

This idea is almost as simple in paractice as in theory. A leading nutritionist says, "A person who is grossly fat may need a more strict diet, medically supervised. So may persons with certain diseases. But most Americans should be able to manage their weight simply by making small adjustments in their usual eating habits."

First, find out how much you weigh above your ideal weight. Then decide how fast you can safely lose the extra pounds. Most experts feel that 10 to 12 pounds is enough for anyone to lose in one year without the approval and guidance of a physician.

THEN EXAMINE your eating habits, noticing which are the high calorie foods you always eat. The important thing is not to overeat, but to establish a balanced, nutritionally sound diet with plenty of proteins, minerals, and vitamins, the magazine says. Suppose you drink two eight-ounce glasses of whole milk daily. By substituting one glass of skim milk or buttermilk for one of whole milk, you'll eliminate 80 calories a day from your diet. And with half the calories of whole milk, this exchange will give you a year's weight loss of about seven pounds. One doughnut daily instead of two will mean two pounds lost in a year. Substituting mashed potatoes for hashbrowns once a week could save you four pounds annually.

As important as the amount of "fuel" taken in by the body is how much it burns. Thirty minutes of arm exercises will burn 10 calories, but a 30-minute stroll will burn 150 calories. Combine this leisurely exercise with common sense eating and you can be as trim as you want.

THIRTY-ONE NEW members were welcomed into the Arlington Heights Womans club at a tea held September 25 in the home of Mrs. Clarence J. Hendrickson, 743 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hendrickson, seated, pours for Mrs. Herman Berthold Jr., president of the club, Mrs. John Hogan, a new member, Mrs. Harve Strickler, state chairman of the Park Ridge school for girls, and Mrs. Peter J. McAndrew, chairman of the membership and courtesy committee. Mrs. Strickler discussed the aid given the school by the woman's club and Mrs. Hendrickson talked on "Our Part in the Federation of Women's Clubs."

Close Fit Is Sneaking Back in Newest Fall Fashions

LOOKING LIKE FASHION models themselves, this foursome gathered at Inverness golf club last Thursday for the fashion show sponsored by the Mt. Prospect center of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago. Mrs. August Hausske chose a navy blue polka dot silk dress while Mrs. Jim Insolia chose a lacy knit, beige suit with grosgrain trim to complement her blonde hair. Mrs. Elmer Walters was in a matching dress and hat of royal blue, one of the season's most fashionable colors. Dark-haired Mrs. Victor M. Heath wore a beige sheath dress topped with a beige cashmere with matching fox collar. (S

PINK PICTURE HAT with maribou brim was worn by Mrs. Harris Lyon as she chatted with friends, Mrs. Charles Loucks, Mrs. Henry Popp and Mrs. Jack Flora before luncheon and fashion show given by Mt. Prospect center of Infant Welfare. The show was appropriately entitled "Promenade d'Automne" and was divided into five showings: the coat story, suited for autumn 1958, for your leisure hours, urban costumes and the dress story around the clock.

Alpha Phi's To Celebrate Anniversary

Members of the northwest suburban alumnae club of Alpha Phi international fraternity are meeting to celebrate the fraternity's 86th anniversary Thursday, Oct. 2, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Robert McFadin, 515 E. Fairview, Arlington Heights.

Since its founding at Syracuse university, Syracuse, October 10, 1872, Alpha Phi has grown to 64 collegiate chapters and 184 alumnae groups. Long active in cardiac aid, members of the fraternity have raised over $250,000 and given hundreds of service hours to this cause.

THE NEWEST and most important fraternity project is the Alpha Phi Foundation, launched last fall to aid higher education and charitable work. The first Foundation grant has been made to the heart hospital fund of the Variety club, Minneapolis.

The Chicago area groups contribute their funds and service to Herrick House, Bartlett, home for children convalescing from rheumatic fever.

Alpha Phi alumnae in this area who have not been contacted are asked to call Mrs. D. K. Wangsgard, CL 5-8298.

EXCITING BLACK FOX completes the jet red costume suit so fashion-wise for urban living. The brilliant red wool dress and matching jacket need no trim other than the luxurious black fox collar, which creates the new fur look in fall fashions. (S

GATHERED AROUND huge coffee table in lounge of Inverness golf club at fashion show last Thursday were Mrs. Leonard Peplin, Mrs. Harold Frederick and Mrs. Edward Scheoneberger, seated. Standing were Mrs. Donald Bohannan, Mrs. Carl Westergaard and Mrs. Roger Schoeneberger. Fashions in the show were from Carson Pirie Scott with Mt. Prospect's Carol Herrmann as narrator. Mrs. Herrmann is a former fashion coordinator for the store. Although Carson's models were used for the show, it was difficult to tell the spectators from the professionals.

ONE OF THE MOST STARTLING in the sportswear picture for autumn is the toga, a top jumper of gray flannel falling in loose but straight lines with the open sides buckled at several places for interest. The toga reveals a long shirt to the knees in red paisley print, and is complemented with a red leather hat. (S

Solo Dramatist To Entertain Junior Women

MISS ROSALIND GRAFF

Miss Rosalind Graff, noted solo dramatist, headlines the October 7 meeting of Junior Womans club of Palatine with her dynamic presentation of "Tunnel of Love," which was recently made into a movie. The program will be held in Oak Street school, Palatine, at 8 p.m.

Miss Graff portrays with amazing dexterity the varied characters, voices and personalities of persons involved in the story. She is well known by Midwestern audiences having had a wide background of dramatic experience in television, radio and on the stage. For several years Miss Graff was "Story Lady" on a Chicago radio station.

Hostess for the evening's meeting will be Mrs. William Hallquist. Members wishing to bring guests are asked to contact Mrs. Robert Provart, FL 8-3383.

Founders Day Plans Made

Plans were made for the Founders Day activities, October 15, by members of Alpha Chi Omega alumnae at their meeting held October 1 in the Arlington Heights home of Mrs. W. H. Truax.

During the meeting, the rushing chairman reported a successful year of pledges from this area. Also, Mrs. Paul Heal of Palatine, province president for Illinois and Wisconsin, introduced Mrs. Wilbur G. Payne of Winnetka, the national alumnae vice president, and Mrs. William S. Budd of Maywood, district alumnae chairman. They gave interesting and informative addresses.

It is hoped that at future meetings all alumnae in Wheeling, Elk Grove and Palatine townships will join the Alpha Chi Omega constructive, entertaining and social meetings. Alumnae may call Mrs. James R. Clarke, 147 S. Greely, Palatine, at FLanders 9-0281 for further information.

Panhellenics To See Hawaii

"Holiday in Hawaii," a travel film will be a highlight of the Thursday, Oct. 9, meeting of the Panhellenic club at Old Orchard country club, beginning with lunch at 1 o'clock.

All sorority members in the Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights and Palatine areas are invited to attend.

Former Arlington Heights Girl Weds in Wisconsin

Miss Beverly Huber, formerly of Arlington Heights and now of Ft. Atkinson, Wis., became the bride of Donald Pfeifer, also of Ft. Atkinson, August 30 in the town's St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Huber, and the bridegroom is the son of the Alvin Pfeifers.

Rev. Henry Geischen officiated at the double ring ceremony held at 3:30 in the afternoon, after which a reception was given for 60 relatives and friends in the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a dance was held in Jefferson, Wis., for all friends of the bridal pair.

THREE OF the bride's friends served as her attendants, and all were gowned in identical ballerina length dresses of blue lace over taffeta. The maid of honor, Darlene Hoffman of Arlington Heights, carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and red roses. The bridesmaids, Sharon Uhe of Ft. Atkinson and Mrs. LaMont Haskins of Whitewater, Wis., carried crescents of white carnations.

The bride followed her attendants down the aisle in a white imported japanese silk brocade gown with scalloped neckline, long sleeves and a full floor length skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a tiara of pearl stephanotis, and her bouquet was a crescent of white carnations and red roses.

THE BRIDEGROOM was attended by his brother, Merlin, as best man; his brother, Gerald, as usher; his brother, Harvey, and his cousin, David Pfeifer, as groomsmen.

Mrs. Huber witnessed her daughter's wedding in a dark grey silk sheath and Mrs. Pfeifer wore navy blue lace over taffeta. Both mothers had corsages of white carnations and pink pompons.

Newcomers Plan Style Show

LATEST FALL SUITS are tried on by Mrs. William Chalmers and Mrs. Donald Port while Mrs. William Carns chooses a dress of nubby wool. The clothes are from Rothchilds and will be among the store's ensembles to be modeled October 8 at annual luncheon and fashion show sponsored by Arlington Heights Newcomers club. The affair, to be held in Rolling Green country club, is the group's largest money-making event of the year. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Carns at CL 5-9123.

Main charity event of the year for Arlington Heights Newcomer's club will be the annual fall fashion show and luncheon to be held next Wednesday, Oct. 8, in Rolling Green country club. Stressing the theme, "Window to the World of Fashion," styles and fashions this year will be presented by Heirs and Expectations, Inc. of Arlington Heights, and by Maurice L. Rothschild.

Modelling the new creations will be members of the club. Those wishing to attend are advised to purchase their tickets immediately from any board member or from Mrs. W. J. Carns, chairman of the show.

BEGINNING Wednesday, Oct. 15, all regular monthly evening card parties sponsored by the club will be held the third Wednesday of each month rather than the third Thursday evening, as previously announced. The meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Park field house.

All newcomers to the community are invited to join the club and may obtain further information by calling Mrs. Thomas B. Hamilton, CL 5-9182, membership chairman.

Palatine Group Is 48th Center of Infant Welfare

The news that they had been officially accpted as the 48th center of the woman's auxiliary of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago was received with great enthusiasm by a group of Palatine women who met recently in the home of Mrs. Herbert Anderson Jr. of Brookdale lane. Mrs. Robert A. Bauer of Longacres lane, president of the new center, made the announcement which was immediately followed by adoption of by-laws and naming of officers for the new organization.

Mrs. Robert L. Muchow, 337 Briarwood lane, was made first vice president and Mrs. Roy J. McCall, 255 S. Brookdale lane, treasurer, with Mrs. A. James Gallagher Jr. as recording secretary and Mrs. John J. Schumacher as corresponding secretary.

Members of the new Palatine center will help raise funds to support the Infant Welfare society work of providing physical and mental health care to thousands of little underprivileged children. Mrs. Richard Howell of Quentin rd., and Mrs. Robert Boles, 296 E. Briarwood lane, are co-chairmen of ways and means and are busy with plans for the first fund-raising venture.

MRS. RODELL Schreier, 319 E. Briarwood lane, has accepted the job of volunteer chairman and will be in charge of assigning hours to members who will work as volunteers assisting the busy doctors and nurses at one of the 17 stations operated by the society. Volunteers will weigh babies, weigh and measure pre-school children and do clerical work at the station.

Next meeting of the Palatine center will be Thursday, Oct. 9, in the home of Mrs. Charles J. Foxgrover Jr., 418 N. Cumnock rd., Inverness. A report on the October 8 meeting of the board of woman's auxiliary, will be given by the president, Mrs. Robert Bauer, who will represent the Palatine center at that meeting.

Safety Lesson For IFWC Members Oct. 8

"Knowledge, Under-standing, Tolerance" will be the title of an address by Mrs. Marshall E. Bruce of East St. Louis, state president, at the fall meeting of the seventh district Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, Wednesday, Oct. 8, in St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect.

Hostesses for the day will be the two Mt. Prospect women's clubs; Mrs. N. T. Esmond, 1730 Verde, is president of the senior club and Mrs. Leo Willis, 402 I-Oka, president of the junior club.

Music for the meeting will be furnished by a chorus from the Mt. Prospect Womans club and by Miss Karen Trahl, Mt. Prospect high school senior, pianist, who next summer will attend music camp under the auspices of the Mt. Prospect club.

THE MEETING will be called to order at 10 a.m. by the president, Mrs. Louis Imber. The afternoon session will be devoted to traffic safety. In an effort to further the traffic safety campaign, the federation has appointed a safety chairman who will introduce Frank R. Burrows Jr., field service director of the Citizens Safety Board of Metropolitan Chicago. He will speak on misconceptions about safe driving.

ICPT Plans Luncheon-Meet

District 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers has planned a luncheon meeting pertinent to all Scholarship and National Parent Teacher magazine chairmen of local units and councils. This Scholarship and magazine luncheon will be held at Old Orchard country club, located at Rand rd. and Euclid ave., Arlington Heights, on Wednesday, Oct. 8. Registration is at 11:45 a.m. and luncheon at noon. Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. E. T. Odden, VA 4-7941, before Friday, Oct. 3.

Mrs. Martin Seifert, scholarship chairman of the ICPT will be on hand to familiarize local scholarship chairmen with the scholarship program of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Lee V. Vernon, vice president of the department of extension of the ICPT and formerly state magazine chairman, will explain why the National Parent Teacher magazine is for parents who think for themselves.

Anyone interested in these two areas of PTA endeavor may attend, and it is hoped that presidents and treasurers of local PTAs will accompany their scholarship and magazine chairmen to this luncheon-meeting.

Here's Rainy Day Play Idea

When the weather says, "Stay indoors!" the spirits of mothers usually fall, realizing that even the biggest house is often too small for children on a rainy day.

But, there are a number of ways you can keep the young children happy and out of mischief. A natrincbOc eothreietl chief. An article in the October issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine says it's a good idea to start assembling some of the materials now, so they'll be on hand when needed.

USING PICTURES from coloring or cutout books as patterns, cut table oilcloth into pairs of simple designs such as bunnies, kittens, or puppies. With a paper punch, makes holes all around the design, a half-inch from the edge and a half-inch apart. Place cotton between each pair, and give the child a darning needle threaded with colored cord. He sews through the holes to complete the animals.

Preschool-age children love to writc with pen and ink, so fill an old fountain pen with a weak solution of bluing. Any stains on clothing will come out easily when the clothes are washed.

When children tire of the regular indoor games, the article says they'll enjoy a "bake sale." Let them cut, from old magazines, pictures of baked articles such as cakes, pies, bread and cookies. Have them arrange the pictures on a table and post prices for each article. Use different size buttons for money. You should go to their "store" and pretend to buy something for dinner.

SMALL CHILDREN will be amused for hours making colored beads by painting macaroni pieces with water colors, then stringing them into necklaces, belts, and bracelets.

To save the lamps, bric-a-brac, and children, make a soft ball for indoor play by rolling up a pair of men's heavy socks.

An old bed sheet ready for discard can be turned into a play-tent for the children. Draw windows with crayons and cut out a "crawl" door. Drape the sheet over a card table and, presto, there's an indoor tent!

GATHER UP ALL the children's outgrown mittens and turn them into beanbags for indoor play. Simply fill the mittens with dry beans and stitch across the tops to close the "bags."

Before discarding old coloring books, remove the stiff covers. The magazine says you can cut them into different size pieces, making jigsaw puzzles.

And, when the children play jacks in the house, you can prevent damage to table tops or floors by giving them a large breadboard on which to play the game.

Quotoons

A fair-weather friend is one who is especially anxious to take a back seat in your car if it is raining.

Nothing helps to make a man happy like a lot of things that he still wants to do.

It is easy to spot a fellow who is really up on things . . . he's never down on people.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When I am being introduced to a roomful of strangers, am I supposed to say, "How do you do" to each person, as his name is mentioned?

A. One sincerely-spoken "How do you do" should be enough, and after that, just smile and bow your head slightly to each person as you are introduced — with perhaps one or two additional "How do you dos" in a low voice.

Q. Is it permissible to eat the skin of a baked potato, and also the parsley used as a garnish?

A. If you enjoy these items, it is perfectly proper to eat them.

Q. Is it proper to mail out wedding announcements in the name of the bride's brother, if their parents are dead?

A. Certainly.

Q. When a dish is passed to you at the table, and the portion held toward you is too big, or too well done, or has too much fat on it, is it all right to search through the portions until you find a suitable piece?

A. This is all right if you can do it without taking too much time or without disarranging the whole dish.

Q. I had occasion recently to introduce a woman of about 25 to an elderly man, and I mentioned her name first instead of his. Was this proper?

A. The woman's name should be mentioned first always, unless the man is a very important person.

Q. What is the proper way to acknowledge an invitation to a christening?

A. Either by letter or telephone is correct.

Q. Will you please suggest when and how the announcement can be made at a large dinner engagement party?

A. Toward the end of the dinner, when the table has been cleared for dessert, the father of the bride-elect may rise and propose a toast, such as, "To our Betty and Bob, who are going to be married."

Q. What should I say when I approach a girl for a dance, and what kind of reply should she make?

A. Your best question is, "Would you care to dance?" She replies, "Certainly," or, "Yes, I'd like to very much," or quite often she says nothing, but nods her head with a smile.

Q. When a host does the carving at the dinner table, does he serve the vegetables as well?

A. Usually, he serves only the meat. The vegetable dishes are passed from hand to hand.

Q. Is it proper always to seat a woman at a table to the right of her male companion?

A. When practical, yes. The few definite rules about this include the seating of a guest-of-honor on the right of the host or hostess or chairman, and the military rule by which the senior officer walks as well as sits on his junior's right.

Q. Should birth announcements be mailed to everyone, including those whom you have already told over the telephone?

A. No; only to friends and relatives whom you have not told.

Q. When passing a cream pitcher at the table, or any other such article with a handle, should the handle always be turned towards the person who is receiving it?

A. Yes, always.

Q. Does a woman ever take the aisle seat when she is attending the theater with a man?

A. Never. She always enters the row first, and her escort takes the aisle seat.

Q. When a catering service cannot be afforded for a wedding reception, is it proper to ask friends of the bride to help out?

A. This might depend upon the custom in one's community. There are some people who would consider it an imposition.

Q. Is it proper to answer formal invitations on the typewriter?

A. Answer formal invitations by hand, always.

'Heigh Ho! Come to the Fair' Urges Hospital Auxiliary

MRS. FRED BEDFORD of Arlington Heights, co-chairman of toy booth, is almost surrounded by partial display of stuffed animals and dolls created by auxiliary members. In left foreground, Mark Peters plays with small toys while Anne Werner sits next to drum major bigger than herself. Karen Peters tries her hand —and vocal cords — at making hand puppet behave.

In just one week the doors of the Arlington Heights field house, 500 E. Miner st., will open to begin the second annual "Community Fair" of the Northwest Community hospital auxiliary, and the results of eight months of planning and work will be on display. At 10 o'clock next Thursday morning 20 official hostesses will greet the first arrivals at the 2-day fair that is the auxiliary's major fund-raising effort of the year. Since even the decorations of the field house are for sale and all proceeds will apply to the auxiliary's pledge to equip the new hospital's emergency room, the committee hopes to close the doors at 9 o'clock Friday night on a bare and empty field house.

At a final meeting today, booth chairmen will bring up last minute problems and make their last inventory reports. Chairmen of some of the booths that are largely supplied with perishable items are preparing for increased activity right up until fair time. An almost continuous supply of homemade foodstuffs is scheduled for the food booth that is an annual sellout. House plants continue to arrive to supply the plant booth, which has recently added hundreds of chrysanthemums, blooming and ready to pot, to its stock.

Since many individuals outside the auxiliary membership are offering donations of food, plants and other items, the committee has designated several depots where such contributions can be deposited. Friends of the auxiliary with contributions are asked to call Mrs. Carl Bowen, CLearbrook 3-5093, for the location of depot nearest them.

While the fair committee makes its final plans, two other groups, not affiliated with the auxiliary but contributing to the fair, also accelerate to meet the fair deadline. Rehearsals are going on at the Lu Staahl Studio of Dramatics and Modelling to supplement and perfect performances to be given for the young patrons of the Goldilocks room, where for 25 cents mothers may leave their children and be free to shop. The Arlington Heights guild is cataloging pictures and arranging for the display of their art booth, where donations of Arlington Heights and Des Plaines guild members and other area artists will be for sale. Guild president, Mrs. Donald Hodges has invited all area artists to participate and reports that arrangements to pick up donations may still be made by calling CLearbrook 3-2308 or CLearbrook 5-0829. Both the guild and the Lu Staahl studio took part in last year's fair and will again turn over all proceeds to the auxiliary fund.

Upon receiving a recent report from the fair committee, auxiliary president, Mrs. Joseph Stecker, of Rolling Meadows lauded its unceasing efforts and the devoted hard work of the hundreds of auxiliary members who have given this year's fair its unusual scope.

While excitement and anticipation of opening day at the fair builds with each passing day, the auxiliary reminds itself and the public of the more serious purpose of the fair. "It takes years to build a hospital but only seconds to need one," has become the working motto of a working auxiliary which will, if it follows last year's course, begin thinking of the community fair of 1959 as the field house doors swing closed next Friday night.

FOOD BOOTH CHAIRMAN, Mrs. G. S. Morgan of Arlington Heights, seems to whip up cakes almost as fast as Mrs. James McCartney of Inverness, at right, can cut them, while Mrs. C. S. Hansen of Arlington Heights enjoys the barbeque-sauce aroma steaming from the kettle. Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. McCartney are chairman and co-chairman of the Golden Cup where barbeque sandwiches will be served during lunch and supper hours and "coffee and" is always ready.

MRS. THEODORE SCHREYER of Des Plaines, chairman of plant booth, does some transplanting while decorations chairman, Mrs. Fredrick Danker, of Arlington Heights assists. Gardening gloves like Mrs. Shreyer's, inscribed "wear me," and Mrs. Danker's, replete with fingernail polish and "diamond" ring, are featured at plant booth. Martin house in the foreground will be given away at the fair.

MRS. CLAIR B. OWEN of Arlington Heights shows how sequinned felt cover converts ordinary drinking glass into gala Christmas vase for holiday greens and bouquets. At right, post office booth chairman, Mrs. Frederick Siegel of Arlington Heights hands Mrs. Elvin Foster of Barrington another mystery package. Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Foster are chairmen of the Christmas and botique booths where Christmas shopping early is a pleasure.

Forecast Downward Hog Prices; Farrowing Rises

by L. H. SIMERL

Forecasts of hog prices during the next year range all the way from "as good as this year" to "down 50 per cent." Thus a year from now some will say, "I told you so," while others explain why they "missed it a mile."

In the meantime farmers will study the facts that are now available, draw their own conclusions and act accordingly. Here are the basic facts in the outlook:

1. The official September Pig Crop Report showed that farmers in nine corn-belt states were increasing fall farrowings by 17 per cent over last year. Thus these farmers were carrying out almost exactly the intentions they reported in June. The fall farrowing figure given in September was only ½ per cent larger than farrowing intentions reported in June by the same nine states. (These nine states—Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas and South Dakota—produced 67 per cent of all hogs produced in 1957).

2. FARMERS IN most other states are increasing hog production much less than 17 per cent—probably around 8 per cent. This lower production was indicated by the June report of farmers' intentions. If these farmers are carrying out their intentions as closely as farmers in the nine states, the total fall pig crop will be only about 14 per cent larger than the crop produced last year.

3. The current fall pig crop is the largest ever farrowed except in the war years 1942 and 1943. In relation to population, however, it is a little smaller than the fall crops in 1950 and 1951, but about 15 per cent larger than the 10-year average and a little larger than the crop farrowed in the fall of 1955.

THE 1955 FALL pigs were sold the following spring and summer for $12 to $16 a hundred pounds. Hog prices at that time were on the way up after having sagged to $10 in December and January. In 1956 hog prices were held down by a record supply of beef—86 pounds per person. The per capita supply of beef totals only 79 pounds this year and is expected to be about the same next year.

4. The supply of pork will average about 60 pounds per person for 1958. It is likely to be about 7 pounds (12 per cent) larger in 1959. That increase would provide about the same supply of pork per person as we had in 1955 and 1956. Some forecasters believe that hog prices will drop 3 per cent for each 1 per cent increase in the pork supply. Thus they expect prices to average one-third lower in 1959 than in 1958. Such a decline would be nearly double that formerly caused by a similar increase in supply. It would put hog prices in a range of $12 to $18 in 1959.

THIS PRICE RANGE seems to be too low for next year, since beef supplies are expected to remain 8 to 10 per cent below 1956 peak levels. In any event, the supply and price of feeds seem likely to favor further expansion of hog production in 1959.

5. The September Pig Crop Report showed that farmers in the nine corn-belt states listed expect to increase December-February farrowings by 20 per cent over last year. Later farrowings in these states and total farrowings in other states are not likely to be increased as much as 20 per cent. All together, the increase in spring farrowings seem likely to be 12 to 15 per cent—or about the same as the increase in fall farrowings. Such an increase would not be excessive, considering the favorable hog-corn price relationships of the last two years and the present low level of hog production. (Fm

with Your Farm Adviser

The 1958 Yearbook of Agriculture will be ready for distribution soon. Four University of Illinois professors in Agricultural Economics will have articles in the book this year. They are as follows: Charles L. Stewart, Franklin J. Reiss, Harold G. Halcrow and Elmer L. Sauer.

The 605 page book is dedicated to Charles L. Stewart for his active interest in the book.

Stewart is co-author of two chapters, "The Mechanics of Land Transfer" and "Getting Started in Farming is Hard."

Elmer Sauer co-authored an article on "The Wise Use of Resources."

Harold G. Halcrow is quoted on the subject of "part-time and residential farming."

THE DATES FOR the 1959 University of Illinois Farm and Home festival will be held on the campus in Urbana on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 2, 3 and 4, 1959.

The first Farm and Home festival was such an unqualified success from every standpoint that it will probably become as well known to thousands of Illinois farm families as the old Farm and Home week according to Dean L. B. Howard. More than 15,000 persons visited the Festival last year.

ACCORDING TO H. B. Petty, extension entomologist, University of Illinois, there was less insect damage to crops in 1958 than for several years. We are extremely happy for this. However, onion growers in Cook County witnessed one of their worst seasons as far as insects are concerned.

Onion maggot is a serious threat to the onion set industry. It seems as if the insects are immune to the chemicals we are now using. I am confident we will be able to come up with a new chemical that will give us control. It may take a year or two of experimental work to find the right one.

INSECTS DO become immune to chemicals. When DDT first came on the market, it would do a perfect job in controlling flies. Now our flies are immune to it. In fact, I think they thrive on it.

Have you noticed the number of flies that are around lately? It seems as if we may have to put on a campaign against flies next year if the number continues to increase. (Fm

200 Injured by Corn Pickers

The best time to be careful with corn pickers is before you are injured. That is the urgent appeal today from O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

More than 200 Illinois farmers last year found out that "It Can Happen to Me." They were seriously injured and some were even killed by their own corn pickers.

Your picker can be just as safe as you want to make it. A safe picker is one that is mechanically sound, is well adjusted and is operated at the correct speed.

Here are four safety tips from Hogsett. Follow them religiously and you should finish picking your corn without injury:

1. Never try to unclog, adjust or grease your picker while it is running. Always shut off the power before you do any work on the machine.

2. Never get in a hurry. One of the biggest dangers with pickers is that the operator gets in a hurry. Which is better—playing it slow and safe or winding up in the hospital minus a hand or foot because you were careless while trying to hurry?

3. Another big danger comes in running your picker when you're tired. Many a hand or foot has been lost when a tired, irritated operator tried to unclog the rolls carelessly along toward dusk. Better quit early than be injured because you were tired or careless. If you have a qualified man, change operators once in a while.

4. It is also wise to carry a fire extinguisher on the tractor. During corn picking there's always some danger that the shucks may catch fire from a hot manifold. A good extinguisher may help save your tractor or picker. (Fm

Home Bureau Has Indoor Outdoor Cooking Lesson

A lesson on outdoor cooking highlighted the September meeting of the Mt. Prospect Home Bureau. Originally planned as a cook out to be held in Lions park, inclement weather took the ladies to the home of Mrs. Orville Williams, hostess. Since it was not possible to build an outdoor fire that day, members will have a beehive on the subject in the near future.

No beehive was held in September as several members of the group were instructing during Craft day. The October meeting of the unit will be held October 15 in the home of Mrs. Harold Wiggam, when the lesson will be "Social Development and Teenagers."

Any homemakers interested in the unit are invited to call Mrs. Francis Liebrich at CL 3-5508 or Mrs. Robert Lambert at CL 3-1103 for more information.

Yard Wet? Maybe Soil Needs Tile

If your back yard stays pretty soggy after rains, you should plant something more than additional trees and shrubs this Fall.

That something is drainage tile to carry off excess water—water that can cause horticultural deaths by cutting off the oxygen supply in the soil.

Almost all weekend gardeners are acutely aware of the need for additional watering during drought, but few realize that excessive water can prove equally disastrous to the landscaping, points out H. E. Rioux, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. This past summer saturated soils took a greater than usual toll in new plantings of young trees.

Newly planted trees are easy victims for a number of reasons. In the first place, freshly spaded soils absorb water like a sponge and consequently dry out slower. Then, many young trees are planted at lower levels than they should be. Roots thus receive less than their normal air supply. When even this limited supply is shut off by over abundant rains, trees drown as surely as humans do.

In some soils not too badly saturated, ground may be contoured so that it will raise trees and planting beds several inches above the surrounding terrain. The most logical remedy, however, is adequate drainage that will siphon off the rain pools within a matter of hours after the storms.

The drainage system is somewhat linked to the problem of storm sewers that will handle the stress of frequent and torrential rains. (Fm

Hog Men Shooting For Market

Top Illinois hog producers will soon be shooting for market-weight hogs in 150 days.

And these hogs will eat less than 300 pounds of feed for every 100 pounds of gain, says G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

Swine growers will use performance-tested breeding stock and modern complete rations, possibly in pelleted form, and will give more attention to control of temperature and disease to help reach this goal, Carlisle says.

Average performance figures for more than 50 boars in one Illinois boar-testing station this year show 1.8 pounds of daily gain and 290 pounds of feed for every 100 pounds of gain from 50 to 200 pounds. The best performing boar gained more than two pounds a day and needed only 240 pounds of feed for every 100 pounds of gain.

These results are better than figures given in the latest edition of a standard text on swine feeding. It says that with good management and adequate rations pigs can be expected to gain 1.75 pounds a day from 50 to 200 pounds and use about 350 pounds of feed for every 100 pounds of gain.

Carlisle says these figures show that Illinois swine have not nearly reached the ceiling on performance. (Fm

Dainty Darlins' Officers Elected

Officers elected at the September 17 meeting of the Dainty Darlins' 4-H club, Roselle, are: Nancy Okoren, president; Susan Vander Werf, vice president; Mary Albers, secretary; Nancy Bokelmann, treasurer; Sharon Hanses, newspaper reporter, Karen Vander Werf, program chairman and Marilyn Zyk, recreation chairman.

After the meeting the girls had refreshments and played games.

Farmers Urged to Study Farm Integration Pacts

A University of Illinois professor of agricultural law this week urged farmers to study any farm integration contract carefully before signing it. N. G. P. Krausz reports that farmers who sign such contracts will probably be held to the exact terms of those arrangements.

KRAUSZ RECENTLY completed a detailed study of 20 contracts which covered seed corn production, grain for seed, broiler and pullet production, breeder flock and hatching eggs, poultry feed financing and hog-raising. These agreements represented both large nationally known corporations and local feed dealers. They are believed to represent the types of integration contracts the average farmer will be offered.

Contract agreements grant the companies a great deal of control over the farmer's activities, Krausz reports. Most of them provide for inspection and supervision by the company. But none intend to direct a farmer's daily activities. Instead they provide a general plan to follow. While some agreements are more detailed than others in explaining the plan and setting forth the farmer's duties, none seem to put him in the position of being merely a hired laborer.

PAYMENTS TO farmers are not set up like payments to an employee. Instead they are based on the amount of production. The contracts therefore place the farmer in the position of an independent contractor or, in a few cases, a debtor to the contracting company.

Whether a contract remains in force in case of illness or death of the farmer depends on the wording of the contract. Some contracts state definitely that they are binding on the farmer's heirs or successors in case of his death. Where this point is not definitely stated, there is naturally more uncertainty about it.

Risks taken by the farmer and the contracting company vary with the type of agreement. In seed contracts, the company provides the seed. The farmer furnishes his time, labor, equipment and land. If the crop were destroyed, both would suffer losses. Broiler contracts generally place greater risk of loss on the company than on the farmer.

IN FEED FINANCING contracts, the risk of loss is almost entirely on the farmer. Animals that are fed provide security for the farmer's debt. When the animals are sold, the money must be applied to reduce the debt. If the animals should die, the company is protected by other provisions.

Contract cancellation provisions can be a powerful tool in the hands of the company and could be cancelled easily by the contracting company, the company can limit its liability without giving the farmer the same rights.

Prices paid in the contracts are generally based on fair market value at the time of the sale. While this arrangement does not give the farmer the guaranteed market he might desire, it does do away with a possible area of controversy.

FEW CONTRACT agreements contain any provisions relating to the landlord's rights. Where the agreements carry such provisions, they state that the landlord agrees to the contract as signed by his tenant. Since Illinois law provides that the landlord has a lien for rent on crops, hog and poultry feeding agreements should prevent no problem.

The contracts are usually written on forms prepared by the companies. In general the companies have tried to get for themselves the most benefits while incurring the least liability. But this problem is not unique in agricultural contracts, Krausz concludes.

Farmers Need Organizations

Despite rapid changes in farming methods, Illinois farmers still feel a need for local community organizations, according to David E. Lindstorm, University of Illinois rural sociologist.

In a study of 234 local farm community organizations, Lindstrom found that education supplemented by entertainment and recreation were the main reasons why farm people wanted local organizations. A similar study 20 years earlier showed about the same response.

About 90 per cent of the leaders of local groups wanted to be affiliated with a county or other larger overhead organization. But they wanted this larger organization to act in an advisory or supervisory capacity and not control the local group.

Local groups want to be represented in the larger organization to help make policies and keep their local members informed of programs and activities. The organization of a farmers' group is not complete until it has a unit operating in a rural community, Lindstrom concludes.

Full details of this study are reported in Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin 630, "Farmers' Need for Local Organizations," by D. E. Lindstrom. It gives suggestions on what leaders think should go into the organization of a farmers' group in a rural community. Copies are available from any county farm adviser or the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture at Urbana. (Fm economy? BAH!

Robert was a traveling salesman who thought he'd play it smart. "I'll get one of those foreign economy cars," Robert declared. "Think of the money I'll save!"

Well, Robert did save a little bit on gas . . . but not nearly what he thought he would. You see, he had to drive faster than 45 to cover his territory. His little car used a lot more gas over that speed.

One day, the car's engine developed "gold plated noises." The car was tied up waiting for parts. Did he save on them—or on the repair work? Not a nickel! Were his parking fees, car washes, tires and insurance less expensive? No, sir!

Getting his sample cases in and out of the car's tiny rear seat (it had no trunk!) gave Robert a sore back . . . and the car's short wheelbase and choppy ride didn't help.

Robert finally got smart. He bought one of our late-model A-1 reconditioned used cars — the best at or near the price. Now Robert saves his back, with plenty of luggage space, a soft, smooth ride and luxury seats. He makes his rounds with time to spare—and never a worry about overworking his car. And he hasn't had a bit of trouble with his A-1 car. That's because we check out each one for:

- PERFORMANCE
- SAFETY
- APPEARANCE
- ECONOMY

. . . and guarantee it to be 100% right in every way!

Be smart yourself. Come see the A-1 beauties in our stock. There's just the one for your needs available now—and

The Price Will Be Right!

Shopping Prospect Heights

by CAROL BUNTING

Scotts, one of the best known names in lawn care is in the process of having a special sale, and in Prospect Heights the place to select your Scotts seeds and fertilizers is Jacob's hardware and supply store.

The effort that is expended now in the fall in making your lawn a healthier one, will certainly show up next spring and summer. Be sure to take advantage of the wonderful weather for working out doors and the specials that are being featured at Jacobs on the tops in lawn supplies—Scotts.

YOU MAY HAVE put that old lawn mower away for the season with a big sigh of relief, but before you know it you will once more be faced with the weekly chore of mowing the lawn. Now is the time to buy your modern self propelled 21 inch Jacobson mowers at Jacobs. Next spring they will be in demand again and the price will be high, but now you can make a terrific deal on a Jacobson 21 inch mower if you do your shopping at Jacob's Hardware and Supply in the Prospect Heights shopping center.

A good sharp knife seems to be one of those necessary items that we are never able to find in the average household. However now at Jacob's hardware and supply they have a complete line of Case cutlery of every conceivable type. They have household and pocket knives as well as all types of scissors. Jacob's also carries a complete line of moderate priced scissors. After you have seen this display you will have no excuse for not having all of the proper knives and scissors on hand when you need them.

YOU WILL FIND at Jacobs all of the items you need to see to it that your house is ready for the cold weather. They have all types of furnace filters, weather stripping to make sure those doors and windows are tight as well as the ever handy caulking compound.

One visit to Jacobs will convince you that this is the place for all of your hardware and household needs. They are open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Monday and Friday evenings until 9 p.m. as well as Sundays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The fabulous Jewel Harvest Sale is in process right now and this sale means bigger and better savings than ever before.

This sale is aimed at giving the housewife an opportunity to stock pantry shelves with the best in canned goods for the winter months ahead. It also gives her an opportunity to save money by making her purchases by the case or the half case.

AMONG THE ITEMS that are being included in this Harvest Sale are Motts applesauce, Michigan Maid freestone peaches, and Bluebrook beets, potatoes and kidney beans. Numerous other well known brands and items are also available at your friendly Jewel store at terrific prices.

The candy department again has a full stock of all makes and brands of chocolates in stock. Now that the hot weather is behind us, the chocolate candy is again available in all brands.

In the meat department the wise shopper will see that her market basket includes ready to eat hams and rump roasts.

It's also apple picking time and the most delicious apples of all varieties are now available in the produce department at Jewel.

For all of your grocery needs be sure you go to the Jewel food store in the Prospect Heights shopping center.

Prosaic. Pronounce proh-zay-ick, accent on second syllabel.

Rabies. Pronounce ray-bi-eez, accent first syllable.

Regicide (the killing of a king; also, the killer of a king). Pronounce rehj-i-side, accent on first syllable; and not reej-i-side.

County Politicians Clash Over Payroll 'Censorship'

Two political powers in November's Cook county election collided head-on Monday over alleged censorship of the county's 13,265 payroll.

Edward J. Barrett, Democratic candidate for re-election as county clerk, refused the request of Republican county commissioner Charles F. Chaplin of Northbrook for the names and addresses of all county employees.

Barrett said he had no legal right to disclose these.

Chaplin (candidate for president of the board of Cook county commissioners), replied that each commissioner not only has the right to know these names but also the legal obligation to make sure that nobody draws county pay except in a job approved by the county board—and that this work is actually being performed for the taxpayers' dollars.

STATE'S ATTORNEY Benjamin S. Adamowski, legal advisor to the county board, blasted Barrett's stand as "incredible" in a two-page legal opinion confirming Commissioner Chaplins statutory right to the names. "I am as shocked as you are," the state's attorney said, adding that "... refusal to permit you access to matters which are within your statutory competence leads me to believe that something ulterior prompted the refusal."

"In 1954 under a Republican president of the county board we had a payroll of $3,650,000 a month," said Chaplin. "I want to know why under Democratic president Daniel Ryan we now have 13,265 employees—an increase of 1,600 employees—at $5,090,000 a month.

ARMED WITH Adamowski's opinion, the suburban commissioner filed an official demand upon County Clerk Barrett this morning, citing "unwarranted delay" to "my reasonable request" for the suppressed payroll data.

Chaplin has just been endorsed by the Better Government association as "Outstanding," a rating given to only three county candidates in this November's balloting. Credited with being the suburbs' watchdog on building and zoning matters, the Northbrook businessman made Cook county history when his committee produced the first county plumbing and electrical codes for unincorporated areas shortly after his election to the board in 1954.
